

man Lead at Problem General Staff ight Were Enormous Spirited Secretly way an Army Are Well Pro- Are Killed by Hundreds uts---Gibbs Gives Some

S, in the London Chronicle).
Field, Aug. 9.—There is no doubt at all knows his business thoroughly and per-discipline. He had the advantage over and highly trained officers, and, although ing, he still has, I imagine, more than end of the war, for he has been careful professional and scientific knowledge to of destruction and to organize the lines of organization and in the driving man-command is masterly, and there is not a sol-will be equipped and well fed, unless the to come up. Enormous attention is paid ing concerts, religious services, and beer shall be kept cheerful, and the news of them. With that point of view in mind, of the lives of its men until the day thlessly forward in wave after wave against cannot bring the dead men back to life, nor hide the agonies of all their wounded. They blink at the fact that the British troops have broken their second line and hammered them with terrific blows and reached out far with the long-range guns to destroy them behind their lines.

I know that on the eve of the British attack all instructions were prepared for a general retreat, with every detail ready in case the British troops should break through on a wide front. This is a confession of deep apprehension. It shows that they were expecting defeat and preparing for it. It is a state of mind not expressed in an order of the day issued by the German Emperor a few days ago, and found on one of his own officers captured to the north of Ypres.

"To the leaders of the troops of the first army," says the Kaiser, "I express from the bottom of my heart my deep appreciation and my imperial gratitude for the splendid achievement in the warding off of the Anglo-French mass attacks on July 30. They have accomplished with German faithfulness what I and their countrymen expected from them. God help them further."

Since then ground to the north of Poiseux has been captured, and today there has been fierce fighting and further advances by the British troops toward Guillemont.

German Losses Frightful.
I have already given some evidence to show that the Germans suffered very severely during the battle of July 30.
It is always difficult to estimate the amount of punishment inflicted upon an adversary's troops, and especially in the case of the Germans, whom I have related, go to very extraordinary lengths of risk to remove the dead from the battlefields before a retreat. Again their great industry in trench work and dugouts makes one doubt sometimes whether all our expenditure of ammunition has the great effect which it would certainly have if the Germans did not get down to great depths below ground.

Some of the facts I gave show the German losses have reached very high figures during the recent fighting, and these are confirmed by information given in a captured letter, as will be seen by extracts from the correspondence of the men of the 84th Reserve Regiment of the 5th Reserve Corps: "The 84th has lost at least 1000 men of its strength," and "we went into the trench with 180 men, and when we came out there were only 30. The battalion is at 200 strong."

Diaries Tell Sad Story.
The diaries of men belonging to the 100th and 82nd Regiment, which took part in the fighting in Tyrone's Wood, tell the truth with regard to their own sufferings. "On the 12th of July," writes one man, "we were in close support west of Guillemont. We were there until the 17th under a terrible artillery fire, living in shell holes. Heavily shelled down to Manancourt, and Liermont, where we received our first reinforcements to fill up the gaps. At roll call only 68 of our company were left."

Another man writes: "On the 8th of July we arrived in the Somme area; it was the worst time I ever had. We were in the trench, and the 100th and 82nd Regiment were in the line again on the 15th without hope of relief. We were right in the front line. We were suffering colossal losses."

Some prisoners captured during the last month's fighting by the British tell of their losses have been phenomenal.
An officer of the 100th and 82nd Regiment says his company lost eighty-four men in four days' bombardment. A prisoner of the 122nd Reserve Regiment says his division had severe losses north of the Somme. The fifth company, he says, came out of battle with less than half a hundred men, and the sixth company had only three men left. Two battalions of the 122nd Reserve Regiment came back from the fighting, seventy and thirty strong, and the colonel of the 184th Regiment admitted the casualties of his regiment amounted to 1800.

Impossible to Guess.
Those were mere indications of the German casualty list. Personally, from all inquiries I have made and from all I have seen, I find it impossible to give even a rough guess of the losses inflicted by the Germans during the last forty days. The opinions of the British fighting men on this subject vary in an extraordinary way, according to the locality in which they have been, and their knowledge of the German power of resistance.

There is a tendency, too, to regard the German as a man who is able to dodge death in his famous dugouts. Indeed, the British infantry take his trenching. His dugouts are good and deep, but he cannot live there always. In his communication trenches and along his roads and above all, when he is sent upon a counter-attack, he is the loser by the British fire and suffers horribly.

OUR SOLDIERS

HOME AND ABROAD

Medical Men.

Major Corbet is expected here in a few days to take over the command of the 8th Field Ambulance Corps. It is understood that Major W. H. Irvine and Major Stewart Skinner will be with Major Corbet in the 8th and that Captain John A. McCarthy will be adjutant with the rank of major.

Captain J. R. Jago, who has been through New Brunswick during the last week on military business, left last night for his home in Halifax.

Lieut. Mooney to 236th.

That Lieut. E. J. Mooney, of the 8th Mounted Rifles, who is now recovering from serious wounds suffered in action, will soon be home again, and that he will later join the 236th New Brunswick Kil-ties, is an interesting report current. It is understood that Lieut. Mooney will be here within a comparatively short period.
Friends have been endeavoring to have the lieutenant hurry for a rest, and endeavoring in order that he might be with his father, Patrick J. Mooney, who is ill.

Resigned His Stripes.
Harris Chapman Chase, eldest son of G. Chase, of Sackville, who enlisted at the outbreak of the war and speedily gained the rank of sergeant, has forfeited his stripes to go into the trenches.
He is now serving with the 2nd Reserve Battalion, which is reinforcing the 14th and other battalions.

Was Partly Blinded.
Private Frank Gray, cook for six years on the C. P. R. boats, who enlisted with the first contingent, leaving St. John under Colonel Guthrie, is visiting friends in Sussex. He was wounded and partly blinded in Belgium, and spent over twelve months in an English hospital before being invalided home. Private Gray helped carry Colonel Guthrie after the latter was wounded.

Won Commission on Field.
A letter received by Mrs. H. D. Mc-Grath, Fredericton, from her husband, Sergeant D. A. McGrath, stated that he was gazetted a lieutenant in the 3rd Pioneer Battalion on the field and was sent to England to take a course.

Lieut. McGrath enlisted in the west with the 3rd Pioneers as a private and gradually worked his way through the ranks, his latest promotion coming as a result of gallantry in the field during the defence of the city of London. He is the son of H. J. McGrath, of Fredericton, and brother of Sergeant Justin McGrath, of the 88th Battery at Peterborough.

Colored Troops Honored by Demonstration on Departure.
Saturday, Aug. 12.
The rear guard of the 140th Battalion left St. John for Valcartier to join the regiment there. The sixteen colored recruits for No. 2 Construction Corps also departed a few hours later for the mobilization centre of the unit at Picton. Both events attracted a large crowd to the station. As planned, however, the departure of the rear guard was effected with little demonstration, but the colored folk of the city turned out patriotically to pay their tribute to the men in khaki.

recently arrived from guard duty at the Picton barracks by the Grand Trunk, leaving about sixty-five strong, under Lieut.
Courtney. The men crossed the ferry on the 6.15 trip and took the shortest route to the station, attracting not a great deal of attention. At the station, however, a great crowd had gathered, and many were disappointed that the departure was so uneventful. Many were on hand to bid their soldier friends farewell, and the send-off they received was warm indeed. Major Perley, who was in charge of the detachment here, did not leave until the crowd had dispersed, and the first of the week to complete all business matters.

Ten from St. John.
The colored men left on the 12.30 train for Picton. At 11.00 o'clock they paraded through the streets, headed by the St. John Brass Band, proclaiming their loyalty and patriotism. A detachment of Boy Scouts from St. James' church also accompanied them, and the sides of the parade were lined by the crowd. The bills were first known to be in circulation on Sunday last.

The Montreal police are of the opinion that the work of distribution had not proceeded very far, for their haul of $20,000 worth of the bills was considerably small. The bills were first known to be in circulation on Sunday last.

Ten of the recruits were from St. John, as follows: R. J. Bushan, Herbert Nichols, Percy Thompson, Roy Hayes, James J. McArthur, Percy Thompson, Austin, Chas. F. Williams, Percy Richards and Charles E. Tyler. Six were from Fredericton: Manzer Bateman, Frank Claryburn, James Hector, Charles O'Ree, George H. Claryburn and John H.
Bateman.

"Johnie" Bateman, the Fredericton boy, is well known in St. John as well as at the capital. On every occasion during the last six or seven years that the U.
N. B. teams came to the city by his team and a popular mascot he was.

Harold Bushan and William T. Mc-Intyre, two of the first to enlist in the corps here, went to Picton on Thursday night and are expected back the first of the week to aid in the recruiting work here.

There is considerable talk about the brass band enlisting as a body. At Antwerp the colored band is very anxious to join and at New Glasgow and Truro and Picton the bands are using every effort to get into the unit.

N. B. Unit in Despatches Captain Russell and Lieutenant Carling, both of a New Brunswick unit, approached the German trenches, according to the Canadian eye witness on the western front, supported by a covering party under Lieutenant Boa. For ten minutes a lively exchange of bombs took place and, finally, about twenty-five Germans came out in an attempt to cut off our patrol. They were immediately shot with bombs, driving the enemy back and inflicting casualties estimated at fifteen.

Won Commission
In a recent letter received by Mrs.
H. D. McGrath, Fredericton, from her husband, Sergeant D. A. McGrath, it was stated that he had been promoted to lieutenant in the 3rd Pioneer Battalion, this being the battalion that he has been fighting with since going overseas.

It is reported that Lieut. E. J. Mooney of the 8th Mounted Rifles, who is now recovering from serious wounds, will be home within a short period and will later take a commission in the 380th kilt battalion.

Joins Headquarters Staff.
The most recent addition to the local military headquarters staff is Sergeant W. W. Logie, brother of Captain (Dr.) A. E. Logie. Sergeant Logie was paymaster-sergeant of the 26th, and later in the pay and record office, London, and is home on sick leave.

when they entertained Mr. and Mrs.

sell, and Miss Mollie Russell, relatives from Bangor. Many friends also were helped to make the occasion one that will be long remembered.

Advices from Montreal are to the effect that the police of that city have rounded up a gang of counterfeiters who have been circulating in the city of Montreal and the province of Quebec spurious $5 bills of the Bank of Montreal. Twenty thousand dollars in the bogus bills are now in the possession of the Montreal police along with the plates from
