Sir,

In reply to your letter of the 14th instant, stating that numerous typographical errors appear in the Indian words as published in the appendix to your last Annual Report, I have to inform you that every care possible was taken to have the same corrected; and after the proof was received from the printer it was sent to you at once for examination &c. It was received back from you with a few alterations too late for correction, and it is now too late to make the corrections.
