The Expenditure for the past year thus appears to | be £5863 6s. 21d. and the Receipts £4228 12s .- making the excess of Expenditure beyond the Revenue, for the year, £1634 14s. 21d.

The amount remaining in the Treasury, in Cash and Securities, (including the sum of £1497 10s. 6 d.d. guaranteed by the Sureties of the late Treasurer,) is £7097 2s. 6 d.d. and the amount of Treasury Notes issued being £5500, leaves a clear surplus in the Treasury of £1597 2s. 64d.

While your Committee regret the deficiency in the late Treasurer's Accounts, amounting to £1497 10s. 64d. they have to congratulate the House, that whatever temporary inconvenience the public service may experience by so large a defalcation, there will eventually be no public loss sustained, ample security having been required and entered into.

Your Committee observe, that the sum of £150, voted by this House last Session, to the late Treasurer, for extra services in collecting old Bonds, does not appear by the Public Accounts to have been paid. They therefore beg leave to suggest to the House to recommend, that credit be allowed to the Sureties of the late Treasurer for that sum-leaving a Balance to be accounted for by them of £1347 10s. 64d.
