Our Illustrations

WE have the pleasure this month of again giving our readers some further specimens of the very good work done by Mr. W. E. H. Massey at the World's Fair.

Our frontispiece this month as a study in posing and lighting, speaks for itself.

Our Christmas Double Number

ONCE more we wish to direct the attention of our readers to the forthcoming Christmas Double Number. Since making our first short announcement in the August issue, every effort has been put forth to insure this being as readable and popular a Christmas number as has ever been published. In many particulars it will be unique in photographic journalism—anyway until some of our American contemporaries do us the honor of again following our lead. Owing to the liberality of our advertisers we are enabled to give subscribers considerably more than value for their money. Our Christmas number has been well advertised and a gigantic
