COURAGE.

Because I hold it sinful to despond, And will not let the bitterness of life Blind me with burning tears, but look beyond Its tumults and its strife;

Because I lift my head above the mist, Where the sun shines and the broad breezes blow, By every ray and every rainbow kissed That God's love doth bestow;

Think you I find no bitterness at all? No burden to be borne, like Christian's pack? Think you there are no ready tears to fall Because I keep them back?

Why should I hug life's ills with cold reserve To curse myself and all that love me? Nay! A thousand times more good than I deserve God gives me every day.

Dark skies must clear, and when the clouds are past, One golden day redeems a weary year.

Patient I listen, sure that sweet at last Will sound his voice of cheer. Then vex me not with chiding. Let me be I may be glad and grateful to the end.

I grudge you not your cold and darkness—me The power of light befriend! —Celia Thaxter.
