Hope Expressed That the City Council Will Send Question On To Citizens.

Members of the London Chamber of Commerce are strongly in favor of the commission form of city government according to their votes on the subject just made to the secretary. Only three members voted against it. A questionnaire was recently sent out by the secretary of the chamber who sought to feel the pulse of the organization in this matter and the result though not un-expected by the directors was even more solidly in favor of the scheme than they had hoped.

"There does not seem to be any real reason why the council should not put the matter before the voters this year," a member said. "I am sure that if a vote were taken it would reveal a tremendous majority in favor of commission govern-

"If this in an indication of the pub-lic's attitude toward it, the council will do harm to the city as well as themselves if they do not support the move," another member of the chamber said.

Members of the Chamber of Com merce hope the city council at this evening's session will be more favorably inclined toward the proposed commission form of government commended in the Brittain repor form of government rec

In All Except Few Places the Anti-Prohibitionists Gain

Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 8.—It is clear that prohibition is not advancing by leaps and bounds in Scotland. Judging from the results already compiled in the local option vote taken in 43 towns this week, the liquor dealers and their customers have every cause for satisfaction. In all except a few of money in his wallet. Higgins and places the "wets" not only defeated Pare were arrested shortly after the the teetotalers, but increased the victory they scored in the last contest three years ago.

The utmost efforts of the pro-lquor element, however, failed to shake the resolution of the residents of Milne te, Kirkintilleres and Kilsyth, who reaffirmed their faith in years' experience with prohibition.

Two places which on the last occa sion voted in favor of partial license restriction adhered to this decision. Aberdeen proved an utterly hopeless proposition for the drys, deciding for liquor by four figure majorities in liquor by four figure majorities in each of the eleven wards into which the city is divided.
