WEDNESDAY MORNING.

The council began its regular routine business after the long dead-lock caused by the election of warden at 11 o'clock this morning. On motion of Mr. Henry Hardy the standing committees were left the same as last year, with power to elect a new chairman if desired.

The request of the Dominion Grange to hold its annual meeting in the county chambers this year, commencing March 2, was granted, provided the usual fee of $2 is paid the janitor.

The application of W. H. Salsbury, of Coldstream, Lobo, for appointment as county student at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, was laid over until the June session. The auditors appointed were W. D. Stanley, of Lucan, and A. L. Leitch, of Strathroy. The presentment of the grand jury was received and filed. A communication from J. B. Laing, provincial municipal auditor, requesting that regulation cash books be purchased to facilitate auditing was filed. On motion of Thos. Duffin and Wm. Webster, the treasurer's bonds were referred to the finance committee to report upon.

Bradley. Mr. D. W. Vary, of Strathroy, having been informed that a vacancy was likely to incur in the inspectorate of the county house of refuge at Strathroy, applied for the position, and offered to perform the duties for $100 per year. This was thrown out without any discussion.

The statement of the condition of the non-resident land fund of the county of Middlesex on Dec. 31, 1897, submitted by Mr. A. M. McEvoy, county treasurer, was received and ordered to be printed in the minutes. The total amount of taxes in arrears on lands not yet liable to be sold is $2,208 96. Her interpretations of Scottish character have been commended by J. M. Barrie, David Crockett and Ian Maclaren, whose works she has read in their own homes. Recently she entertained President and Mrs. Mc-Kinley at the White House. Joseph Parker, the great London evangelist, writes: "Miss Katharine E. Oliver is beyond all questions the most remarkable and successful interpreter of Scottish character I ever heard. If any people who know me wish to do themselves a favor, they ought to lose no

A SPLENDID CONCERT. The Franz Wilczek Concert Company (of New York) appeared at the Auditorium last night, and the large number of music-lovers who faced the storm to hear the talented organization were not disappointed. The programme throughout was very clever and pleasing. Mr. Wilczek and his young wife gave brilliant violin solos and duets, which were heartily applauded, and the demand for recalls, which their performances elicited, were graciously responded to. One of their encores, an imitation of the bagpipes, was a capital novelty, and was loudly applauded. The piano solos and accompaniments of Mrs. Clara Brooks-Cobb were artistically rendered. Miss Harriette Clarke (soprano) and Miss Nellie Louise Woodbury (contralto) appeared in three vocal duets, winning encores each time The negro melody, "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground," earned a double encore. The concert was considered by many to be the best of an exclusively musical character given in the Y.M.C.A. course. That is saying a good deal, but the managers are certainly to be commended for the admirable attractions they have provided. POLICE COURT PROCEEDINGS. The dock at the police court this morning was filled with offenders, seven in number-three drunks and four vagrants. A trio of the latter were in company when arrested by P. C. Robinson, but Magistrate Parke ordered one, John Williams, to leave town; another, John Marvin, who was sick, was sent to the city hospital, and the third, James Bryden, allowed to seek promised employment in the city. Alex. McDonald, a young man, made his 23rd appearance in court for being drunk, and was sentenced to imprisonment for three months. Peter Madden, an old offender, was said to have attempted, while drunk, to bombard the Pacific Hotel. He had two bricks in his hand, with which he was going to smash the windows. Madden was astonished at the evil motive attributed to him. He was carrying the bricks to his home on Queen street to fix up a pipe hole, he said. He was allowed to go. Thomas Mitchell, a stalwart farmer from Mount Carmel, appeared with a badly-scarred face. Some lads reading a paper in a livery stable, he said. He was not drunk at the time,

May Sell Out.

A Possible Site for a New City Hall.

Mayor Wilson and Ald. Winnett, Carothers, O'Meara and McPhillips will wait upon the county council today at 4 o'clock to advocate grants by the county council towards a new city hall (to be used by the county), and towards the city hospital improvements.

The board of managers of St. James' Presbyterian Church held a meeting last night, and decided to consider offers for the purchase of the church Princess avenue, which includes the church building, the manse, and about an acre of land. The manse is assessed for $3,000, and the managers value the church property and land at $11,000. The church liabilities are $7,691 22. No fixed price was put upon the property last night, but the board will sell to the fully acknowledges a donation of $30 highest bidder, if the offer is reasonably good. Those who are urging the erection of a new city hall say this place would make an admirable site for such a building, as it is central, and adjoins Victoria Park. It is said that several offers have already been made for the property by private parties. Whether the city will bid depends upon the will of the council, and the project to raise money enough to build a city hall without resort to taxation.

Sage, secretary of the deanery, recorded the minutes. Dean Innes opened with prayer, and after routine business the rural dean reviewed the work of the past year, showing a satisfactory increase in membership and finances. He referred to the benefit the clergy had derived from the bishop's "quiet day," and to the work of the students of Huron College and the lay workers in supplying services in vacant and new missions. Members were urged to seek out places where it might be advisable to establish ser-

Matters connected with the deanery were then considered and committees appointed to visit places in their respective localities, with a view to establishing missions, and report. Rev. G. M. Cox, the new rector of St. Matthew's Church, and Rev. C. R. Gunn, B.A., of Parkhill, were given a hearty welcome. Mr. Gunn gave a practical address in explanation of the Doupanloup system of teaching or catechising. Government's Railway

From Telegraph Creek to Teslin Lake -The Road To Be Completed in About 120 Days, [C. P. R. Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 26.—The contract for building the railway from Telegraph Creek to Teslin Lake, leading from the head waters of the Stikeen to Dawson City, has been signed by Mackenzie & Mann, well known contractors, but the details are not ready for publication. They will be made known officially tomorrow.

The road is to commence at a point not yet decided upon, near Glenora, and run to Teslin Lake, over an undulating country, not very difficult for railway construction. The distance is about 130 miles. The government has agreed with the contractors to give a block of mining land for a subsidy. There will be have to make traffic arrangements with the Canadian Pacific.

Mackenize & Mann have already started to work, and in the course of a very short time will have between 500 great favorite. The road will require to be built in time to send sup- HOW ELIZABETH WAS DRESSED. plies to Dawson before next winter sets in. This will give very little more than 120 days to build a railway of 130 miles, which cannot be commenced before May, and must be finished about September.

The purchasing of supplies and material will in the meantime be gone on with by the contractors. In making the contract the government had to look to men of means and responsibility, as everything depends upon the rapid and successful completion of the work.

IT IS UNSAFE.

Ingersoll's Town Hall Not in a Fit Condition for Large Audiences.

Ingersoll, Jan. 26.-After the London accident the Ingersoll town council instructed R. Jessiman, the expert builder, of Toronto, to report on the condition of the town hall here. He reports that it is not in a safe condition. "In the cellar pillars of iron or brick or stonework will be necessary upon which to place other pillars to support the floor of the hall above. Some of the beams in the cellar are more or less decayed, and it will be necessary to have other supports to make the floor of the hall in a safe condition. I find that sections of this floor, which (according to figures of experts) should stand a dead weight of 16,444 pounds, will only stand 14,054 pounds, a difference of 2,390 pounds. Some of the heavy timbers show that a settlement has taken place in some places threequarters to one inch. Another thing I notice is that the brickwork of the building in question is not of sufficient thickness. This accounts for the bulging out which has taken place, notice ably so in the north wall, and this part of the brickwork I would advise the council to tear down."

SCUTTLED THE SHIP.

Filibustering Steamer Abandoned in a Storm-Four Men and Tons of Dynamite Go Down.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 26.-Nineteen survivors of the suspected filibustering steamer Tillie, which probably sank off Barnegat, were brought to this port by a coasting schooner yesterday. Four men were lost. Capt. John O'Brien was among those saved.

The Tillie was abandoned at sea last Sunday afternoon, while off Barnegat, in the midst of a terrible storm. It is believed she was scuttled by traitors who had joined the party on board for the purpose of destroying the vessel. The nineteen who were saved escaped with great difficulty. The other four men could not be taken off, and they went down with the vessel. Forty tons of dynamite, three dynamite guns, and a considerable quantity of ammunition intended for the warring Cubans, were on board the Tillie when she sank.

Death of Donald McLean from Coal Gas

at Windsor, Ont. [Western Special to Advertiser.] Windsor, Ont., Jan. 26 .- Donald Mc-Lean, formerly a sheep rancher at Moosejaw, was found dead in his room early this morning, death being caused by an escape of natural gas from a stove. He was a well-to-do man of about 45 years. He had no friends in this city.

PETROLEA. Petrolia, Jan. 25.-Mr. James Ellicott is very sick, and has been confined to his bed quite a time. Mr. Ellicott is a member of the C. O. F., and that lodge is doing excellent work looking after him. Every night two of his brother Foresters are in attendance, and everything is done to assist him. Nominations take place here on Thursday to fill two vacant positions in No. 1 and No. 4 wards. Several parties have been mentioned, and no doubt there will be a lively run for the honors. Last week our town was all alive with Salvationists. The principal meeting was held in Victoria Hall, no cash subsidy. The contractors will to Sergt.-Major McMillan. The hall was packed. Ensign McKenzie has been stationed at Petrolia for about six months. She won the esteem and respect of all denominations, and was a Queen Elizabeth's love of gorgeous apparel grew with her years, and the leading fashions of the courts of Europe furnished her with designs for new dresses, which she would continually cast aside for others such as her fancy might suggest. On all occasions she dressed in the richest costumes, adorned with brilliants, precious stones, and jewelry of the rarest workmanship; even in her old age she continued to dress like a young girl, afraid of nothing so much as of being thought old. "Upon the subject of her personal beauty she would smilingly accept the most extravagant flattery," says Carte, "however fulsome it appeared to everybody else." When Paul Hentzner saw her she was in her 67th year. Being a German, he observed her with an eye wholly unclouded by any sense of reverence for the divinity which hedges proprietor of the Morkin House, King round a monarch. Indeed, he was so ungallant as to jot down in his note-book rich drops, and that her bosom was uncovered. She was dressed in white silk, bordered with pearls of the size of beans, and over it a mantle of black silk, shot with silver threads; instead night. About 5 o'clock this morning lar of gold and jewels. He adds that of a chain, she had on an oblong col-"wherever she turned her face everyone fell upon his knees," an act of homage which on state occasions had been paid to her father, and Elizabeth never forgot or allowed others to forget that she was the daughter of Henry VIII. THE STORY OF A HARD DRINKER Daniel Summers, a London, England, tobacco sampler by trade, and an inordinate consumer of whisky, lived to be 54 years of age. This fact seemed to astonish the coroner and jury, who last week inquired into his death.

His widow, Jessie Summers, living at 52 Canrobert street, Bethnal-green, said that for eleven years he had been subject to sickness and pain in the stomach, the result of chewing large quantities of tobacco. The told him that the habit would end fatally, but she could not persuade him to give it up. "Did he drink?" asked the coroner. "I should think he did," the widow re-"What did he drink?"-"Whisky in the evening and during the day old ale and stout." The Coroner—How much whisky? Witness-Eighteen half-quarters a night. "Do you mean every night?" "Yes, that was his usual; he drank that mostly after he had done his work, but in an evening he would drink three or four half-pints at a time. Coroner—How long has he been drinking eighteen half-quarters a night?

Witness-Oh, for the last fifteen years. He would have it. A Juror-What a customer the whisky people have lost. Dr. Wm. Brown Thain said the stomach was inflated, and contained four ulcers, which produced peritonitis and death. There was evidence of chronic pneumonia and pleurisy, but otherwise the organs were healthy. "What! (exclaimed the coroner), the Witness-Yes. The Coroner-Then I'll never believe that whisky will kill any one again. Witness-I think the whisky drinking produced the inflammation of the stomach, and the tobacco chewing acted as an irritant, and caused the ulceration.
