

ment could do no better, than to entrust to them for many long years to come the noble mission, which they have heretofore so worthily fulfilled,

---