WILL BLESS ORGAN

Mgr. Aylward to Preach Sermon on Sunday Evening Next. [Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, July 11.—The new organ in the Church of Our Lady of Mercy will be blessed next Sunday evening by Mgr. Aylward, of St. Peter's Cathedral, London, at 7 o'clock. Mgr. Aylward will also preach the sermon of the evening. The new organ is a splendid instrument, and an exceptionally good program has been prepared for the evening.

BIRDMEN TO GIVE EXHIBITION.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, July 10.—The five hydro-aeroplanes on their way here in the 900-mile flight from Chicago to Detroit, and who will arrive some time next Monday, will give an exhibition at Port Huron before continuing on their way. [Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, July 11.—Following a lingering illness the death occurred at his home on Charles street east of Geo. Worboys, who had been a resident of Ingersoll for upwards of two years. He was in his 56th year and leaves a widow. The funeral will take place at the Ingersoll rural cemetery.

ROWELL IN NORTH GREY SHOWS UP WHITNEY GOVT. NEGLIGENCE

Had Lots of Time to Pass Legislation for Big Interests, but None for the Farmers or Citizens—Proudfoot Charges Were Dealt With.

Owen Sound, July 10.—As a result of the crowd filling the hall at Shallow Lake so full that the Liberal candidates were unable to obtain admission, Mr. N. W. Rowell and John McQuaker, the Liberal candidate in North Grey, decided to hold an open-air meeting, so that all could hear fully the details of charges made by Mr. Proudfoot and the outrageous conduct of the Government in whitewashing the accusations made. Mr. Rowell was given a splendid reception.

Mr. Rowell confined his discussion to the needs of agriculture, the failure of the Government to enact modern social and industrial legislation, instancing the delay over securing the workmen's compensation legislation, tax reform, which affected both farmers and industrial workers alike, and lastly the temperance issue. [Special to The Advertiser.] At the outset of his remarks, Mr. Rowell said it was a pleasure to be able to come into the riding and speak on behalf of Mr. McQuaker. Mr. McQuaker was a candidate of whom any party might be proud. He was a man of sound convictions and of sound judgment. It would be his aim as a representative in the Legislature to support those measures which were for the good of the community no matter from what side of the House they emanated, and he would be sure to reject all proposals that did not commend themselves to his conscience as being in the best interests of his constituents.

A reference to the name of Hon. A. G. MacKay brought forth rounds of applause. Although it is considered a Tory stronghold, Mr. MacKay was as popular in Shallow Lake as in any other part of the riding. Mr. Rowell paid personal testimony to the hearty co-operation that he received from Mr. MacKay during the sessions they sat together in the House.

In a generous tribute to the former member for North Grey the Liberal leader said: "The Legislative Assembly has lost one of its ablest and most distinguished members by the removal of Mr. MacKay to Edmonton. No man on the Government side of the House was a match for him. I had the pleasure of working with him through one session of the Legislature. His experience, his advice and assistance were invaluable to me. They were always at my disposal. No two men could have worked more cordially together. No man in this riding regrets more than I do his removal to join that great company of Ontario's sons who are now the leaders in the professional, business, industrial and political life of the west. His removal is a great loss, not only to this riding, but to the whole Province. I am sure we all wish him success in the contest he has on hand at Athabasca Landing. You see he is engaged in the same struggle as I am in Ontario—fighting Tories, at least those who are not wise enough to support him. I know from his letters to me how interested he is in this fight, and how anxious he is for Mr. McQuaker's success. Had it not been for his own contest he would have planned to come down here and give a helping hand to his old friend and supporter, John McQuaker. (Applause.)

Mr. Cameron and his friends are making a great mistake when they are attempting to secure sympathy for Mr. Hanna and Sir James Whitney in the charges made against them by Mr. Proudfoot, one of their own party's warmest friends and strongest supporters, by suggesting that Mr. MacKay and Mr. Hanna were much in the same position—both parties in an association with the Hanna-Whitney charges is an insult to him and to his friends in this riding. Do you think that Mr. MacKay would have condoned the expunging from the records of the committee of the most vituperative and untrue charges? Do you think he would have condoned the blocking of the investigation in the committee of conceal the misconduct of the ministers, or that he would have approved the misconduct already confessed and exposed? Had he been in the House this session his arrangement of the Government's misconduct would have been one of the events of the year." (Cheers.)

Nothing to Conceal? Passing to the Proudfoot charges, which have been attacking such interest during the campaign, Mr. Rowell said any political leader who was worthy of the name would properly have demanded such an investigation as Mr. Proudfoot had. "What right has any man, any cabinet, or group of men, to spend your money and mine to decline to give an account of how that money has been expended or how it has been expended? If there was nothing to conceal, why hide it? I regret," he continued, "we did not have the splendid courage of Mr. MacKay to join with us in making that fight, which we maintained for the interest of the people." (Cheers.)

Farm Problems. Passing on to the Opposition program in the Legislature, Mr. Rowell, without amendment or qualification, reiterated the proposals that have been pressed upon the Government to secure effective assistance through the department of agriculture to aid the farmers of the Province. It was not for him to disparage the work that had already been done by the Government in the face of excessive competition, of industrial advancement and improved machinery, it was time the Government took active steps to bring to the use of the farmers such facilities as would make farm life more attractive and more profitable.

A Record of Negligence. In the realm of industrial legislation the record of the Government was one of negligence and indecision. The workmen, he went on, were seriously affected by the conditions of factories and shops, yet the Whitney Government was thoroughly remiss in its efforts to provide protective legislation for those who toiled from day to day in the great industrial plants of Ontario. The failure to gain workmen's compensation legislation stood out prominently as an evidence of unpardonable delay. Since 1907 promises had been made that something would be done, the workers all the while waiting in the hope that the promise would be carried out. Exasperated with the delay, the Industrial Banner, the organ of the labor unions, had declared against the "shameful betrayal" of the rights of the toilers by the "Autocrat of Queen's Park." The modern view of this great question was that a manufacturer should make the same provision for human wear and tear in his industry as he did for the wear and tear of his plant.

Tax Reform. In the last session of the Legislature, although the Government had no time to pass workmen's compensation legislation, still it had time to pass a number of other bills, and to grant big subsidies to railways in the north countries. Mr. Rowell showed how the question of tax reform was vital to the interest of the agricultural as well as the industrial workers. He demonstrated how under the present system of taxation the thrifty man who improves his property is penalized and the slothful man is encouraged in his slothfulness. He cited the city of Toronto as showing many instances of the injustices of the present system. Several Conservative and independent newspapers were quoted, showing that these journals were in favor of tax reform before they learned that Sir James Whitney was opposed to it. Mr. Rowell read articles from the Ottawa Citizen, the Ottawa Journal and other papers condemning the Whitney Government for delaying so long to introduce tax reform legislation.

PROUDFOOT AND HANNA WILL CROSS SWORDS ON SATURDAY

Recent Charges To Be Debated as Result of Arrangement Reached by Committees of Both Parties—Liberal to Speak First.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Owen Sound, July 11.—An arrangement has been reached between the Liberal and Conservative committees, by which Hon. W. J. Hanna and Mr. Wm. Proudfoot are to meet on the platform here on Saturday evening. The plan which has been accepted by the campaign managers of both parties is that Mr. Proudfoot will speak first, will be allowed forty-five minutes, Mr. Hanna will follow, speaking for an hour if he so desires, and Mr. Proudfoot will then be given fifteen minutes in which to reply, and Mr. Hanna will be allowed ten minutes in which to conclude, but he must not introduce any new material into the discussion.

The text of the Conservative letter accepting the proposed this afternoon is: "Our committee have gone into this matter carefully and while the privileges which you ask are unusual, keeping in view that it is our meeting, yet we accept the terms stated in your letter. We hope that this meeting will be an orderly and quiet meeting so that all the speakers will receive the best attention."

DOCTOR'S WIFE ADMITS FIRING $100,000 HOME

Mrs. Edith Rigby Gave Herself Up to the Police Voluntarily.

[Canadian Press.] Liverpool, July 11.—A dramatic confession of incendiaries was made by a well-known militant suffragette, Mrs. Edith Rigby, wife of a physician at Preston, to the magistrate sitting in the police court here today. Mrs. Rigby declared it was she who had on Tuesday this week burned down the country residence at Blivington, Lancashire, of Sir Wm. H. Lever, causing damage estimated at $100,000. She further confessed to being the perpetrator of the outrage at the Liverpool Cotton Exchange office, where a bomb exploded, but caused little damage.

Mrs. Rigby surrendered voluntarily to the police. When arraigned for the charges made against her, she pleaded guilty to her achievements, saying she wanted Sir William H. Lever to consider whether his house was more valuable as a show place than as a beacon lighted for the King and the country to see women suffering an insupportable grievance. She told the magistrate: "I lighted that beacon. I also placed the explosives in the Liverpool Cotton Exchange, how easy it is to procure them and to place them in public buildings. I might just as easily have blown up the Nelson monument. She was remanded for further hearing.

A Leading Worker. Mrs. Edith Rigby has been a member of the Women's Social and Political Union, the militant suffrage organization, and has taken a great part in public movements to promote the welfare of women. She has been imprisoned five times in connection with the suffrage movement and was on several occasions released owing to the breakdown of her health ensuing on "hunger strikes." Mrs. Rigby, in the course of her speech to the magistrate, said: "I chose the Liverpool Cotton Exchange because the cotton industry has been built up largely by women's labor. The merchants are willing to get power and wealth out of the labor of women, while the women themselves are denied the vote and citizenship. This is the first knock at the door. Under the 'cut-and-mouse' act one of the greatest women in the land is going to be done to death. If the Government is so ignorant to kill the women, this is a warning of what will follow."

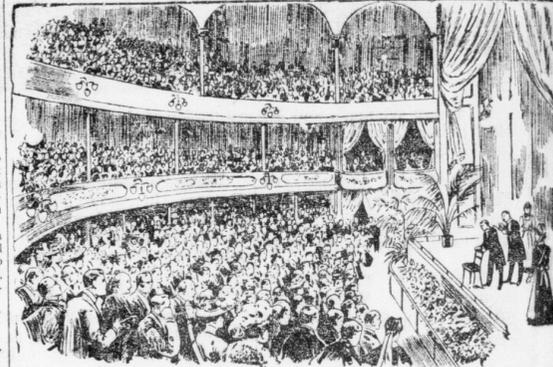

The police today raided the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union in Manchester and seized everything they could find.

HEAVY WESTERN RAINS ARE HELPING CROPS. Splendid Showers All Through Southern Manitoba Where It Had Been Very Dry. Winnipeg, July 10.—Throughout the Canadian prairie west copious rains fell today starting about noon and continuing well into the night. While the western crops are not, as a rule, in urgent need of rain, a few places like the Brandon district, Southern Manitoba and parts of Saskatchewan and Alberta have been suffering for lack of moisture. According to correspondents, however, today's precipitation improved the crop situation in these districts a hundredfold. The rain was not spasmodic, but from the first fall has been a steady, soaking downpour, with hardly a moderation throughout the day. Of all the principal western cities only Edmonton, Calgary and Regina reported "no rain," and of these Edmonton had a heavy fall last night, while at Calgary and Regina the sky is overcast with heavy clouds and a fall is imminent. From as far west as Nelson the "heavy rain" bulletin has been received. At midnight a slight decrease in the fall at some points is reported.

Charge of Homicide Against Governor [Canadian Press.] Havana, July 11.—Fear of popular excitement following the announcement of the indictment of General Ernesto Asbert, governor of Havana province, on the charge of homicide in connection with the death of General Armando Riva, chief of the Cuban national police, caused the Government to take rigorous precautions against the possibility of an outbreak. The military guards in the city were largely increased late last night. A squadron of rural guards encamped in the park, and troops of cavalry patrolled the streets throughout the night, while the police prohibited the gathering of more than three persons after midnight. President Menocal today signed a decree suspending General Asbert from his office as governor of Havana province.
