Business Training

A School that fits for the Demands of Actual Experience

THE demand for first-class stenographers, bookkeepers and telegraphers is constantly increasing with the great development of Canada, and a thorough training in any of these branches is a valuable asset to the young man or woman. The success of the Central Business College, Toronto, in fitting graduates for the very best positions in the business world, commends it to the consideration of parents and guardians. This is a school which combines superior service and appointments with reasonable rates. It really consists of three schools under the same roof, and each school is under the supervision of a staff of competent teachers, specially qualified for their work. Six months' course costs $50, and this fee entitles the student to tuition in all schools. The school maintains an employment department which looks carefully after students who have completed their studies. It also maintains and conducts a Correspondence Department through which a number of excellent courses, including Chartered Accountancy, Advertising and Illustrating, are given with the most satisfactory results to thousands of students who cannot attend college. All who are looking for the best in the business school line should send for Catalogues and information to
