

Remarks and Regulations.

The Faculty and boarding pupils constitute one household in which the discipline is as nearly that of a well organized Christian home as is possible under the conditions of school life. Only such rules are made as seem indispensable to secure opportunity for quiet, concentrated study, and a cheerful compliance with these is expected.

It is believed that the most successful discipline is based upon the principles of self-government, and to this end an effort is made to inculcate self-respect and self-restraint on the part of the pupils, a love of truth and right and a courteous regard for the rights of others.

Satisfactory results in education can only be secured by the intelligent co-operation of parents and teachers, and the best interests of all concerned demand that the parents should give for the time being, the control and management of their daughters into the hands of those conducting the school.

Parents are cordially invited to become acquainted with the workings and methods of the Institution and are welcomed at all times to the Seminary. We especially ask our patrons to aid us in securing punctuality, uninterrupted attention to study, and to the performance of each duty. To this end the students should be present on the first and every day of the term.

Students are subject to the supervision and direction of the teachers in regard to hours of study, shopping and general conduct at all times. Regularity in this respect to school work, recreation and hours for sleep are insisted upon.

All students are required to board in the Seminary building with the teachers, except those who live in the Town with their parents or near relatives.
