CINCINNATTI BEAT CUBS

Siapnicka, of Chicago, Touched for Ten Safeties in Concluding Session.

New York, Oct. 12.—The National League closed today with the Giants dropping two games to the Brooklyns, McGraw had his full strength out in the first game, and met with a shuttout, due to the admirable pitching of Ragon. The second game was a mixture of carelessness and farce.

Only 300 Spectators Saw the Final Game at Ohio Town.

Cincinnati, Oct. 12.—In spite of the splendid weather and Columbus Day, the smallest crowd of the year witnessed the wind-up of the season today. Hardly 300 paid admirssions were recorded, so that the Cubs did not even earn their travelling expenses. The game was uninteresting and loosely played throughout, Cincinnati, oven by a score of 4 to 3. Bescher's base-running and Mitchell's batting featured. The score:

MARQUARD.

MATHEWSON

MARQUARD

MATHEWSON

BY GRANTLAND RICE.

Is needed.

It is on the firing line that the greater part of the battle will settle, so the comparison here is worth closer attention than any other factor of the fight. There is no question but that McGraw expects to win this series, with his great right-hander, and his equally renowned southpaw. Nor is there any question but that Connie Mack fears this pair more than any other factor of Giant play.

Mathewson is always at his best in other factor of Giant play.

Mathewson is always at his best in the closing stages of the fight. He reaches his greatest height in a post-season clash. He has been looking better each passing week for a month, and by mid-October expects to be every whit as good as he was in 1905. Bender at his best is one of the great pitchers of the game. The Indian has a world of speed and one of the fastest jumps in the business to his smoke ball.

But the Carlisle star is no Mathew-

But the Carlisle star is no Mathewson, He lacks the steadiness and dependability of Mathewson.

pendability of Mathewson.

Mathewson also has this in reserve—the knowledge that in 27 rounds not a Philadelphian has crossed the plate against his famed fadeaway and perfect control. He will face a harder pitting team than he did then—a younger and a faster one, but when Mathewson is right there is only one answer.

Mathewson has the edge on Ben-dor, and Marquard is a much better pitcher than Jack Coombs.

pitcher than Jack Coombs.

The one man who gave Mack's people the hardest light and the bulk of trouble through the waning campaign now drifting by was Vean Gregg, the star left-hander of the Cleveland Naps, Gregg stopped Mack's club effectively more than once. Marquard is much along Gregg's type. He has even more smoke than the Cleveland marvel, and as great a break to his fast curve. In the last few months, the big left-hander has gained fine control, and is probably one of the hardest slabmen of the game to beat. Coombs has drawn a season in and Action of the game to beat.

Coombs has drawn a season in and out pitching—good in streaks and only saved at other times by the rugged batting of his clean support. At his best Coombs is far from having Marquard's classic assortment of shoots and speed. He has drawn more experience and may be a trifle steadier under fire, but the Giant southpaw has supreme confidence in his ability to beat Mack's club, and this will mean a lot.

For in one short series a slabman mean a lot.

WO slabuen from e a c h Plank, for Ames like Mathewson is at the bulk of the bulk of the burden when the Giants and Athletics come head on in the series which starts Saturday.

MCGraw and when Marquard steps on to Marquard steps of McGraw's and when Marquard steps on McGraw will hold besitancy in saying that Mack's slash.

To beat Mack's club, and this will mean a lot.

Ames will tank upon a par with work at higher speed than through the series a slabman can afford to take longer chances and can ford to take longer chances and work at higher speed than through the season with a long, hard stretch ahead.

Between Bender and Coombs, the Giant mechine fears the Indian more. Bender will he faced with great respect. The Indian when right has great speed and an effective jump, which is hard to massage with the speed with the starts Saturday.

McGraw gave both men a full deeper interest to the proceedings.
