Prisoner Tried to Escape.

James McLaughlin, a prisoner undergoing a two months' sentence in the jail for theft, made a bold dash for liberty yester day morning. With a number of other prisoners, he was engaged in constructing the new deer run for the Riverdale Park too, on the Don Flats. The guard stationed on the south side had occasion to leave its post. McLaughlin fled, closely pursued by two guards, under the Gerrard-street ridge, around Kemp's factory, and concaled himself under a house on Oak-street, where he was captured. He was removed the jail and a ball and chain placed on im. McLaughlin will be compelled to tork with this attachment for the balance of his time, with the probable addition of couple of months for his escapade. Rev. Mr. Wilson's Appointment.
