Pandas in Winnipeg

 ments) could spell out two points for Marshall's troops. Game two for the Pandas in the Calgary tournament saw a 0-0 draw with the tough T-Birds.

"Calgary's first game against UBC should set the tone for the tournament," Marshall said.

Sunday sees Alberta finish the tournament with contests against UBC and the Canada West leaders, the University of Victoria Vikettes. All five teams in Canada West will then have just five days rest before the final CWUAA tournament in Victoria.

The short layoff between tournaments could cause injury problems to be a deciding factor in the hunt for playoff spots.

"Any more injuries this weekend could prove for any team," said Marshall, who is happy to have Joanne Lawrie rejoin the lineup after suffering a broken finger in the last tournament.

For now, though, Lawrie and the Pandas must drive for the net and come away with much needed goals. If the U of A Pandas can dominate "from the 25 and in" in next weekend's tourney, the final series in Victoria could mean more to the Pandas than just a last hurrah.
