

THE FOOTSTEPS OF A THRONE.

BY MAX PEMBERTON. This is a new novel, by the author of "Kronstadt," "The Sea Wolves," "A Puritan's Wife," and other successful stories. The plot is laid in modern Russia, and deals with Russian social and political intrigue. The book, throughout, is full of life, and holds the reader suspended with breathless interest. Cloth, $1.25. Paper, 75c.

LORD JIM.

BY JOSEPH CONRAD. Mr. Conrad is now generally placed, by critics, at the head of contemporary writers of sea-stories. He has a fine gift for presenting the secret of the sea's mystery and fascination. "Lord Jim" is the outgrowth of a short story of the vast Pacific, and the hero is portrayed in a most unusual and striking fashion. The mantle of Stevenson has fallen upon Joseph Conrad, who has already become famous by his "Tales of Unrest," "An Outcast of the Islands," and other successful stories. Cloth, $1.25. Paper, 75c.

ROBERT ORANGE.

BY JOHN OLIVER HOBBS. This book of Mrs. Craigie's has for various reasons created much discussion, so that critics express widely different estimates that are very amusing. Paper, 75c. Cloth, $1.25.

"'Robert Orange' is a remarkable book."—The Standard.

"I must confess to a profound disappointment * * * this is the worst book I have read for many months."—Herbert Tourtell.

"A most entertaining book."—The Speaker.

"Its comedy is alive with the brilliant observation of character which made Mrs. Craigie's earlier successes, and the plot is by no means without incident."—Pall Mall Gazette.
