MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP IN BRITAIN
Municipal ownership is making rapid headway in England. The United States consul at Liverpool, who, by the way, is a Canadian by birth, has sent the Washington government an interesting report entitled "Municipal Socialism in Great Britain."

Mr. Boyle remarks that in 1875 the capital invested in municipal undertakings in Great Britain was $465,000, and in 1900 it was $1,500,000,000. There are now in Great Britain 981 municipalities owning waterworks, 90 owning the street railways, 240 owning the gas works and 181 supplying electricity. Most of these are in England. Municipalities were not allowed to work the tramways until 1896. It is estimated that half of the gas-users in England use municipal gas.

Glasgow has one-cent and two-cent fares on its city tram cars.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.

There is evidently considerable dissatisfaction among the Liberals of Stamford Township, Welland County, and an Independent Association has been formed there, with James S. Chisholm as president and F. E. Harrison as secretary. They have issued a circular, which sets forth the reasons why they withdrew their support from the government. Among them are the following:

Because of its very peculiar prohibition legislation, which offers us an unjust and one-sided referendum; because gambling institutions and a boxing arena, not allowed in New York State, are tolerated in this fair county of ours; because of a distinct attempt to crush out all the independence of all individual electors by unprincipled cliques, which, owing to the co-operation of our representatives at Toronto and Ottawa, have been enabled to do deeds which cannot be justified.

At the noonday Conservative meeting yesterday, J. F. Louden was the speaker. Thirty years ago, he said, Ontario had a surplus of $4,000,000, and now they claimed to have only $2,000,000. What had become of the balance? he asked, and also the $27,000,000 received from the sale of timber limits. $6,000,000 stolen from the municipalities in liquor licenses and $5,000,000 in succession duties? Some of the money, however, could be accounted for as follows:

There were, the speaker said, received these sums for political work. "Yes, and there is not a man now stamping on the Liberal platform who is not a grafter," Ald. Louden added. He also protested against the way firms like the Electric Co. and Charles Rogers & Sons obtained their contracts. The former, he said, supplied $8000 worth of groceries and the latter $4400 worth of furniture, without tender and at their own price. Ald. Burns also received $472 for ice in a similar way, and Mr. Rowell and Mr. Fleet were given pulpwood concessions for services rendered to the government.

Mr. J. F. Foy, K.C., who was one of the brightest members of the last Ontario legislature, in being made the object of special attention by Hon. G. W. Ross and his friends. The most dishonorable man in the province is being resorted to to accomplish his defeat, but his enemies will be disappointed when they find him elected for South Toronto by a large majority—Kingston News.

The Forest Free Press, Mr. Pettipiece's paper, says: The difference between Mr. Dryden and Mr. Crawford is that Mr. Dryden, whether right or wrong in going into the enterprise, had the courage to stay by the game, though censured by his friends and foes, whereas Mr. Crawford turned coward and sneaked out, leaving his fellow-official to bear the storm of criticism alone. The difference between Mr. McCallum and Mr. Pettipiece is that Mr. McCallum denounces Mr. Dryden, his political opponent, in the most violent terms, and allows his political ally to go untouched, whereas Mr. Pettipiece adopted the fairer course of rebuking his political friend before attacking his opponent. Mr. Pettipiece has not changed his mind as to the inconsistency of Mr. Dryden's position.

Brookville Times: Mr. O'Brien's reception throughout the riding in this campaign have been most gratifying to himself and the Conservative party and most disconcerting to his opponents. Everywhere he has been given a warm and cordial welcome, and both by word and action he has been assured of the most substantial support.

In Markham, on May 27, J. W. Moyes will hold a meeting, at which he will make good his promise, made on nomination day, that he would show up the grand old man of the Liberal party.

The Peterboro Review says: W. J. Kearns has caused a writ to be issued against Hon. J. R. Stratton and William Macpherson, the latter of the latter, claiming damages for alleged libel and slander.

This attack on the outcome of Mr. Stratton reading at his committee room and publishing in his newspaper a letter written by Mr. Ireland, who is license inspector in the Parry Sound district, making certain statements regarding Mr. Kearns and his brother, and their record while residents in that district.

Dr. Beattie Nesbitt feels confident that North Toronto will stand by him. He speaks to-night at Milton. He doesn't have to stay in the city.

A politician who knows says that a wire from West Nipissing was received in Liberal quarters yesterday, stating that the candidate there had practically thrown up the sponge, believing Cochrane cannot be beaten.

PORT HOOD COAL CO.
Attention is called to the Port Hood Coal Co., Limited, a prospectus of which is printed in another column. This enterprise, which has its head office in Halifax, N.S., has as its object the mining of coal in a promising section of the Maritime Provinces. The company holds under provision of the large area of coal-bearing lands, upon which appear veins of bituminous coal of workable thickness. In one of these, which is 7-12 feet thick, the workings have proceeded to the extent of two miles in length. The coal is of a fine quality, and the other seams are said to promise well. The mine is well equipped, and a railway communicates direct with the property. The directors of the company include Hon. G. E. Foster, Mr. W. A. Black and Mr. Lawrence C. Webster, the two latter of whom are large ship owners. The capitalization of the company is as follows: Common stock, $750,000 issued; coupon bonds outstanding, $750,000. The company now proposes to issue in addition $250,000 of accumulated 6 per cent. preference stock.

Visitors in Toronto, especially, will be anxious to hear the beautiful soprano voices of the boys, the remarkable male solos and the many other distinctive features of this organization, which shall shortly in return for the coronation.

Masons Visit Buffalo.
A special train left the Union Station yesterday afternoon for Buffalo, bearing the members of St. Andrew's Lodge, A. F. & A. M., who went on a visit to Buffalo's Ancient Landmarks Lodge. The visit was to return a similar compliment paid the Toronto brethren in March. There was a banquet at the Troquois Hotel last night and a Masonic celebration.

At the Union Station.
The holiday traffic on the railways is exceptionally heavy. The cheap rates went into effect yesterday. Two special C.P.R. trains of stock that were shipped from Toronto to Montreal this week made the run in less than 16 hours. They traveled at the rate of 32 miles an hour.

Manager McLaughlin of the C.P.R. yesterday inspected the new track in course of construction at Pickering.

NEW ONTARIO IRON ORE.

"While it may be possible that on account of glacial erosion the product of high-grade ore in Canada may be less than in districts of similar size and geological position on the United States side of the boundary," says Mr. C. R. Dan Ellis in a report on the Canadian Survey as extending first in a northeasterly and then in an easterly direction to the Kaministiquia River, and thence eastward to the Kenora and west of Lake Nipigon. Another great belt of iron-bearing rocks with various manifestations has been traced by the Canadian Survey from Rainy Lake eastward to the Canadian Pacific Railway and to Lake des Milles. In this belt occurs the so-called Atikokan Range, in which large deposits of iron ore are said to outcrop.

East and north of the east half of Lake Superior various areas of iron-bearing rocks are also found. One or more belts are said to extend east from Lake Nipigon. A belt is found adjacent to the Black and Pig Rivers. Several belts of iron-bearing formation have been found in the Michipicott district.

At the present time the only one of these districts which is an ore producer is the Michipicott. While this district has not been connected serially and structurally with any other area in the Lake Superior region, the likeness in the character of its rocks and the essential points parallel. In the Michipicott district the basement rock is a greenstone, showing the ellipsoidal structure on the great scale so characteristic of the Ely greenstones of the Vermilion district. It contains substantially all the varieties of material in the iron formation of the Vermilion district, and in addition great quantities of pyritic quartz rock. On the bluff back of the Helen mine and at many other places iron carbonate is abundant. Near the Helen mine Mr. Merriam reports this carbonate as containing 19 to 37 per cent. of metallic iron. These abundant cherty carbonates leave little doubt that the ferruginous cherts, ferruginous slates, jaspers and iron ores have mainly developed from a carbonate as the original rock, precisely as in the various districts south of Lake Superior. However, it is clear that the pyritic quartz rocks have also made contributions. At the present time the iron formation has been developed only at the Helen mine. Here a good body of high-grade hematite has been shown by stripping to extend in considerable areas to the rock surface—Bradstreet.
