

CHRISTIANITY IN THE HOME.

Its Neglect a Great Danger, Says Bishop Loftus.

Centenary, Charlton and Chalmers' Anniversaries Yesterday.

"To my mind one of the greatest dangers to Christianity in this Canada of ours is the neglect of Christianity in the home life," said his lordship Bishop Loftus, of Keewatin, preaching in the Church of the Ascension last evening. Quoting from his text from St. Matt. v. 5, "Thy Kingdom come; thy will be done," his lordship told the congregation that while these two simple petitions were among the most widely known of God's world that very few Christians realized their vast depth and true meaning. The coming of the kingdom of Christ unto the heart of man was something overlooked and yet without it there could be no Christianity. One of the most difficult things of the Christian life was the realization of the coming of kingdom of Christ into the home life.

"With so many services and meetings each week, even in the church," said his lordship, "there is great danger, because very often it means the home life and family altar is entirely neglected. Where Christianity was neglected in the home life children were apt to question the truth of Christianity that appeared there. One of the things most needed in this country was to get back to the state of family prayer. It would oftentimes be a benefit to neglect some of the church meetings rather than neglect the children around the family altar. Too many Christians acted as if they did not believe in the coming of Christ. He urged his hearers to make something more than a mere sham profession of Christianity, something more than a mere hypocrisy, to live out the Christianity they professed.

His lordship is an interesting speaker, with a fluent diction and clear enunciation. He occupied the pulpit at both services.

Centenary Anniversary.

Anniversary services of Centenary Church were held yesterday, and were largely attended. Mr. W. H. Hewlett prepared a special programme of music for the occasion, which was very much enjoyed. The speaker of the day was Rev. J. Cooper Antilife, D. D., of Galt. He is an able speaker and his thoughtful sermons were greatly appreciated by the large congregations.

In the evening Mr. Antilife spoke on the subject of the great love of Jesus Christ, and took as an example the love that the Saviour had for Peter, and showed how the Master was ever willing and ready to receive the truly penitent into the fold. In a word picture of the life and character of Peter, Mr. Antilife showed that the apostle had many human failings, the same as Christians of the present day experience, and that it was only the great redeeming love of Jesus Christ that saved him. The same privilege was extended to the world today.

This evening the annual thanksgiving tea will be held in the lecture hall of the church. Centenary has entered upon a campaign to raise $16,000 to free the church of its mortgage debt of $11,000, and provide $5,000 for improvement. This is to be done in four equal annual instalments. The $4,000 asked for yesterday was practically all placed on the plates, and when some promised subscriptions come in the amount will be exceeded.

Charlton Semi-Jubilee.

At Charlton Avenue Methodist Church yesterday the services were conducted by Rev. A. C. Crews, D. D., who was pastor of that church twenty-five years ago, and who is now General Secretary of the Epworth League and Sunday Schools. Rev. Mr. Crews has lost none of his eloquence, or his earnestness of address, and he pleased and held his congregation in the old way. Mr. Crews is an ardent worker in all league and Sunday school undertakings.

His sermon was based on the latter part of the Epistle, Act. 28: "He thanked God and took courage." He took several verses for gratitude in reference to Church work and referred to the advantage of having a church in the neighborhood of one's home. He spoke of a gain or a victory in church work, and a great cause for gratitude and thanksgiving. This evening a tea meeting will be held Tuesday and Wednesday evening meetings will also take place, while next Sunday Rev. Dr. Cleaver, of Toronto, a former pastor, will have charge of the services.

Zion Rally.

Yesterday was a most profitable day at Zion Tabernacle. It was young people's rally day and all the services were largely attended. In the morning Rev. Geo. K. Bradshaw, of Freeman, gave a special address to the Epworth League. Mr. Bradshaw is a very impressive speaker, clear and forceful, and his words were eagerly listened to. In the evening two of the well known young laymen of the church gave excellent addresses. Dr. Davey spoke as a young professional man to young men on "What is Life?" He traced life from its simplest form up to the perfection of manhood, and showed what the ideal manhood should be. Mr. W. F. Coot, of the Canadian Screw Company, gave the message of a young manufacturer to young men, speaking from the text, "But seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all things will be added unto you."

Ferguson Avenue Baptists. Mr. W. A. Cameron, leader of the McMaster Evangelistic Band, of Toronto, was the speaker at the services in connection with the celebration of the 20th anniversary of the founding of Ferguson Avenue Baptist Church. There was a very good attendance at the morning service, and the church was filled to overflowing in the evening. In the morning Mr. Cameron took as his text 2nd Peter 3: 18, "But grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ." He dealt with the life of Peter, the great apostle, at length, showing how the apostle was learned in the ways of the Saviour. He emphasized the necessity of reading the Bible as a part of one's education. Mr. Cameron spoke again in the evening. To-night there will be a vocal and platform meeting, for which a fine programme has been prepared.

Chalmers' Church Anniversary.

Chalmers' Church, on the Mountain Top, at the East End Incline, held its second anniversary services yesterday afternoon and evening, and all the services were largely attended. Rev. Berley Ketchen, of MacNab Street Presbyterian Church, occupied the pulpit in the morning, preaching an eloquent and inspiring sermon. In the evening Rev. John Young, of St. John Presbyterian Church, preached, the theme being the duty of fathers and their children, his text being Eph. vi. 4. "And ye, fathers, provoke not your children to wrath; but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." He spoke of the position of the father in the household, under three heads, as prophet, priest and king. He was a prophet in his own house because he spoke for God. It was easier for a father to teach his children than for any one else to do it. They had confidence in him and believed in him. It was difficult for a child to distrust his father. He must be repeatedly disappointed before he can do it. The seriousness of disobedience to fathers is also strongly set forth in Deuteronomy. As priest in the home, the father was spokesman to God on behalf of his family. He was to lead the thoughts of the child to God. In the third position of the father, that of king, the child acknowledges his power. He depends upon his father. He asks his help. He is unable to direct himself, and he asks his father's help. How are they to give it to him? By example. It was painful to see the carelessness of some fathers with their children. Some took more care in training a dog than in training their boy; took more interest in their house or garden than in their child. They should be an inspiration to them, and then in after years the children will rise up and call them blessed. It was an excellent sermon and was listened to attentively by the large congregations. At the opening Miss Farr and Miss Bryant sang a duet with much feeling and expression. In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Sarkisian addressed the Sunday school scholars, and he asked his father's help. How are they to give it to him? By example. It was painful to see the carelessness of some fathers with their children. Some took more care in training a dog than in training their boy; took more interest in their house or garden than in their child. They should be an inspiration to them, and then in after years the children will rise up and call them blessed. It was an excellent sermon and was listened to attentively by the large congregations. At the opening Miss Farr and Miss Bryant sang a duet with much feeling and expression.

Rev. Daniel Protich.

Rev. Daniel Protich, the Greek evangelist who is in this country for the purpose of establishing churches for foreigners, was the speaker at Wesley Church last evening. There was a large attendance of the congregation, and his address was listened to with great attention. He gave a graphic description of his life. Born in Moscow, Russia, in 1873, he was sent to the college to study for the priesthood in the Greek Catholic Church. After being ordained, he was commissioned to go to Jerusalem to prevent the Russian pilgrims from committing the New Testament. While there he read the Bible himself, and became so impressed with the truths contained therein that he gave up the priesthood, and for five years labored among the pilgrims. In that time he got into great trouble, and for two years was imprisoned at Constantinople. After his release he came to this country, and for a time engaged in preaching to the foreigners. He is now attached to Cook's Presbyterian Church, Toronto. He is in the city a few weeks preaching to the foreigners.

At First Congregational.

Rev. Ed. Hamilton, of London, England, travelling in this country for his health, which he has now regained, occupied the pulpit at First Congregational Church last evening, and preached to a large audience. His sermon was to young people, and the title of it was, "What Kind of a Harvest Are You Working For?" On this he spoke very earnestly and drew comparisons between the crops of the fields and what he brought forth. Mr. Hamilton expects to return to England after a leisurely journey to the coast.

On Home Missions.

Rev. Dr. McLaren, General Secretary of Home Missions, was the speaker in the Epworth Presbyterian Church yesterday morning. The visitor is no stranger in Erskine, and the many in attendance were pleased to hear him. He chose for his text Deut. vi. 4. We have a great and goodly heritage in this fair Canada, said the preacher, at the outset. A great wave of prosperity has been sweeping over our land. One can hardly describe in words the possibilities of this great Dominion. In 1904 in the great west four districts alone produced sixty-four million bushels of wheat. Five million acres of land are under cultivation, and it had been estimated that the 175,000,000 acres of wheat lands could supply the British Isles with bread for ten years. Canada is therefore justified in her pride and self-reliance. But spiritual life must not be overlooked. The speaker touched on Northwest immigration. Last year of 216,000 immigrants 97,000 were from Great Britain, 64,000 from the United States, and the rest from European countries, mostly including Hungarians, Doukhobors and Germans. The thing for Canada to do is to make the very best of these people. Many of them can neither read nor write. They must be educated and Christianized, and that can only be done by the earnest co-operation of the church in the East.

Two Elders Ordained.

At St. John Presbyterian Church yesterday morning Messrs. J. J. Armstrong and Geo. Ritchie were ordained as elders, the ceremony being conducted by Rev. John Young, the pastor. There was a large congregation present. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Dickinson, of Galt, on the responsibilities of a Christian. In the evening Dr. Dickinson preached an other powerful sermon along similar lines, his text being St. Matthew xii. 33: "The tree is known by its fruit." In the course of his sermon the preacher said that the greatest concern of man is the salvation of his soul; making money and fame are insignificant compared with this. Salvation is within reach of all, and it is the duty of Christian people to make the man in the street understand this, and also that because he does not accept Christ he is not free from responsibility. The true Christian man is a man of prayer, who desires among other things holiness, a sanctified Sabbath and Christian fellowship.

RECALLS GENERAL.

Madrid, Oct. 14.—The Government has decided to recall Gen. Santa Olalla, the Spanish Commander at Casa Blanca, whose differences with General Druide have caused endless frictions between the French and Spanish forces.

In this picture are shown the men who have been at the head of the French forces during the recent trouble in Morocco. They are: General Druide, who is in command of the French land forces; Admiral Philbert, who had charge of the naval forces, and the Consul-General of France to Morocco, Maupertuis.

BAPTISTS OF BEAMSVILLE.

CELEBRATION OF CENTENARY OF CHURCH'S REORGANIZATION.

Fine Services Attended by Large Congregations Yesterday—Sermons by Former Pastors—Reunion To-day.

The one hundredth anniversary celebration of the reorganization of the Beamsville Baptist Church was fittingly observed yesterday by special services conducted by former pastors. Many were the pleasant memories recalled by the oldest members, who gladly admitted that the present event in point of enthusiasm and interest was the most memorable of anything of the kind ever held. The warmth of the welcome extended to members of other denominations, practical lessons inculcated and the social spirit that seemed to pervade were very noticeable. In the morning Dr. Hooper, of Toronto, spoke on "God's Call From the Empty to the True Life," selected from words in I. Peter, third verse. He said that when asked to preach an anniversary sermon he had some hesitancy about the selection of a suitable subject, but after mature thought considered that it was better to keep along the lines that had done real good in the days that were past and gone. There was in the world an unsatisfying desire for something new, which very often consisted of murder, suicide and disaster. But the man or woman who would be up to date should be a student of God's word and a participant in that divine inheritance that lasted forever. The spirit of the age and evolution suggested that things would come out all right some time. There, however, must be a proper basis, and God was calling men to the work of redemption accomplished by Jesus. No politician, philosopher or statesman could attain the fulness of life or reach his highest goal without a true knowledge of the Saviour of men.

Rev. J. O'Neill, of Paisley, occupied the pulpit in the evening, and it was necessary to place chairs in the aisles to accommodate the large crowd present. Mr. O'Neill's subject was "Watch, quit you like men," found in I. Corinthians xvi. 13. He said that the question of life was the all important one, and if a man's life was right he cared nothing of his death. He said it was many years since he had labored among them, but his interest in them was that of first love. He had been with them in joy and in tears, and the ceaseless current of time was carrying all to the grave of forgetfulness, which said "Does death exist?" Where are the men and women, he asked, who but a few years ago enacted the tragedy of life in the affairs of church and state? "Ceaseless vigilance" was the needed by the Christian because the adversary of souls was continually tempting and alluring the careless to eternal death. It was the stealthy, subtle, little things of life that hindered the Christian in his growth. True religion was "at loyalty to any particular denomination, it was the living the divine life in the world, the resurrection of the Christian life in men."

The choir under Mr. J. Fawell rendered appropriate music, and Miss Alice Higgins played the accompaniments in her usual fine style.

To-day a great reunion was started at 3 o'clock, when addresses were delivered by former pastors and old members. It will close by a fine tea this evening, and thus another mile-stone is passed by the oldest Baptist congregation in Canada.

REVIVAL OPENED.

Special Services in Gospel Tabernacle Began Yesterday

The revival meetings in the Gospel Tabernacle began yesterday. Rev. R. V. Miller, of Georgia, preached both morning and evening. Mr. E. Bowyer, of Cleveland, conducted the singing. The congregations were large, especially in the evening, when the church was packed. Mr. Miller's morning sermon was to Christians, and was practically an exposition of the Epistle to the Philippians, which the speaker said was "The Gospel of Unselfishness," in which four grand examples are given of men who gave themselves for others: Christ, who humbled Himself and came down to the lowest place, that he might lead and lift the lost; the Apostle Paul, who counted everything that he was, or had, as nothing in his great desire to save men; Timothy, who was like-minded, seeking not his own; Epaphroditus, the faithful pastor, who was nigh unto death, carrying the burden of others.

In the evening the preacher took for his subject "This Great Salvation," his text, Heb. ii. 3. This sermon will be concluded this evening.

Mr. Miller, like the great evangelist Moody, depends almost entirely upon the Bible for results, and confines himself to the exposition of its truths. He is a clear and careful speaker, with a Southern accent, which makes him pleasant to hear.

Mr. Bowyer is a sweet solo singer, and with a large chorus under his direction puts a lot of life into the congregational singing.

In the afternoon last evening the large altar railing was filled with men and women confessing their sins, and faith in Christ. These services will continue every evening this week, beginning with a service of song at 7.45.

CANNIBAL STORY.

WHOLESALE MURDER, CANNIBALISM AND DEADLY FEUDS.

Weird Tale of an Editor—Many of Natives in Desperation Kill and Eat Their Own Relatives.

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—J. A. Osborne, editor of the Fort Frances Times, who has just completed a trip of exploration in Northeastern Canada, brings back tales of wholesale murder, cannibalism, terrible privation, and deadly feuds among the natives along the shores of James Bay and Labrador.

A young man, who flew in terror to Moose, raptorially while at that region, Mr. Osborne has come to the conclusion that cannibalism is practiced openly on many occasions among the Indians and half-breeds.

The great snowfall of last winter, combined with intense cold and the scarcity of small game, produced the famine conditions, which caused such suffering, and in one case practically wiped out a Cree village, on Main River.

Having no provisions stored up, and with streams frozen solid, the Indians starved to death, with the exception of a party of young men and women, who decided to try to make Hudson Bay Fort, 120 miles down the stream. After a journey marked by untold privation they reached the fort more dead than alive.

A relief expedition sent back to the village found nothing except thirteen bodies in the rude huts.

McLAREN MATCH.

"A" Company the Winner With Good Score of 418.

The McLaren shelter trench competition was held on Saturday afternoon and five companies of the 13th Regiment turned out to compete in this event. Despite the fact that Saturday was not the best kind of a day to hold the competition, every company, with the exception of D Company, had the full number required. The teams, which were each 20 men strong, left the Drill Hall at 2 o'clock and marched to the rifle ranges, where the competition was held. "A" Company was an easy winner, with a score of 418 points. C was second, with 376 points; B third, with 308 points; D fourth, with 306 points, and D Company was fifth, with 164 points. The last mentioned company was one man short. By winning the trophy, A Company secures the trophy and $18 in cash. C Company gets $12 and B Company receives $6.

Bridgeport, Mass., Oct. 14.—Timothy Dwyer, a deep sea diver, of Portland, Me., was drowned on Sunday by the capsizing of a boat. Dwyer had been at work in the harbor on a sunken schooner, and, with John Christian, rowed to the city to have photographs taken.

MULHOLLAND DAY IN COURT.

Bunch of the Famous Crowd Got Off To-day.

Young Men Charged With Refusing to Assist Officer.

Dundas Man Stole From a City Clergyman's House.

The Mulholland crowd composed about half of the attendance at the Police Court this morning and provided plenty of amusement for backbenchers. George Young and Daniel Allan were arrested by Constable Jas. Clark on Saturday night in Fitzgerald's parlour. Young was charged with refusing to come to the aid of the constable when he called on him in the King's name to do so, and Allan was charged with interfering with the constable. Clark was called to the pool-room in question where a fight was in progress between "Soldier" Doyle, alias Walter Hildreth, and a man named Allan. He ordered the first named man to go home but Doyle refused to go. He then arrested him, but Doyle, he said, resisted him and the constable called on Young in the King's name for help. Young went right to it, but instead of helping the constable started to maul him and when Allan saw that he went for Clark also. At the request of J. L. Council, who appeared for them they were remanded till to-morrow. Allan was allowed out on $20 bail, while Young had to put up $200 in good sureties. Doyle was charged with being disorderly and with assaulting Van Atter. To the first charge he pleaded guilty and was fined $5, but he pleaded not guilty to the assault charge. The complainant said he was tackled by Doyle without any reason and thrown over a pool table, but Doyle and Allan said that Van Atter had wanted to fight. The Magistrate dismissed the assault charge.

Dennis Wyrz, Mrs. McGee and her husband, were all charged with horse stealing. They all pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by the Magistrate. John Fletcher said that on Friday he was driving a rig for L. Carpenter, Hugbush street, north, buying rags and that when he was waiting for an incline car at the east end incline, the three defendants and two others of the Mulholland clan asked him for a ride to the top of the mountain, and he took them up in his wagon. When they got to the top he went into a cottage to get some rags and the others untied the horse and hiked for the tall timbers with it. This story was received with jeers by the defendants and Wyrz appointed cross-examiner and proceeded to better than a vaudeville show and kept the court in throes of merriment.

"Didn't you buy a fifty-cent bottle of whiskey at the hotel when we got up there?" asked Wyrz.

"No, my whiskey! certainly not," was the reply.

"Didn't you get drunk and fall out of the wagon at Albion Mills?"

"No, we were not near Albion Mills and I did not drink at all."

"Why, didn't I try to lift you in the wagon and couldn't do it, and didn't I have to bring the wagon home to the owner, and weren't you so drunk you couldn't walk straight?" asked Dennis.

"No," was the reply to all.

The Magistrate was of a different opinion, however, and sent the defendants all home. He told Fletcher he should have told the truth and he might have got some satisfaction.

John McGrath, Dundas, was charged with stealing a silver bowl out of Archdeacon Forrester's house on Saturday morning. He pleaded guilty, and said he was drunk and did not remember anything about it. Archdeacon Forrester said that McGrath had obtained entrance to his house through a back window while the family were away on Saturday morning, about 11.30 o'clock. He did not miss anything but the bowl. Constable McLean said he arrested McGrath for being drunk, and the prisoner tried to lay him out with the stolen bowl. The Magistrate reserved sentence till to-morrow, finding McGrath guilty.

Andy Demitro, 106 Barton street, was charged by Gaspar Luben with assault on Saturday. He pleaded not guilty. The racket complainant in the G. T. R. shops. The complainant said that the prisoner hit him because he bossed him. A witness said that the prisoner only pushed Luben, and the prisoner said he did not touch him. The Magistrate told them to go home and settle it themselves.

John Lacey, Mary street, and William Nutall, no address, were each fined $5 for being drunk yesterday afternoon.

The common ordinary $2 druggs were John McGrath, Dundas; Alex. Stark, Dundas; Magnus Muir, King William street; and L. Thomas, Queen north.

THIRTY-THIRD PSALM.

The Lord's my herd at every turn,
He leads me down beside the burn,
And through the grassy mead.
And whiles when I have lost the track,
And some wrong turn's take,
His tender mercy brings me back,
E'en for His own name's sake.

And that's enough for me.

Many friends and foes I aye have met,
Wi' kindness never failin',
He gies me mair than I can eat,
My bicker's 'ill will shallin'.

Guidness I trow will follow me,
And mercy leave me never,
Till I wi' Thee a dweller be,
For ever and for ever.
