DEATH OF A CLERGYMAN

Rev. P. W. Jones, of Oll City, Succumbs After Two Months' lilners.

An old and respected Methodist minister, Rev. P. W. Jones, of Oil City, died yesterday afternoon after an illness of about two months. Death was due to hemorrhages attendant upon a general break-up of the system. Mr. Jones was born in Copenhagen, Elgin County, 65 years ago. For the past 38 years he had been one of the most valued members of the London Conference of the Methodist Church. He is survived by his wife, two daughters and two sons. The funeral will be held at 8 o'clock on Saturday morning from the parsonage in Oil City.

The fine large show windows, containing some of the handsomest furniture ever seen here, always attract the attention of passers-by. The firm opened up here four months ago, and the business that has been done has been phenomenal. They have obtained and filled successfully many contracts for furnishing large buildings, among which may be mentioned the new armories, the Travelers' Club, the new Bernard House, and a large hotel in The interior of the armories, furnished throughout by the company with weathered oak, has been repeatedly admired by soldiers and citizens. They were finally caught at Teresa There are three large floors in the store stocked with an immense variety of high-grade furniture. The store is the largest of its kind this side of Toronto,

The displays in the windows, usually changed two or three times a week, are magnificent. At present in the east window is shown some Verni-Martin, hand-painted, gold furniture, part of a consignment just received from New York, and some designs in Rockwood mahogany. In the west window is a fine display of leather and golden oak library furniture. The lines of sideboards and curtains on the ground floor, parlor furniture on the second, particularly fine. The grandfathers' clocks and go-carts also deserve special mention, but it is hard to particularize when the very best furniture that the States and Canada can produce is gathered together.
