

NO ALCOHOL IN GIN PILLS

Many have wondered how the famous old household remedy, Gin Pills, derived its name, since obviously there could be no spirit contained in pill form. The origin of Gin Pills can be traced to Gin, which has for a great many years been recognized for its medicinal qualities, particularly its beneficial effects on kidney complaints.

But in the first place there are many who have conscientious objections to taking alcohol, even as a medicine. Secondly, the curative agent of Gin operates in spite of the alcohol, not because the alcohol is a help to the cure. Investigations were made to determine just what it was in Gin that tended to relieve rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, backache, swollen joints, constant headaches and all disorders arising from the kidneys, bladder and urinary system. This active agent, separated from the alcohol, was then combined with other diuretics and given the name of Gin Pills, for which a demand has grown greater than for any other medicine in Canada. Gin Pills have a wonderful record of success and anyone applying to the manufacturers can obtain copies of many of the testimonials received.

Gin Pills are sold by all dealers everywhere on a strict guarantee of satisfaction or your money back. They are 60c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50. A free sample can be obtained by writing to the National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, or to the U.S. address, New York, Inc., 292 Main St., Buffalo, N.Y.

TAROL CURES

COUGHS COLDS BRONCHITIS WHOOPING COUGH GRIPPE

ON SALE EVERYWHERE

Dr. Ed. Morin & Co. Ltd. Quebec

END STOMACH TROUBLE. GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapiesin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and create sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to your stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

LISTEN TO THIS! SAYS CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT NOW

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers.

It is a sticky ether compound which dries the moment it is applied and simply attacks the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.

First in Canada

to give men faultless tailored garments with a price protection label in the pocket of every Suit and Overcoat.

Fit-Reform

McRAE & McRAE

CAMPBELLTON

CANADIAN SOLDIERS EULOGIZE CANADA'S GLORIOUS RECORD

New York Canadian Club Hears Stirring Addresses from Our Returned Men. France is Grateful.

"Canada has made a record in this war that can never be surpassed by any nation on earth. By her valiant defence of the principles of democracy and human liberty, she has earned for herself a place on the brightest page of history. God bless her noble soul."

As Sergt. Guy Empey, author of "Over the Top," concluded a stirring address with these words, 600 guests of the Canadian Club of New York, assembled at their annual spring banquet at the Biltmore Hotel, arose to their feet and cheered for many minutes what the British army and navy had done to "make the world safe for democracy."

"That great navy," he said, "has kept the German flag out of London. The British army kept the German flag out of Paris, and the British navy has kept the German flag out of America."

Sergt. Empey was followed by Martin W. Littleton, the eminent New York lawyer, who said: "I recall what Sergt. Empey has just said about the British navy and the army standing between us and the enemy, and I realize the truth of all he has said, for they have stood for three years between us and the imitation of Attila the Hun, and he shall not cross."

French Appreciation.

Another speaker was Gaston Liebert, French consul-general, who spoke of the work the Canadians have done in the war, paying particular tribute to the voluntary enlistment of the Canadians.

"But I wish to speak particularly," he said, "of the complete confidence and friendship which exists between the French and British peoples. We can and should be friends, because all through the wars between France and Great Britain we always fought as gentlemen. But the Germans have violated all the rules of civilized warfare. France and England are today as closely knitted as America and England have been in the last 100 years."

Rustom Rustomjee, an East Indian editor, was the final speaker, and addressed his remarks to the press of the United States. In part, he said: "I wish to address my remarks to the press, more perhaps than to you, for I want to make it clear that the situation in India has been greatly misunderstood and misstated. A large number of idealists of India have made their home in New York and they are trying to tell the people that the British administration of my country is a curse and a blessing. Years ago great and glorious monuments were erected by Great Britain in India, giving us justice and domestic tranquillity, and assuring us the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to our posterity. Great Britain emancipated our morality and educated our character."

"In giving hospitality in the columns of the American press to these propagandists the press is unknowingly committing treason against humanity and against civilization. I am here to appeal to the American people to be careful and assure them that India will give whole-hearted response to the call from Great Britain."

Private Soldier's Story.

Private Jack Evans of Goshawa, Ont., was listened to with rapid interest as he told of the battle of Ypres where he was wounded. Evans was one of fifty-eight who survived out of a battalion of 1,100 men. He said he was taken prisoner June 30, 1917, and worked in coal mines under the Germans for eleven months, finally escaping to Holland.

Ghosts may talk, but very few people understand the dead language.

"That great navy," he said, "has kept the German flag out of London. The British army kept the German flag out of Paris, and the British navy has kept the German flag out of America."

Sergt. Empey was followed by Martin W. Littleton, the eminent New York lawyer, who said: "I recall what Sergt. Empey has just said about the British navy and the army standing between us and the enemy, and I realize the truth of all he has said, for they have stood for three years between us and the imitation of Attila the Hun, and he shall not cross."

French Appreciation.

Another speaker was Gaston Liebert, French consul-general, who spoke of the work the Canadians have done in the war, paying particular tribute to the voluntary enlistment of the Canadians.

"But I wish to speak particularly," he said, "of the complete confidence and friendship which exists between the French and British peoples. We can and should be friends, because all through the wars between France and Great Britain we always fought as gentlemen. But the Germans have violated all the rules of civilized warfare. France and England are today as closely knitted as America and England have been in the last 100 years."

Rustom Rustomjee, an East Indian editor, was the final speaker, and addressed his remarks to the press of the United States. In part, he said: "I wish to address my remarks to the press, more perhaps than to you, for I want to make it clear that the situation in India has been greatly misunderstood and misstated. A large number of idealists of India have made their home in New York and they are trying to tell the people that the British administration of my country is a curse and a blessing. Years ago great and glorious monuments were erected by Great Britain in India, giving us justice and domestic tranquillity, and assuring us the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to our posterity. Great Britain emancipated our morality and educated our character."

"In giving hospitality in the columns of the American press to these propagandists the press is unknowingly committing treason against humanity and against civilization. I am here to appeal to the American people to be careful and assure them that India will give whole-hearted response to the call from Great Britain."

Private Soldier's Story.

Private Jack Evans of Goshawa, Ont., was listened to with rapid interest as he told of the battle of Ypres where he was wounded. Evans was one of fifty-eight who survived out of a battalion of 1,100 men. He said he was taken prisoner June 30, 1917, and worked in coal mines under the Germans for eleven months, finally escaping to Holland.

Ghosts may talk, but very few people understand the dead language.

"That great navy," he said, "has kept the German flag out of London. The British army kept the German flag out of Paris, and the British navy has kept the German flag out of America."

Sergt. Empey was followed by Martin W. Littleton, the eminent New York lawyer, who said: "I recall what Sergt. Empey has just said about the British navy and the army standing between us and the enemy, and I realize the truth of all he has said, for they have stood for three years between us and the imitation of Attila the Hun, and he shall not cross."

French Appreciation.

Another speaker was Gaston Liebert, French consul-general, who spoke of the work the Canadians have done in the war, paying particular tribute to the voluntary enlistment of the Canadians.

"But I wish to speak particularly," he said, "of the complete confidence and friendship which exists between the French and British peoples. We can and should be friends, because all through the wars between France and Great Britain we always fought as gentlemen. But the Germans have violated all the rules of civilized warfare. France and England are today as closely knitted as America and England have been in the last 100 years."

Rustom Rustomjee, an East Indian editor, was the final speaker, and addressed his remarks to the press of the United States. In part, he said: "I wish to address my remarks to the press, more perhaps than to you, for I want to make it clear that the situation in India has been greatly misunderstood and misstated. A large number of idealists of India have made their home in New York and they are trying to tell the people that the British administration of my country is a curse and a blessing. Years ago great and glorious monuments were erected by Great Britain in India, giving us justice and domestic tranquillity, and assuring us the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to our posterity. Great Britain emancipated our morality and educated our character."

"In giving hospitality in the columns of the American press to these propagandists the press is unknowingly committing treason against humanity and against civilization. I am here to appeal to the American people to be careful and assure them that India will give whole-hearted response to the call from Great Britain."

Private Soldier's Story.

Private Jack Evans of Goshawa, Ont., was listened to with rapid interest as he told of the battle of Ypres where he was wounded. Evans was one of fifty-eight who survived out of a battalion of 1,100 men. He said he was taken prisoner June 30, 1917, and worked in coal mines under the Germans for eleven months, finally escaping to Holland.

Ghosts may talk, but very few people understand the dead language.

"That great navy," he said, "has kept the German flag out of London. The British army kept the German flag out of Paris, and the British navy has kept the German flag out of America."

Sergt. Empey was followed by Martin W. Littleton, the eminent New York lawyer, who said: "I recall what Sergt. Empey has just said about the British navy and the army standing between us and the enemy, and I realize the truth of all he has said, for they have stood for three years between us and the imitation of Attila the Hun, and he shall not cross."

French Appreciation.

Another speaker was Gaston Liebert, French consul-general, who spoke of the work the Canadians have done in the war, paying particular tribute to the voluntary enlistment of the Canadians.

"But I wish to speak particularly," he said, "of the complete confidence and friendship which exists between the French and British peoples. We can and should be friends, because all through the wars between France and Great Britain we always fought as gentlemen. But the Germans have violated all the rules of civilized warfare. France and England are today as closely knitted as America and England have been in the last 100 years."

Rustom Rustomjee, an East Indian editor, was the final speaker, and addressed his remarks to the press of the United States. In part, he said: "I wish to address my remarks to the press, more perhaps than to you, for I want to make it clear that the situation in India has been greatly misunderstood and misstated. A large number of idealists of India have made their home in New York and they are trying to tell the people that the British administration of my country is a curse and a blessing. Years ago great and glorious monuments were erected by Great Britain in India, giving us justice and domestic tranquillity, and assuring us the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to our posterity. Great Britain emancipated our morality and educated our character."

"In giving hospitality in the columns of the American press to these propagandists the press is unknowingly committing treason against humanity and against civilization. I am here to appeal to the American people to be careful and assure them that India will give whole-hearted response to the call from Great Britain."

Private Soldier's Story.

Private Jack Evans of Goshawa, Ont., was listened to with rapid interest as he told of the battle of Ypres where he was wounded. Evans was one of fifty-eight who survived out of a battalion of 1,100 men. He said he was taken prisoner June 30, 1917, and worked in coal mines under the Germans for eleven months, finally escaping to Holland.

Ghosts may talk, but very few people understand the dead language.

"That great navy," he said, "has kept the German flag out of London. The British army kept the German flag out of Paris, and the British navy has kept the German flag out of America."

Sergt. Empey was followed by Martin W. Littleton, the eminent New York lawyer, who said: "I recall what Sergt. Empey has just said about the British navy and the army standing between us and the enemy, and I realize the truth of all he has said, for they have stood for three years between us and the imitation of Attila the Hun, and he shall not cross."

French Appreciation.

Another speaker was Gaston Liebert, French consul-general, who spoke of the work the Canadians have done in the war, paying particular tribute to the voluntary enlistment of the Canadians.

"But I wish to speak particularly," he said, "of the complete confidence and friendship which exists between the French and British peoples. We can and should be friends, because all through the wars between France and Great Britain we always fought as gentlemen. But the Germans have violated all the rules of civilized warfare. France and England are today as closely knitted as America and England have been in the last 100 years."

Rustom Rustomjee, an East Indian editor, was the final speaker, and addressed his remarks to the press of the United States. In part, he said: "I wish to address my remarks to the press, more perhaps than to you, for I want to make it clear that the situation in India has been greatly misunderstood and misstated. A large number of idealists of India have made their home in New York and they are trying to tell the people that the British administration of my country is a curse and a blessing. Years ago great and glorious monuments were erected by Great Britain in India, giving us justice and domestic tranquillity, and assuring us the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to our posterity. Great Britain emancipated our morality and educated our character."

"In giving hospitality in the columns of the American press to these propagandists the press is unknowingly committing treason against humanity and against civilization. I am here to appeal to the American people to be careful and assure them that India will give whole-hearted response to the call from Great Britain."

Private Soldier's Story.

Private Jack Evans of Goshawa, Ont., was listened to with rapid interest as he told of the battle of Ypres where he was wounded. Evans was one of fifty-eight who survived out of a battalion of 1,100 men. He said he was taken prisoner June 30, 1917, and worked in coal mines under the Germans for eleven months, finally escaping to Holland.

Ghosts may talk, but very few people understand the dead language.

"That great navy," he said, "has kept the German flag out of London. The British army kept the German flag out of Paris, and the British navy has kept the German flag out of America."

Sergt. Empey was followed by Martin W. Littleton, the eminent New York lawyer, who said: "I recall what Sergt. Empey has just said about the British navy and the army standing between us and the enemy, and I realize the truth of all he has said, for they have stood for three years between us and the imitation of Attila the Hun, and he shall not cross."

French Appreciation.

Another speaker was Gaston Liebert, French consul-general, who spoke of the work the Canadians have done in the war, paying particular tribute to the voluntary enlistment of the Canadians.

"But I wish to speak particularly," he said, "of the complete confidence and friendship which exists between the French and British peoples. We can and should be friends, because all through the wars between France and Great Britain we always fought as gentlemen. But the Germans have violated all the rules of civilized warfare. France and England are today as closely knitted as America and England have been in the last 100 years."

Rustom Rustomjee, an East Indian editor, was the final speaker, and addressed his remarks to the press of the United States. In part, he said: "I wish to address my remarks to the press, more perhaps than to you, for I want to make it clear that the situation in India has been greatly misunderstood and misstated. A large number of idealists of India have made their home in New York and they are trying to tell the people that the British administration of my country is a curse and a blessing. Years ago great and glorious monuments were erected by Great Britain in India, giving us justice and domestic tranquillity, and assuring us the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to our posterity. Great Britain emancipated our morality and educated our character."

"In giving hospitality in the columns of the American press to these propagandists the press is unknowingly committing treason against humanity and against civilization. I am here to appeal to the American people to be careful and assure them that India will give whole-hearted response to the call from Great Britain."

Private Soldier's Story.

Private Jack Evans of Goshawa, Ont., was listened to with rapid interest as he told of the battle of Ypres where he was wounded. Evans was one of fifty-eight who survived out of a battalion of 1,100 men. He said he was taken prisoner June 30, 1917, and worked in coal mines under the Germans for eleven months, finally escaping to Holland.

Ghosts may talk, but very few people understand the dead language.

"That great navy," he said, "has kept the German flag out of London. The British army kept the German flag out of Paris, and the British navy has kept the German flag out of America."

Sergt. Empey was followed by Martin W. Littleton, the eminent New York lawyer, who said: "I recall what Sergt. Empey has just said about the British navy and the army standing between us and the enemy, and I realize the truth of all he has said, for they have stood for three years between us and the imitation of Attila the Hun, and he shall not cross."

French Appreciation.

Another speaker was Gaston Liebert, French consul-general, who spoke of the work the Canadians have done in the war, paying particular tribute to the voluntary enlistment of the Canadians.

"But I wish to speak particularly," he said, "of the complete confidence and friendship which exists between the French and British peoples. We can and should be friends, because all through the wars between France and Great Britain we always fought as gentlemen. But the Germans have violated all the rules of civilized warfare. France and England are today as closely knitted as America and England have been in the last 100 years."

Rustom Rustomjee, an East Indian editor, was the final speaker, and addressed his remarks to the press of the United States. In part, he said: "I wish to address my remarks to the press, more perhaps than to you, for I want to make it clear that the situation in India has been greatly misunderstood and misstated. A large number of idealists of India have made their home in New York and they are trying to tell the people that the British administration of my country is a curse and a blessing. Years ago great and glorious monuments were erected by Great Britain in India, giving us justice and domestic tranquillity, and assuring us the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to our posterity. Great Britain emancipated our morality and educated our character."

"In giving hospitality in the columns of the American press to these propagandists the press is unknowingly committing treason against humanity and against civilization. I am here to appeal to the American people to be careful and assure them that India will give whole-hearted response to the call from Great Britain."

Private Soldier's Story.

Private Jack Evans of Goshawa, Ont., was listened to with rapid interest as he told of the battle of Ypres where he was wounded. Evans was one of fifty-eight who survived out of a battalion of 1,100 men. He said he was taken prisoner June 30, 1917, and worked in coal mines under the Germans for eleven months, finally escaping to Holland.

Ghosts may talk, but very few people understand the dead language.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO PTE. BOUCHER

Address Delivered by Rev. Hugh Miller at St. Andrew's Church.

We are again called upon to mark in our simple but sincere manner the death of another of the young men of this congregation, Private Frank C. Boucher. Before he was of military age, he enlisted and after his arrival at the front he saw much fighting in which he bore himself as a brave soldier until he made the great sacrifice at Passchendaele. In a manner creditable to himself and his family, he obeyed the call of duty and endured to the end.

Shortly before he enlisted, he became a member in full communion of this church on profession of his faith in Jesus Christ, and by his consistent living upheld the name and honour of religion. There are times when each of us has to fall back on Him who though invisible is ever present and happy to be who has accepted Christ as his Lord and Saviour previous to such time. In our last moments our thoughts will be of our soul's welfare and all will be well if we have committed ourselves to Him who has redeemed us by His life.

We pay our tribute, to-night to the memory of Frank Boucher because of his sacrifice and our sense of loss. Our country is common with many others, has suffered heavy losses of young men in the prime of their life and the end is not yet. Not since the dawn of Christianity, has the world been so seriously threatened by an enemy whose victory means the set back of civilization. To him nothing has proved sacred and pain will do more to produce a harvest than an eternity of frosts and snows. One deed may be greater worth than ten years of labor. Life's riches are in deeds not in cars.

PTE. FRANK BOUCHER.

Life is the greatest sacrifice that can be made and it is being made today as never before. We are spending our years for some purpose and it behooves us to see that that purpose is worthy of our sacrifice. When our days are over, will we be able to look back over the way we have come and say that it was worth all our efforts and that we are not afraid to die? Frank Boucher gave his life to a worthy purpose and in the consciousness that he did his best and had made his peace with God. No more could he have done.

The Honour Roll of this church is gradually growing longer, and we would not be worthy of their sacrifices if we neglected to show our appreciation and keep fresh in memory their deeds. To-night, we pay our tribute to the memory of Frank Boucher in honour of his worth and his contribution to the cause of freedom.

Pericles gave an address commemorating the Athenians who had fallen in war, from which I quote:

"Wherefore I do not commemorate the parents of the dead, who stand here; I would rather comfort them. You know that your life has been passed amid manifold vicissitudes; and that those may be deemed fortunate who have gained most honour, whether an honourable death like theirs, or an honourable arrow like yours, and whose days have been so ordered that the term of their happiness is likewise the term of their life."

"In the beauty of the lilies, Christ was born across the sea, With a glory in His bosom That transfigures you and me. As He died to make men free, Let us die to make men free, While God goes marching on."

Five Pennies.

"Here's a nickel, dear, for doing that errand for me."

"Make it five pennies, please, auntie."

"Why, child, the amount is the same."

"Yes, but a nickel comes in too handy when mamma wants to go and telephone somebody."

NO MORE NERVOUS HEADACHES

Since She Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES", The Famous Fruit Medicine.

MISS ANNIE WARD.

112 Hazen St., St. John, N.B.

"It is with pleasure that I write to tell you of the great benefit I received from the use of your medicine, 'Fruit-a-tives'. I was a great sufferer for many years from Nervous Headaches and Constipation. I tried everything, consulted doctors; but nothing seemed to help me until I tried Fruit-a-tives."

"After I had taken several boxes, I was completely relieved of these troubles and have been unusually well ever since."

Miss ANNIE WARD.

"Fruit-a-tives" is fresh fruit juices, concentrated and increased in strength, combined with finest tonics, and is a positive and reliable remedy for Headaches and Constipation.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE KAISER'S DREAM.

There's a story current, tho' strange it may seem, Of the great Kaiser Bill and a wonderful dream. Being tired of the Allies, he lay down in bed And among other things, he dreamt He was dead And in a fine coffin, was lying in state. With his cold waxen features frozen in hate. He was not long dead, when he found To his surprise, That his soul like his soldiers would ere long be lost. On leaving this earth, to Heaven he went straight Arriving up there, gave a knock at the gate. St. Peter looked out, and in a voice loud and clear Said: "Egmont, Kaiser Bill, we don't want you here."

"Well," said the Kaiser, that's rather unkind. I suppose after that I must go to the Devil."

So he turned on his heels, and away he did go. At the top of his speed to the regions below; But when he got there, he was filled with dismay. For waiting outside he heard Old Nick say To his imps: "Now, here, boys, I give you a warning. I'm expecting the Kaiser down here in the morning. But don't let him in, for to me it's quite clear. He's a very bad man, and we don't want him here. If once he gets in, there'll be no end of quarrels. In fact, I'm afraid, he'll corrupt our good morals!"

Oh! Satan, dear friend, the Kaiser then cried. Excuse me for listening while waiting. If you don't let me in, say, where can I go?

"Indeed," said the Devil, I really don't know."

"Oh! do let me in, I'm feeling quite cold. Let me sit in a corner, no matter how hot. And if you want money, I've plenty of gold."

No, no, said the Devil, most certainly not. We don't want folks here for richest or pelf. Here's some sulphur and matches, made a Hell for yourself!"

Then he kicked Wilhelm out and he vanished in smoke. And just at that moment the Kaiser awoke. He jumped out of bed in a shivering sweat. And said: "That's a dream I'll never forget. That I'll not go to Heaven, I know very well. But it's really too bad, to be kicked out of Hell!"

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children need not be coaxed to take this harmless "Fruit Laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

GREAT BRITAIN'S MINE SWEEPERS.

(By William Laff.)

During the present war some two hundred fishing boats are engaged in a mine-sweeping flotilla. Speaking of them, the Royal National Mission to Deep Sea Fishermen says:—"Through the roads there passes north a continual procession of merchant shipping, bringing supplies of all kinds to various ports with a regularity and comparative safety that fills one's mind with amazement. Speaking broadly, there would be no danger to our maritime and overseas traffic were it not for the deadly mines that have been sown broadcast in defiance of all recognized standards of civilized warfare."

"The presence of the mines has called for a fresh manifestation of the fishermen's pluck and adaptability, and it is found in the fact that in the very same vessels in which a few weeks ago they were catching herring and trawl fish, the men are now fishing for these menaces to navigation, maintaining a daily 'sweep' from Harwich to the Pentland Firth. How perilous is the task is evidenced by the disasters that have overtaken a number of these vessels. The strain of the work must be tremendous, as each man on board realizes that every thrust of the propeller, every thrub of the engine, may drive him to his doom."

"For mine-sweeping the vessels work in pairs, steaming abreast of each other, and dragging between them a heavy chain that sweeps as a trawler, or just above, the bottom of the sea. When a mine is fouled it either incontinently explodes, or is dragged to the surface and put out of action. Nervous work waiting for explosions that may or may not come off, and that may come off through the vessel striking with its hull the mine it was seeking to discover with its trawl!"

"Lowestoft is one of the headquarters of the mine-sweepers, and also of the drifters engaged in patrol work. The duty of these vessels is indicated by their name, and some of them are fitted with wireless, so that they can quickly get in touch with the authorities."

"Whilst we dwell in security in this happy land of ours, let us not forget the silent watchers of the sea, and amongst them these men to whom no renown can come, but upon whom so much responsible and dangerous work devolves."

Such mine-laying as this illustrates the work of Satan, while such mine-sweeping illustrates the work of the Saviour, of Whom it is written, "Once in the end of the world hath He appeared, to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself." (Hebrew ix. 26).

Like the mine-laying, Satan's work is done by using unsuspected means. Tolders of the Deep, the organ of the Mission to Deep Sea Fishermen, says:

"There can be no doubt that numbers of fishing vessels have been captured and turned into mine-laying vessels, whilst outwardly, to all appearance, being English trawlers peacefully engaged in their ordinary routine work of fishing. Another authority reports:—"An enemy ship, masquerading as an innocent merchant vessel, was caught in the act of sowing these agents of destruction in a highway of peaceful commerce early in August, and evidence was obtained that he had been engaged in the task even while our Foreign Office was striving for peace."

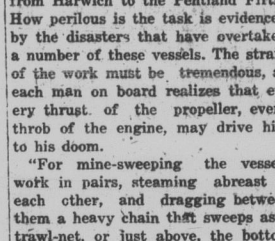

By his death the Lord Jesus swept away every obstacle in the way of a sinner entering the port of Salvation Navigation on the Sea of Life is perfectly safe to all believers.

Shall we not seek mine-sweeping may be done in our own lives, and pray, "Take Away All Iniquity" (Hos. xiv. 2)? The gracious answer will surely be, "Thine Iniquity Is Taken Away" (Isa. vi. 7).

And is there not a sense in which we may all be mine-sweepers, removing many a hidden mine from the waters around, and so saving many a valuable life? Is not this one illustration of 1 Cor. vii. 17?

NO MORE NERVOUS HEADACHES

Since She Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES", The Famous Fruit Medicine.

MISS ANNIE WARD.

112 Hazen St., St. John, N.B.

"It is with pleasure that I write to tell you of the great benefit I received from the use of your medicine, 'Fruit-a-tives'. I was a great sufferer for many years from Nervous Headaches and Constipation. I tried everything, consulted doctors; but nothing seemed to help me until I tried Fruit-a-tives."

"After I had taken several boxes, I was completely relieved of these troubles and have been unusually well ever since."

Miss ANNIE WARD.

"Fruit-a-tives" is fresh fruit juices, concentrated and increased in strength, combined with finest tonics, and is a positive and reliable remedy for Headaches and Constipation.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE KAISER'S DREAM.

There's a story current, tho' strange it may seem, Of the great Kaiser Bill and a wonderful dream. Being tired of the Allies, he lay down in bed And among other things, he dreamt He was dead And in a fine coffin, was lying in state. With his cold waxen features frozen in hate. He was not long dead, when he found To his surprise, That his soul like his soldiers would ere long be lost. On leaving this earth, to Heaven he went straight Arriving up there, gave a knock at the gate. St. Peter looked out, and in a voice loud and clear Said: "Egmont, Kaiser Bill, we don't want you here."

"Well," said the Kaiser, that's rather unkind. I suppose after that I must go to the Devil."

So he turned on his heels, and away he did go. At the top of his speed to the regions below; But when he got there, he was filled with dismay. For waiting outside he heard Old Nick say To his imps: "Now, here, boys, I give you a warning. I'm expecting the Kaiser down here in the morning. But don't let him in, for to me it's quite clear. He's a very bad man, and we don't want him here. If once he gets in, there'll be no end of quarrels. In fact, I'm afraid, he'll corrupt our good morals!"

Oh! Satan, dear friend, the Kaiser then cried. Excuse me for listening while waiting. If you don't let me in, say, where can I go?

"Indeed," said the Devil, I really don't know."

"Oh! do let me in, I'm feeling quite cold. Let me sit in a corner, no matter how hot. And if you want money, I've plenty of gold."

No, no, said the Devil, most certainly not. We don't want folks here for richest or pelf. Here's some sulphur and matches, made a Hell for yourself!"

Then he kicked Wilhelm out and he vanished in smoke. And just at that moment the Kaiser awoke. He jumped out of bed in a shivering sweat. And said: "That's a dream I'll never forget. That I'll not go to Heaven, I know very well. But it's really too bad, to be kicked out of Hell!"

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children need not be coaxed to take this harmless "Fruit Laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

NOUVELLE.

Mr. Charles McNeil and Mr. Ed. Williamson were the guests of friends in St. John last week.

Mr. Ralph Allard has returned to school in Dalhousie after spending the Easter holidays with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Allard.

Mr. Ed. and Edward Williamson were the guests of friends in Magalloway and Dalhousie last week.

Mr. Thomas Williamson of Edmundston paid a short visit to friends in Nouvelle last week.

Mrs. D. McNeil of Nouvelle was visiting friends in Dalhousie last week.

Mr. Lazare Pallu has returned from Port Daniel where he was attending the funeral of his daughter Mrs. A. Langlois.

Mr. James Calvert and Mr. Wilfred Jolicoeur were visiting in Campbellton last week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Loubert.

Mr. Emile LeClair of St. John was the guest of friends in Nouvelle last week.

A KITCHEN ENCYCLOPEDIA THE PURITY FLOUR COOK BOOK

containing 100 pages of tried and tested information on food preparation, refined and approved by the DOMESTIC SCIENCE DEPARTMENT of the McDONALD INSTITUTE

Mailed post paid for 20 cents Western Canada Flour Mills Co. Limited TORONTO.

WE SELL PURE ALL-WOOL CLOTHES AND FINE MENS FURNISHING GOODS

NOT ONE THREAD OF "OUR" ALL-WOOL CLOTH WHICH GOES INTO OUR SUITS AND OVERCOATS COMES FROM THE COTTON PATCH. WHEN WE TELL YOU A GARMENT IS "ALL WOOL" IT IS ALL WOOL.

WE DO NOT WANT TO SELL YOU JUST ONE OUTFIT; WE WANT YOUR TRADE FOR LIFE. TO GET IT AND HOLD IT WE ALWAYS GIVE YOU GOOD CLOTHES. THE PROPER CAPER IN STYLE AND FIT YOU AS SMOOTHLY AS THE PEELING ON A PEACH.

WE KEEP UP THE QUALITY: WE KEEP DOWN THE PRICE.

ANDREW'S CLOTHING STORE.

Different Kinds of Heat

Your furnace should not only give you plenty of heat, but the right quality of heat.

Some houses would be better without any heat than the kind their furnaces give them.

If you study the Sunshine Furnace you will know what the right kind of heat is and how to get it.

FOR SALE BY H. MARQUIS

McClary's Sunshine Furnace

London St. John, N.B. Toronto Calgary Montreal Hamilton Winnipeg Edmonton Saskatoon Vancouver

Palmer's Summer Packs

GIVE real foot comfort to tired, aching feet. They are made from cultured Glacé leather, water-proof leather, and have large eyelets and hollow tongues. The ideal shoe for working on the land.

They are also specially suitable for ranchers, trackmen, laborers, sportsmen and all others requiring extra strong yet comfortable footwear.

The style shown—No. 108, is nine inches high. Ask your dealer for Palmer's famous "Horse Head Brand" footwear—many styles and sizes to choose from.

JOHN PALMER CO. Limited
Fredericton, N. B., Canada.