GOSSIP

Bobbie, aged five, saw a cow grazing in his mother's flower garden, and shouted, 'Scat! scat!'

The cow didn't seem to be much intimidated, and calmly ate on. Three-year-old Mary, dancing with excitement, exclaimed: "Tell him to 'scow,'" Wobbie, tell him to 'scow'!"—The Delineator.

Canada's increased acreage of wheat is becoming a factor of considerable importance in the milling industry of the United States. The flour exporters across the line are also complaining of the loss of business owing to the less advantageous freight rates since the passage of the inter-state commerce law and less favorable wheat supplies. The mills in Minnesota are giving direct testimony as to the losses they have sustained, and their demand for Canadian wheat is going to be more pronounced than heretofore. At the Detroit meeting it was hoped that a plan for drawback on Canadian wheat would be formulated without the features objectionable to those millers who will not use the imported wheat, which objectionable feature had formerly been embodied in a recent Act. Many of the mills in the American west, that have less advantageous means now of accumulating wheat in Kansas than they had a few years ago, and have had to combat the inroads of durum wheat and velvet chaff, feel that an imaginary line should not separate them from the fine wheat across the Canadian border. They will be more insistent in the future than they have been in the past. This wheat, the United States millers argue, should not be available to British mills while shutting out the American.

SELF-SUCKING COWS

For the benefit of those that have cows that suck themselves, Sylvester Klinker, of Iowa, submits the following to Wal-lace's Farmer. He claims it is a sure cure, as he has used it for over thirty years:—"Take an ordinary bridle bit, jointed in center, and bridle to cow just as you would a horse, using strap, rope, or anything to keep bit in mouth. This ends all trouble, with no inconvenience to the cow. Publish this for the humane part of it, as I see so many cruel and many bungle some contrivances used."

SKIM MILK PAINT

The following formula for making skim milk paint will be of interest to all who desire a cheap paint that will wear well.

Stir into a gallon of skim milk three pounds of Portland cement, adding, at the same time, any paint in dry form, that will give the color you desire. The milk will hold the paint in suspension, but the cement, being heavy, will sink, therefore it will be necessary to keep the mixture well stirred with a paddle. Mix only enough at a time for one day's use. If the mixture is not thoroughly stirred, as you use it, it will get thicker and thicker, and it will be necessary to thin it by adding more milk. Six hours after applying this paint it will be dry. It is not affected by weather.

Carbolic acid or any other disinfectant can be added, thus making it very effective for use in poultry houses and the stable. It makes an excellent paint for fences when colored drab by the addition of a little lampblack, or a dull green by adding ochre and a small quantity of Prussian blue.—E. B. REXFORD in the Outing Magazine.

SHEEP TO FIGHT RAGWORT

In the Maritime Provinces sheep are fast becoming a popular part of the live-stock world, because of their value in eradicating ragwort, a weed that has been found to cause serious sickness among cattle. According to J. B. Spencer, of the Live-stock Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, this disease was for some time considered to be contagious. Investigation revealed the fact that it never should have been classed as being contagious, as it is now
