Philadelphia Raises $1,600,000-More Than Double Her Shore

Philadelphia, Dec. 80.—At the services in old St. George's Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday night it was announced that Philadelphia's contribution to the great $20,000,000 fund which is being raised for the general good of the denomination will be more than twice what she was expected to Ex-Postmaster John Field said Philadelphia's part in the fund will be $1,-600,000, whereas she was originally asked to give $780,000.

The Rev. Dr. Hughes, pastor of the church, said the $1,600,000 had been raised in various ways, many contributions coming from university boys and from former Philadelphia Methodists in all parts of the country. One wealthy member of St. George's Church gave his check for $600,000. The fund is to be used in paying off debts on Methodist churches all over the country and for evangelization.

Thousands of Cattle on Colorado Ranches Caught by Blizzards.

Denver, Col., Dec. 31. - Authorities on live stock say the loss of the last week in Eastern Colorado and Western Nebraska will not be less than 5,-

More than ever this year the humane society is agitated by reports from the cattle ranges and the suburbs of the cities and towns of Colorado, where animals are left to starve and freeze. Out on the range, near Akron, the big cattle companies have permitted their stock to be caught out where grass has disappeared and water is scarce, so that when a blizzard comes the animals go down in droves. The cattle are dying on the prairie in sight of Burlington railroad tracks, and a broad expanse of country is dotted with starved cattle. When the cold weather set in some time ago the range was poor, and thouds of head of stock were still there fore the bad weather, their owners illing to take them in and supply, winfeed. The first blizzard ran the death rate well up. Other storms have come since then, and what starvation has not accomplished exposure has. The wolves are fat and vigorous.

Death of a Noted Soubrette.

New York, Dec. 30. - Imogene Tracy, one of the best-known of sou-brettes of a generation age, is dead, as the result of a fall downstairs at her home in this city. Miss Tracy took up the part of Topsy in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," after the role had been creat-ed by Marie Bates, and played it for many years. She was the one chosen to play the part in Europe at the time a fund was raised to have the play produced there.

Kicking About His Gown.

Ottawa, Dec. 31. — Members of the Dominion Methodist Church opposed to the pastor wearing a gown held a meeting here and there was a discussion of the trouble. While some advocated leaving the church without further with it since early life wanted to go slowly. It is understood that it was decided to wait on Rev. Dr. Rose and ask him to consider the objections of those opposed to the gown. Twenty-Nine Starved to Death.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 31.—News has just reached here that John H. Rouse starved to death in the wilds of Central Bolivia in June, 1900, while on sn exploring trip. But one man out of a party of thirty escaped. Rouse was one of the pioneer mining men of Washington, coming first to this section in 1878. His last trip he was one of a party representing the Belivia Government. His friends will ask the department of state to investigate his death.

ECONOMIC WASTE

5,000 Tots Under 14 Years in Chicago Factories.

ADDRESS BY MISS JANE ADDAMS

Woman Occupies the Pulpit at Union Church Meeting-An Appeal for Reform.

Chicago, Dec. 31 .- "There are 5,000 children under the age of 14 years who are working in the sweatshops and factories of Chicago," declared Miss Jane Addams Sunday exening before a union meeting of the congregations of South and Hyde Park Churches, which filled the University Congregational edifice, Fifty-sixth street and Monroe avenue. Miss Addams' address, which took the place of the regular sermon, was on the subject, "The Economic Waste of Child Labor." She said:

"The present law prohibits a child less than 14 years old from being employed in factories, where their lives are ruined and wasted away, but the startling fact that the law is being disregarded in such a flagrant manner by employers and parents calls upon us and all who have the welfare of the child at heart to act. We propose to act so that the present laws will be amended at this session of the Legislature. To do this we realize that we must get after the Legislators before and not after they go to Springfield. CHILDREN EAGERLY SOUGHT.

"Never before in the history of the world has the labor of the little child been so valuable and so sought after. This happened with the introduction of machinery which does the skilled part of the work as long as it is fed. It was found that children could feed hese machines and that they cost little in wages, and so in this era hundreds of thousands are employed throughout the country. "Labor has never been so empty of education as is this class. Most of the lads who were compelled to work in the last generations knew something of the social life, saw something, did something and were not mere automatons. Now they are nothing but slaves for money. Money is the only thing they see in their work, for it is a question in many instances of how much can be accomplished in order to earn a small wage. Because, too, of the invention of machinery for children to operate they must work harder and under a tension that many of their elders could not stand.

PROTECTION NECESSARY. "Now, if never before, is it necessary to protect the child. We must see that the morals and the muscles are not abused before they are ready to stand the strain being imposed. For the sake of future generations the child must have morals and must not be weakened and dragged down by con- whereabout of their money. This story, stant toil day and night, when sleep which has already been published, or an opportunity to breathe pure air showed why such nervous fear overare essential to proper development.
"In Alabama and South Carolina there is no child labor law. In an investigation in factories in those states found many children of tender years would never think of doing. task.

toiling hours which their parents instance I found a 5-year-old girl working all night at a most irksome Examinations developed that the working children were less in stature and in weight than those of the same age who, though in the same station in life, were allowed the privileges of attending schools and of living away from the terrible atmosphere and grind of the workshop. EFFECT ON PARENTS

"Not only is child labor ruinous to the children, but it affects the parents for the bad. Judging from facts under my observation in the vicinity of Hull House, I find that the Italian father fresh from his outdoor labors in the old country, tries to earn a livelihood for his family during the first year here. He cannot speak the language, is clumsy and finds no work in the facroad gang, but at the end of the season looks forward only with dread to his next year's work, for he is little liked among his American laborers.

HOW TO DRINK MILK

"Probably he gets work with a rail-

Why It Disagrees With Some People.

When one needs a reviving stimulant after exhaustion nothing can rival the effects of hot milk sipped slowly. Some people say they cannot digest milk, and these are the people who drink it down quickly, so that the digestive acids, in playing around it, form large curds which give trouble before they can be absorbed. The right way is to sip the milk in small amounts, so that each mouthful, as it descends into the stomach, is surrounded by the gastric fluid, and when the whole glassful is down the effect is that of a spongy mass of curds, in and out of which the keen gastric juices course, speedily doing their work of turning the curd into peptones that the tissues can take up.

To make sure of complete digestion

take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets afterwards, as the pepsin and diastase they contain increase the quantity and efficiency of the gastric juices and supply the natural digestive ferments which all weak stomachs

Miss Anna Folger, a professional nurse, speaking of the value of Stuart's Tablets in convalescence, "In adult patients recovering from severe illness, and especially in children where milk disagrees, one or two tablets overcome any difficulty and seem to strengthen the stomach in a ter, the Pullman conductor, and remarkably short time. I myself have one passenger, A masked man used them daily for years, when my own digestion has suffered from the irregularities and loss of sleep consequent upon my occupation.

"Not only children and invalids, but professional people and others whose lar, will find Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets of the greatest value in keeping up the tone and digestive vigor of the stomach.'

They contain the active digestive ferments the lack of which is really the only cause of indigestion and stomach troubles, and the regular daily use of them after meals wil probably cure any case of stomach trouble except such as arises from cancer or

He finds that his sons and daughters learn much more readily than he and that they speak English far better. It OF CHILD LABOR and the result is that hundreds of children in Chicago are now supporting ablanced parents.

CITES AN INSTANCE "One instance particularly brought this home to me. An Italian father came to me in Hull House and cried over the death of his 12-year-old girl. His grief was genuine, but to me it did not appeal so strongly after he said: 'And to think that she was 12 years old, and in two years could have helped to support me. Now I must wait for four years till the next one is old enough."

"It has come to a point where parents in that quarter of the city be-lieve it not only perfectly proper to send these little tots to work all day, and oftentimes all night, but think it right to swear falsely to affidavits declaring an 11 or 12 years old youngster 14 years of age, so that the law will not prevent the immature little hands from toil."

OUTLINES AMENDMENTS. The effect on the product of this cheap labor, and on the market, Miss Addams dwelt upon at length before she outlined the proposed amendments to the child labor law. The Legislature will be asked to pass a bill to prohibit all children less than 16 years old from working unless they can read and write. If the child is educated to this extent at the age of 14 no objections will be raised to its working. Such a provision is in existence in seventeen states, Miss Addam's said, and it compels parents to give the children a partial education. Other provisions in the bill were explained as prohibiting all night work for children under 16 years of age, and demanding more than the simple affidavit of the parent to prove age. Miss Addams urged co-operation in the campaign begun to secure moral sup-

WESLEY WATSON'S DEATH

Samuel Watson Exonerated by Coroner's Jury.

How the Brothers Were Subjected to Constant Menace—The Verdict.

Brantford, Dec. 29.—The inquest into the circumstances attending the tragic death of Wesley Watson, which occurred last Tuesday morning at his home near Middleport, was resumed this morning in the hall of that village. The session occupied about five hours and seven witnesses in all were heard, the chief evidence being that presented by James Watson, a brother of the deceased. Samuel Watson was not present, the authorities deeming his appearance unnecessary. Tomorrow afternoon he will be taken before Squire Leitch of this city.

THE FORMER ATTACK. James Watson told of the attack on himself and brother by burglars on Nov. 22, who subjected them to ture to obtain the knowledge of the came the brothers on Monday night last, when their brother was trying to gain admittance, that they jumped out of the upstair window and fled in spite of the fact that both carried loaded

HID THEIR MONEY. As to why they buried their money, the evidence was that they had on several occasions sought to have their landlord repair the buildings on the farm, but unsuccessfully, and during the present fall decided to withhold the rent of $500 until such time as the repairs demanded were made. Fearing that the landlord could garnishee the money if they had it in the bank, they withdrew it all. This with the amount derived from the sale of their chattels. amounted to about $2,600. They deposited this sum in two fruit jars, buried them in different parts of the farm. They told a few persons about doing so. The burglars secured the dict:

smaller far. Ever since the brothers have lived in a state of nervous fear: The jury returned the following ver-lict: "We find that Wesley Watson met his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by Samuel Watson, during a period of irresponsibility induced by excessive nervous and mental bordering on mania due to the maltreatment previously inflicted by burglars, and the belief that they were again to be subjected to worse abuse by the same parties. We find no evidence of malice or premeditation, and believe that he fully supposed his victim was a burglar."

ALLEGED BURGLARS CAUGHT. Alfred Hanley and Edward Ray were arrested in Ancaster Township yesterday on a charge of entering the home in Middleport of Samuel and James Watson, gagging and binding the two brothers and robbing them. They were arraigned, pleaded guilty and were remanded until Wednesday.

James Watson has sworn out an information against Hanley and Hay. They stoutly maintain their innocence. Bail was accepted for each of the two men on securities of $400 each.

LONE ROBBER FOILED

He Made a Desperate Attempt to Hold Up a Train.

Louisville, Dec. 31. - A bold attempt was made by a lone robber to hold up the New Orleans - Cincinnati northbound express of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, as the train was entering Louisville, yesterday. The highwayman secured but little booty and is believed to have been shot by Conductor Keene.

Keene was going through the sprang at Keene from a dark corner, and commanded him to throw up his hands. Keene grappled with the truder. A bullet from the robber's pistol stunned him, and the highwayman pulled the signal cord. While the train was slowing down he robbed the Pullman conductor and a passenger, securing $25 from the latter. As the train stopped the robber left the car. Conductor Keene meanwhile recovered, and having secured a rifle

ant. He fired several shots and the robber uttered a cry of pain. He disappeared in the darkness, however, and so far has evaded pursuit. In the Punjab the biggest medical ulceration.

Venezuelan President Behaved Shamefully.

SCANDALOUS SCENE IN VICTORIA

He Indorses Solomon's Natrimonial Ideas-Rebels Defeated-Towns Recaptured.

Chicago, Dec. 31.-The staff correspondent of the News in Venezuela

In the midst of an open-air fiesta at La Victoria yesterday the Daily News correspondent asked President Castro whether he would apologize to the British and German Governments in order to secure arbitration and a withdrawal of the blockade from Venezuelan ports. He answered amid the uproarious applause of his friends, by whom he was surrounded: "Gen. Castro has nothing for which to apologize. He is not accustomed to apologizing to people whom he has given no cause for offense. The apology should be to him." Everything is peaceful at La Victoria and the furious revelry of the Christmas season is over at last. The revelry was extraordinary while it lasted. Gen Castro's high-rolling propensities, regardless of the serious problems which confront him, were given full sway. Wine, women and song were in evidence on every hand. The president having left Caracas for La Victoria for the purpose of getting away from the problems of state surrendered himself completely to boisterous festivity. At a ball which was graced by the presence of the head of the Govern-ment a remarkable scene took place. made an excited speech, in which he praised the household arrangement of King Solomon and expressed the wish that the laws of Venezuela permitted the same kind of thing. In short, the president's conduct has been scandalous. He has attended dances until 3 o'clock each morning and indulged in so many other vagaries that madness is hinted at by persons of more serious disposi-

REBELS DEFEATED

Caracas, Dec. 31. - Darquisimete, capital of the State of Lara, and the towns of San Caros and Tinaquillo. which for some time past have been in the possession of the Venezuelan revolutionists, have been recaptured by Government forces. The revolutionists at Darquisimete were under the command of Generals Solagnie and Penaloza. They evacuated the town after losing 112 men killed and 325 wounded. There was hard fighting in the streets and suburbs of Darquisimete for two days. The Government forces were commanded by General Ceferino Castillo. It transpires that President Castro's recent visit to La Victoria was for the purpose of conducting personally by telegraph the operations of his forces at Darquisimete and this vicinity, and appears to be a direct result of his visit. It is a most severe blow for the revolu-

Everything was quiet when the steamer left Porto Cabello. The town had been fired on, but very little damage was done. The blockade was not in force when the steamer left. She took on cargo at La Guairia and Porto Cabello. At Port Au Prince, Dec. 23, the date of sailing, the people were having a grand celebration in honor of the new president, General Nord.

BOMBARDMENT THREATENED. London, Dec. 31.-A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Willemstad, Curacoa, dated yesterday, says: "The postmaster of Maracaiboo, Venezuela, having detained correspondence belonging to German merchants, the German cruiser Falke threatens, in consequence, to bombard the town."

Robbed the Smelter.

Rossland, B. C., Dec. 31. - Peter Swanson, proprietor of the Office saloon at Northport, has been arrested and pleaded guilty to having goldbearing matte in his possession stolen from the Northport smelter. Officials declare that the plant has been plundered since its inception, and that many thousands of dollars have been stolen during this period.
