- the competent authorities prohibit the exhibition of the co-production in either country or its export to a third country;
- (iii) either co-producer fails to fulfil its commitments;
- (j) the period when shooting is to begin;
- (k) a clause stipulating that the majority co-producer shall take out an insurance policy covering at least "all production risks" and "all original material production risks";
- a clause providing for the sharing of the ownership of copyright on a basis which is proportionate to the respective contributions of the co-producers.
- IV. The distribution contract, where this has already been signed;
- A list of the creative and technical personnel indicating their nationalities and, in the case of performers, the roles they are to play;
- VI. The production schedule;
- VII. The detailed budget identifying the expenses to be incurred by each country; and
- VIII. The Synopsis.
- The competent administration of the two countries can demand any further documents and all other additional information deemed necessary.
- In principle, the final shooting script (including the dialogue) should be submitted to the competent administrations prior to the commencement of shooting.
- 5. Amendments, including the replacement of a co-producer, may be made in the original contract, but they must be submitted for approval by the competent administrations of both countries before the co-production is finished. The replacement of a co-producer may be allowed only in exceptional cases and for reasons satisfactory to both the competent administrations.
- The competent administrations will keep each other informed of their decisions.
