The Challenge of Fear.

Driven to bay the least courageous denizen of the forest will turn and attack in a final effort to overcome its foe; but it does not issue any challenge of fear. It simply turns and attacks its pursuer blindly and with the hope—not of victory—but of at least diverting its enemy and eventually making its escape. Though sometimes it will fight to the death against long odds. The human animal when in a tight corner from which it knows there is no release, excepting by going under in an unequal struggle, often blusters and roars in order that it may strike a semblance of fear into the heart of its attacker, and so cause it to desist. Such to-day is the attitude of Mr. Coaker, such the attitude of his own personally governed and directed newspaper. The note of the challenge of fear crept into the defiance of the North, trumpeted by the organ on Monday. It is the last word, the final defiance of a lost cause, a cause conceived in the brain of a genius, but carried on by the same genius under the intoxicating influence of power. A cause born and nurtured under the most beneficent conditions, but abused and destroyed because of an ambition that overleaped itself. The cause of Unionism was a great and grand one. The principles enunciated at the inception of the Fishermen's Protective Union were beyond cavil or criticism. They were in a class all by themselves, and were worthy of subscription to by any man of intelligence. But the institution developed into a riot, an orgy of power and autocracy, and the moment the true principles became undermined by the introduction of elements foreign to its original constitution, that moment dated the beginning of the end.

It has been part—if not the whole—of the policy of the leaders of the Fishermen's Protective Union to let no moment pass without impressing upon the members of that organization the astounding falsehood that it is the desire of a certain class to kill that Union. Such an expressed sentiment is but the diseased thought, put in words, of a jaundiced brain, a brain which did not possess the forethought to visualise far enough ahead the magnificent work that could be performed by the uniting, under a properly formed executive, of certain classes, imbued with the sole desire of improving and enlarging certain conditions of life under which they labored, and which they desired to advance and cultivate. For that was the original object aimed at in the formation of the Fishermen's Protective Union. We challenge the denial of this assertion; from the President down to the junior member. But amelioration of living conditions did not suit the book of those who were elected to leading offices. They grasped after the sceptre of power and power can only be gained in Newfoundland through domination in politics. Such was the thought of the men controlling the administration and movements of the F.P.U. and these men so imposed their personality upon other and inferior men to them that at length the Fishermen's Protective Union, from a commercial institution, became erected into the most formidable political body that ever was seen in Newfoundland. Politics, Commercialism, Benevolence, and Unionism were welded together, and the weld held for a time. The first sign of weakening came when men long in public life uttered a warning, that the entrance of the F.P.U., as an organization, working under a Constitution and with hundreds of Councils throughout the island, into politics, governed autocratically by its President and having its said Constitution framed to meet political exigencies, was a menace to freedom of government. From that time it has been the one aim of the leaders of the Union to impress upon their followers that there has been a desire on the part of all non-unionists to destroy the F.P.U., its President and its commercial ramifications. Nothing could be, or can be, farther from the truth. If the Union has been killed, the murder has been done by the one man in whom members placed implicit confidence, and the story will be heard in thunder tones as the noise of the fall of the Fish Regulations reverberates amongst the hills of the hundreds of fishing settlements in Newfoundland.

Police Court.

Assaulted the Police.—A man was charged with being drunk and disorderly in his mother's house, and with assaulting the police. The defendant hit one of the policemen who went to arrest him and temporarily stunned him. His Honor said the police were there for our protection and to enforce law and order, and they must be upheld in the discharge of their duty. He fined the defendant $20 or 30 days.

In For Sealing.—A foreign seaman who was in for safekeeping, said his ship was in the stream and he couldn't get aboard last night. He was discharged.

C. L. B. C. Dance.

The At Home, which the N.C.O.'s of the C.L.B. Cadets are holding on Friday night in the C.C.C. Hall, promises to be a big success. The organizers have chosen a particularly suitable day for the dance, as Saturday is a whole holiday. Moreover, owing to the shops being open on Friday night, dancing will not begin until 10 o'clock. The music will be provided by the full Battalion Band, under the able direction of Capt. A. Morris. Refreshments will be on sale during the evening and an excellent supper will be served by the Ladies' Auxiliary in the manner for which they have already been noted. It is the intention of the Non-Coms. to make this At Home an annual affair.

FUGITIVE BATTERS TWO MEN.
From the particulars learned of an affair which happened at Argentina a few days ago, it would seem that the aggressor, a powerful man of about 200 lbs. weight, seriously injured his opponents so much, so that they had to come on here for treatment. The injured men are Thomas Kelly and his brother, ex-Constable P. Kelly. The aggressor is a man named Cooney. From the reports to hand it appears that Cooney entered a dance hall and made an attack on Thomas Kelly, knocking him down, and then jumping on him. Kelly received a compound leg fracture and had his face badly battered. His chest is also seriously injured, and it is likely he will have to go to hospital for treatment. Ex-Constable Paul Kelly, who interferred to save his brother, had his face also badly battered, and was obliged to run from his assailant. A summons has been issued against Cooney and he will be tried at Placentia before Magistrate O'Reilly. Counsel from the city has been engaged to take the case.

Presented Dr. Chase's Prize.

On Monday Mr. Gerald Doyle presented Miss P. Florence Miller of Top-sail with a voice-phone, awarded that young lady for first place in the great Dr. Chase Almanac Competition. The instrument is a splendid one, and worth several hundreds of dollars. A large number of residents of the settlement assembled to witness the presentation and compliment the fortunate young lady.

O'Toole, Mrs. Pike, W. Ryan, Chas. Stanley.

Numerous Protests.

Seeing the numerous protests that have come to the city from every hamlet in the country against the Fishery Regulations it is small wonder that the Government was forced to move. It is said that an armful of such letters of protest have come to the Board of Trade and they are from nearly every settlement between Godroy on the West to Outwell in Notre Dame Bay.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

MILITARY POLICY APPROVED.
LONDON, April 19.
The British Government approves fully the general policy of military Governors in Ireland. It was declared in the House of Commons to-day by Austen Chamberlain, Government Leader. Asked whether the policy existed, of official reprisals by Crown forces in Ireland, Chamberlain replied, "It is within the discretion of military Governors in martial law areas to direct the carrying out of punishment on the districts in which outrages have been committed. The imposition and collection of fines is a legitimate and recognised feature of martial law, but as far as my information goes, occasions on which such fines are imposed are very few. The general policy pursued by military Governors in Ireland has the full approval of the Government."

TIME LIMIT SET.
PARIS, April 19.
Allied reparations commission announced to-day that it had given Germany until April 22 to transfer gold holdings of the Reich Bank to the Coblenz and Cologne branches of that bank. If Germany refuses to comply with the ultimatum, it states it will require the immediate delivery of the gold to the commission itself. The transfer of gold, the commission explained, will not permit the German Government to dispose of it without authority from the commission.

ST. LAWRENCE RIVER OPENED.
QUEBEC, April 19.
The steamship Manola of the Canada Steamship Lines was the first boat up the St. Lawrence this season, passing here on her way to Montreal at four o'clock this morning.

NOT WORTH A HOLIDAY.
BERLIN, April 19.
All roads led out of Berlin to Potsdam to-day, where tremendous crowds gathered to witness the funeral of former Empress Augusta Victoria. Officially Berlin was not taking a holiday, and neither the National or Prussian Government were represented at the ceremony.

MADE NEW RECORD.
BOSTON, April 19.
The American Marathon, carrying practically the road racing championship of United States, for twenty five miles, was won to-day by Frank Zuns of Newark, N.J. He made a new record for this event, his time being two hours, eighteen minutes and fifty seven and three-fifths seconds. The previous record was two hours, twenty one minutes, eighteen and one-fifth seconds, made in 1915 by Mike Ryan of New York. Charles Mellor of Chicago was second.

SENSATIONAL ARRESTS.
YARMOUTH, April 19.
Mrs. Eleanor Perry was arrested to-day on a warrant, charging her with the murder of her husband, Captain George Henry Perry, who was clubbed to death on the doorstep of his home, here, on the night of Feb. 26th. Mansfield Ross, an intimate friend of the Perry family, was also arrested, charged with being an accessory after the fact. The first arrest made was that of Mansfield Ross, who was taken in custody by Detective Kennedy, and lodged in the county jail. Ross when taken, remarked, "This is rather sudden."

MRS. LLOYD GEORGE ON THE HUSTINGS.
LONDON, April 20.
An echo of Lloyd George's famous speech, accusing British Labor leaders of revolutionary designs, was heard at Bedford, yesterday, when Mrs. Lloyd George, speaking in the interest of "Iron, Frank K. Lawrence, Testmaster General, in the Bedford bye-election said, "We have beaten Prussianism, and we must now prepare to beat Russianism. The disciples of Lenin and Trotsky are among us, bent on destroying our cherished institutions and bringing disaster upon the nation."

CLERICAL TRANSFERS.
TORONTO, April 20.
Among transfers made by the Methodist Conference Transfer Committee were: Interim, Harry Boyle, Newfoundland, to London; Probationers, Arthur Blunden, Newfoundland, to Nova Scotia; H. A. Gillingham, Newfoundland, to Montreal; C. Winsor, Newfoundland, to Nova Scotia, Fort Adams, Newfoundland, to Nova Scotia; Charles H. Johnson, Nova Scotia, to Newfoundland; A. P. Marsh, Newfoundland, to Hamilton.

FAMOUS CHURCH DESTROYED.
MONTREAL, April 19.
A general fire alarm was sent out to-night for blaze that destroyed the church of the Nativity on the corner of St. Germain and Ontario Streets East, this city with an estimated loss of eight hundred thousand dollars of which $150,000 is covered by insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown. No lives were lost. The parish priest, Rev. H. Langevin, was in the Presbytery suffering from paralysis, and was carried out at the commencement of the outbreak, as his residence was menaced by the fire. Fifty or more dwellings on St. Germain de Beaupre and De-very Streets were threatened by flames necessitating the turning in of three alarms. The church is one of the largest in Montreal, and was a reproduction of the Cathedral of Florence, Italy. It was built of stone over a wooden interior, which accounted for the spread of the fire. The tower is nearly two hundred feet high, and firemen had great difficulty in fighting flames there. Every appliance and all the apparatus possessed by the Montreal Fire Department was called out to fight the flames, but it was impossible to save the church.

TWO RESOLUTIONS.
CHICAGO, April 20.
Immediate recognition of Ireland as "a free and sovereign state," was asked of United States in resolutions adopted by the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, here yesterday. Another resolution extended sympathy and support of Indian independence.

GOING TO ENGLAND.
LONDON, April 20.
Owing to the inability of Lloyd George to leave the country during the present industrial crisis, Aristide Briand, French Premier, will cross the Channel next Saturday for a preliminary conference on the Allied plans on the question of reparations.

WILL NOT BE CANED.
MONTREAL, April 20.
The Harbor Commissioners' gold-headed cane, for the first arrival here from the ocean, will not be presented to the captain of the Manola, which docked here last night from Newfoundland, because the Canada Steamship Lines boat is not an ocean boat.

A PARIS REPORT.
PARIS, April 20.
British and French military leaders will confer at Hythe, next Sunday, with Premiers Briand and Lloyd George, with relation to the military penalties to be placed on Germany, newspapers here say.

NEW DEMANDS.
LONDON, April 20.
Demands for a National Wage Board and a National Wage Pool have been re-affirmed by a large majority of miners' committees throughout the country, the Labor Herald declares in a statement last night declaring Lloyd George did not understand a National Wage Pool, and his address in the House did not carry the possibility of settlement any further.

GERMAN WILLNESS.
PARIS, April 20.
The Temps to-day publishes a despatch under Cologne date, giving what purports to be a proposition, which the newspaper says, Germany will make to Allies. Germany proposes it is said to pay the Allies three billion gold marks during ten years, and also yearly payments equal to one fifth of the value of German exports to Allied countries, during the preceding year. In order to realize the sum, Germany proposes to issue a loan of ten billion gold marks, upon which she is prepared to pay interest up to five per cent. Commenting on this despatch the Temps says Berlin is convinced that these terms will be rejected by the Allies, but insists on a public presentation, hoping that a part of opinion abroad will consider them sufficient to bring pressure to bear on the Allies not to occupy the Ruhr region.

Dear Sir—
I am a resident of St. John's, and have been a member of the Fishermen's Protective Union for many years. I have seen the Union grow from a small group of men to a powerful organization. I have seen it fight for the rights of the fisherman, and I have seen it bring about many improvements in the lives of the people. I am proud to be a member of the Union, and I am proud to see it grow and prosper. I am sure that it will continue to do so for many years to come.
