LEAGUE NOTES.

Miss Harris has kindly consented to start the ball rolling by pitching over the first one at the opening game next Wednesday, between the Wanderers and Cubs. The proceeds will be devoted to the W. P. A. Britt will likely pitch for the Wanderers and Hall for the Cubs. Both teams are in fine form having been hard at work practising the past week. Tickets will be on sale shortly and the fans are advised to get theirs early. Should the weather-man see fit to favour us with a fine day all attendance records ought to be broken.

PLAY BALL.

This world's a diamond, with the bases laid. And on it life's great game of ball is played. The teams are Human Beings versus Fate. And Time's the Umpire watching by the plate. We're at the bat. Our purpose o'er and o'er To wield Ambition's club and try to score. To try and solve the curve the pitcher throws. And lam the sphere where not a fielder goes. Some of seem to bat with skill immense. Knocking long homers o'er the deep field fence. Others hunt infield hits, but wildly race. And beat the ball down to the primal base. Still others, though they strive their best, no doubt, Fan wildly at the air, and then—strike out! Then seek the bench, downcast, with visage drawn, Crestfallen, shamefaced, blue, ambition gone! Or rag the Umpire, growling like a bear.—"You robber! That decision wasn't fair!"

That's not the game! Be not a grouch or quitter! What though you're not a straight 300-hitter? You've got another chance. Stand to the plate! Grab tight your bat, get braced, and calmly wait! Wait for a good one. Let the others rip. And when it comes—now! Lam it hard! and zip! Hike for the base. Keep going—yes, you can! Steal second! Good! Now, easy—not too gay! There! Get a lead! A hit! Now you're away! Keep on! Don't stop! Don't lose that dandy stride! You've got to beat the throw-in! Slide, now! Slide! Hurrah! You did! Score! Of course you scored! See there's your tally marked up on the board! And now you'll win the game—no doubt at all! You just can't lose, old man, if you'll PLAY BALL.

THE FABLE OF THE SPEED.

One of the best assets you can have in the game, unless you are a Member of the Battery Forces, is a pair of speedy shins, and in very recent days there was a young athlete who possessed the fastest couplings seen for some time. As this timber kid could go from the plate to first before the infield realized that the ball was tapped, he beat them out and got a batting record of .500; as he could depart from first and claw the middle cushion while the skate on the slab was winding up, he stole 119 bases on the season, (at Buckmaster's field), and great was the competition between the Managers of the regular league, (it is to laugh—News Editor). The manager of last year's champs finally secured him. He wasn't handed much to do in the early days, as the manager wanted to break him in by degrees, and maintained that a perch on the bench would teach him all the angles. Now and then he went in as a pinch-hitter; and quite often, he was inserted as a substitute base runner. And so things drifted along, till the games that would settle the pennant.

In the final game, the one that would decide the honour and glory, a grand old fossil came through with a nifty smash when it was needed, and another relic of the Mesozoic strata drew a pass. Then there was a fumble, the sacks were populated, and the crafty manager, wishing to make the most of the situation, sent the young speed wonder down to second as sub-runner. A hit, of course, would score the venerable guest on third, but it would take some lively hoofing to insure another run from second on the selfsame hit, wherefore the substitution of the juvenile.

As soon as he had reached second, the young marvel got his crafty brain to working. He had the speed; no catcher lived that could head him off, and surely here was the time when every ounce of fire and energy must be used to help the club. And so gathering all his limbs and supple limbs for action, he watched his chance, and stole third with the bases full.

MORAL—The Law won't let you kill them, So lots of them survive.

WHICH.

The slugging steps up to the plate in the pinch With the bases all loaded for bear The count's three and two and we wish that we knew Whether batter or pitcher is "here" Ah! The moment is nigh and the mob heaves a sigh, Is the batter a hero or lout? Will the star crack the ball to the centerfield wall, Or will the poor rummy strike out?

CLARKE-PARSONS.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Cochrane Street Centennial Church yesterday afternoon, when Mr. F. Ronald Clarke, cashier with the Sun Life Insurance Co., led to the altar Miss Marguerite W. Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Parsons. The bride wore a dress of cream tulle and Georgette crepe, and was attended by her sister, Miss Violet Parsons and Miss Ada Clarke, sister of the groom. The flower girls were Misses Dorothy Rees and Norma Burt, whilst the groom was ably supported by Mr. Ern. Maund, who performed the duties of best man. The bridesmaids were costumed in rose silk with gold slippers, and wore picture hats of Tuscan straw. The groom's present to the bride was a set of white fox furs, to the bridesmaids and flower girls, birthstone rings and brooches, respectively, while the best man received a gold Masonic emblem. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Bond, and was witnessed by a large congregation, and the organ was ably presided over by Arthur Mews, Esq., C.M.G. After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the parents' home, Devon Row. The happy couple joined the train at Waterford Bridge for Brigus, where the honeymoon will be spent. The large number of presents received, including several cheques, vouched the esteem in which the young couple are held.

Opera "Pandora" Brilliant Success.

There was a crowded audience at the Casino Theatre last night when the curtain rose on the opening scene of the opera "Pandora," which was produced by the pupils and ex-pupils of the city schools under the direction of Mesdames Hutton and Cooper. Included in those present were His Lordship Bishop White, Miss Harris, Capt. Campbell, A.D.C., several clergymen and Christian Brothers. The opera while of a highly classical nature, is light and abounds in humor. The solos and choruses were rendered by the performers in a manner unequalled by the professional. In the chorus singing the blending of rich young voices accompanied by an orchestra, the best heard in the city for many years, was all that one could desire. There was an entire absence of that indistinct enunciation which is so annoying and which is all too prevalent with our local singers. The principal characters were taken by Misses Kavanagh, Vincent, Ellis, Herder and Little Miss Collins all of whom performed in a manner most pleasing. The dancing by Miss Jean Herder and the Junior girls was an exhibition of art-movement rarely seen in the city. Solos were nicely rendered by Misses R. Duder and A. McGrath, while Master Bradshaw's recitation "Censor" simply brought down the house. While we would delight in giving a full description of this most excellent opera we are mindful of the fact that such an account would remove the joy of anticipation from the minds of those who will attend to-night's performance. The proceeds are in aid of the W.P.A. and Jensen Camp funds. To the promoters and performers we extend our congratulations.

FRENCH CAPTURE PRISONERS.

PARIS, June 12. The French troops have made further advances around Belloy and St. Maur, and have captured four hundred additional prisoners, some cannon and machine guns, according to the official statement to-night. They have also recaptured Montcourt and part of Busieres, north of the Marne. The French troops were withdrawn east of the Oise along the lines of Bally, Tracy, Le Val and Nampcel, under the protection of covering detachments without the enemy being aware of the movement. While most of the German attacks were repulsed, the enemy succeeded in getting a foothold on the southern bank of the Matz River, occupying the village of Melcocoq and adjoining heights.

BRITISH TRANSPORT SUNK.

NEW YORK, June 12. The British transport Ausonia, owned by the Cunard Steamship Co., has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine, several hundred miles from the British coast, while on her way westward. Ninety members of her crew were picked up by another steamer eastward bound and landed on the English coast. Search is being made for forty more of her crew, who are reported missing. The Ausonia was a steel four-masted steamship of 8,153 gross tons, built at Newcastle, England, in 1907, for the cabin and immigrant trade between London and Canada.

Goodyear Quality
Lowers the Cost-per-Mile

Goodyear Value does not stop at fair prices—or rather, it does not begin at any price.

Long mileage is the first aim of the Goodyear factories and excess mileage is the aim of Goodyear Service Stations and Dealers everywhere. We believe that there is not another tyre manufactured today that will give so low a cost-per-mile as the new type Goodyear.

We believe it from our own experience, and because we have seen it proven by figures gathered from many sources.

You can make your decreased tyre-cost-per-mile, through fitting Goodyears to your car, offset your increased petrol-cost-per-mile.
