the people at the desired level.

The Government has carried on the war in accordance with methods which are even incompatible with everything which has been done hitherto—the violation of Belgium and Luzemburg; the use of poiso gases, which were subsequently used by the other belligerents; there were Zeppelin bombs which killed both nbatants and non-combatants, a submarine war on commerce, torpedoing of the Lusitania, pillage and extortion of tribute, beginning with Belgium; the internment and imprisonment of the population of the eastern provinces; various devices for forcing prisoners to work against their own country, by spying for the Central Powers, thereby committing an act of high treason; contracts arranged between Zimmermann and Sir Roger Case-ment in December, 1915, for the formation of armed units of English prisoners of war, for the purpose of forming the Irish brigade. Besides these, other attempts must be mentioned, which were made among the foreigners in concentration camps in Germany, threatening them with in-ternment unless they betrayed their own countries and placed themselves at Germany's disposal.

Ambassador Gerard to Outline to Germany Attitude of U. S.

On Sub Situation and Also Upon Deportation of Belgians, Which is Disapproved.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Ambassa or Gerard conferred with Presiden Wilson yesterday and received final instructions on views to be presented to the German government regarding the deportation of Belgians and subnarine warfare.

No written communications have been given the Amabssador, but Mr. Wilson outlined to him fully the abtitude of the American government toward pending issues. The President is understood to have emphasized the unfavorable impression created here by Germany's treatment of the Belans and to have reiterated that the United States has said its last word on submarine warfare, and expected Germany to live up to her pledges.

While Mr. Gerard would not dis cuss the matter for publication, he is said to have informed the President that Germany undoubtedly is

The congestion was caused by the rush of shoppers upon the annual before Christmas pilgrimage to the great metropolis; to the convention of hotel men; the Army and Navy, football game in New York, and the Yale-Harvard gams at New Haven. It is estimated that these attractions brought fifty thousand people to New York in excess to the normal weekend travel.

Siept in Baliroom

Some of the visitors had queer experiences in fluding a place to sleep. Twelve Pittsburg men travelling together slept in the Louis XVII suite at the Majestic, and the grand ballroom curtained off made three sleeping apartments which rather offended the aristocratic atmosphere of this proud chamber. Guests expressed willingness to sleep on the roof if given blankets, in fact, all they wanted was to lie down somewhere. Geo. C. Boldt, of the Waldorf, gave up his private library and diningrooms to patrons. Forty-nine pages of the reservation book contained names of persons who had wired or written for rooms and who had been told that everything was filled up. After the arrival of the Twentieth Century Limited on the New York After the arrival of the Twentten Centrury Limited on the New York Central Saturday more than four hundred persons were waiting to be assigned rooms at the Waldorf. Cots were in great demand and lined the corridors of all the hotels, while regular customers were billeted out in private houses and some even had to be sent to Newark, New Jersey, to get sleeping accommodation.

New York never was invaded by such an army of week-enders before and hotel clerks will not forget for some time the difficulties experienced in trying to sleep people without rooms. For once travellers were willing to rough it, without complaint, regardless of price, could they only get space enough to lay down anywhere with a roof overhead and many slept on the roof at Under the Stars, head and many slept on the roof at
