The principles are: The Open Door.

The Open Door,

1—It is a matter of joint and permanent international interest that the ports on the rivers and litteral of China should remain free and open to trade and to every other legitimate form of economic activity for the nationalities of all countries without distinction, andthe two Governments agree on their part to uphold the same for all Chinese territory so far as they can exercise influence.

The United States agrees with the above The United States agrees with the above

A Promise for Themselves.

2—Her Britannic Majesty's Gorernment and the Imperial German Government will not on their part make use of the present compileations to obtain for themselves any territorial advantages in Chinese dominions, and will direct their policy toward maintaining undiminished the territorial condition of the Chinese Empire.

Regarding the Third Clause,
The third clause of the agreement pro

The third clause of the agreement pro-3-In case of another power making use of the complications in China in order to obtain, under any form whatever, such territorial advantages, the two contracting parties reserve to themselves to come to a preliminary understanding as to the eventual steps to be taken for the protection of their own interests in China.

As to a Reciprocal Arrangement.

As this clause refers to a reciprocal arrangement between the two high contract-

INTERESTING TEST OF A PIANO. The Heintzman & Co. Piano Measured Up to the Highest Demands of Planist, Violinist and Singer. The entertainment given in Association Hall on Tuesday evening by teh Alulf est of the high standard of piano many Hjorvard halda a first place as plantst, and his performance on Tuesday aight added to his reputation. He was assisted by Mr. Kraits-Caroly, a young violinist, who took the place of Mr. Glacomo Quintano, who was unable to appear, and by Miss Mary Mansfield, a mezzo-soprano. Each artist did his and her part in a mainer to draw forth the unbounded enthusiasin of the very cultured and musical audience present.

of the very cultured and musical audience present.

It was a study in the art of plano building to note how the Heintzman & Co. grand plano used for the occasion met all the requirements of this great planist, whether this called for delicacy of touch or that abandon where the power of the plano was well displayed. Then came the necompaniment on the plano to the violin of Mr. Kransz-Caroly, and how beautifully the one met the needs of the other. How far a plano helps the most talented singer is known to all students of music, and Miss Mansfield will not hesitate to credit to the Heintzman & Co. plano the magnificent help rendered in the singing of her beautiful and brilliantly rendered selections.

The musical season is only opening, but the start, shows that where a really great artist appears on a Canadian platform the invariable choice is a Heintzman & Co. plano, which, in the midst of much plano making, stands distinctive and alone—in a class by itself.

William Griffin, 461 Danforth-avenue, and John Shields, 98 Sherbourne-street, are under arrest on a charge of being disorderly. Constable Cathers arrested the men when they were engaged last night in a fight on Duchess-street. Both men resisted arrest, but after a hard struggle the policeman got the handcuffs on them and landed them in the cells.

Preference Capital, and, after putting aside to Reserve Account $35,000, which is $10,000 in excess of the amount required by the Company's Charter, and making a further provision of $12,500, in a Real Estate and Plant Reserve Account, the balance of profits left exceeds 16 per cent, upon the Preference Capital.

From the Balance Sheet it will be seen that the total Malalities are less than $20,000, which sum is very little more than one-third of the cash held by the Company's bankers at the end of the year, a position which is somewhat unique amongst adustrial corporations. The Assets are absolutely free from debt, mortgage or lien of any kind. This financial condition of the Company has made it unnecessary for us to borrow one dollar from the Company's bankers, and places us in a position

The Company's position is a satisfactory one to both classes of stockholders. The position of the Preference Stockholders is unusually strong, first, because the earnupon this stock, and, secondly, because the accumulation of the Reserve Funds and the reduction of Preference shares with the surplus income of the Company steadily increase the security, both for payment of dividend and repayment of capital, while the Common Stockholders are also beneated by these improvements in condition. Moore, to make a few remarks dealing with the business of the Company. Mr. Moore said: "It will. I believe, be interesting to the Stockholders to note the steady and sub-new plan of lending. stantial growth of the business, as shown by its net profits for a period of years.

> Commencing in a very small way in Canada in 1882, and in the United States in 1884, the business has advanced rapidly each year, until its transactions now involve dealings with over 10,000 customers in a single year, while its offshoots have been firmly and profitably established in London, Berlin and Australia. The increase in business is not confined to any section, but has been participated > in by each of the three factories in which the Company is interested, viz., Toronto, Niagara Falls and California factories. Although the business has grown so largely and continuously, I do not think it has at all reached its full development. The growth in population, especially in the United States, steadily increases the consumption of our goods, while the constant improvement in the methods adopted by the large departmental stores offers increasing opportunities to us to extend our trade with them. Moreover, we are paying just now special attention to the small users of our goods, and believe it is possible to largely extend our trade among this class of customers.

During the year we have increased our manufacturing plant with machinery that adds nearly 10 per cent. to our capacity. We have also acquired the patents upon a machine which will, we believe, enable us to cheapen the cost of production of and of acquiring exclosure rights upon improved machinery, from time to time, as opportunity offers, has had much to do with the success of the business in the past. Our intimate relations with the British, Continental and Australian companies, with whom we have a close working agreement, assists materially to this end. I am sure that the fact referred to in the report of the Directors, that our losses from bad debts amounted, during sast year, to less than one-fifth of 1 per cent. on the total business done, will be appreclated by the stockholders as a rather unusual experience in a manufacturing business having dealings with so large a The motion for the adoption of the Annual Report was then put and carried
