about consistency, I would like to leave him with a quote from Emerson. One day, when Emerson was not doing anything else, he said that "Foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds."

Some hon. Members: Hear, hear!

Madam Speaker: This exchange only proves to me that perhaps I should have asked the hon. member, since he started off by saying he was not sure whether the hon. member had said certain things, to consult the "blues" before he raises questions of privilege. However, the exchange was in good spirit, and there is obviously no question of privilege.
