

Many of the pupils of Mother Mary of the Incarnation, became the wives of those estimable Officers of the Regiment of Carignan-Salières, who settled in the district of Richelieu, Three Rivers, and Montreal :—the names of their descendants may be traced from year to year upon the lists now published.

If formerly little Indian girls, alternately with the French pupils, sang at Mass and Vespers, or exercised their skill upon the “viol” :—at the present day, music has become an almost obligatory part of a young lady’s education ; instruments of many a name, have taken the place of the antique viola, and celebrated artists might hear their compositions interpreted by young Convent musicians, in a creditable manner ;—at least, so people say.

The yearly account for board, is, of course, seldom balanced by so many “Cords of wood,” or “Bushels of corn,” as in ancient times ;—cash has become too abundant in the present prosperous state of the Dominion of Canada.

May all be, now, and in future, as it was in the days of the Ven. Mother — “for the eye of God alone.” —
