Note and Comment

With two down and Deal and Vaughn to bat before him in the second inning yesterday at the Stadium, no wonder Vandy donned his pad and mask, ready to start the third. However, Jimmy Collins stood in his tracks as Deal's grounder rolled past his left leg, and then Vaughn walked. Now it was up to Vandy to do his defensive duty for the crusty ace. The second ball pitched, he lined out to the left field track, just inside the foul line, and the game was tied up.

The presence of Jimmy Mullen put life into the players, and the third, the Rock caught him asleep with a bunt in the third. Joe Delahanty showed no mercy, making a quick throw to the plate in the first inning, and piling on the wood without trying to spike the third baseman.

Deal's work at first was nothing short of phenomenal. He took a chance in the fourth and a step to first before he laid the throw to the plate. However, he retired two and Ump saw it. In the eighth Deal nailed Collins high foul on the edge of the field and then rolled over into the grand stand aisle in a sensational style. Had he thrown a ball or bowed a tendon there would be nothing left but Grimshaw for first, when O'Hara goes to right this afternoon, Louisville and New York.

The Postoffice and Parliament Buildings meet this afternoon on Jesse Kitchin Park. In their Civil Service League game, play will begin at 4 o'clock. Frank Hallinan will umpire.

The shakers who are paying attention to the home at Woodbine Park are of the opinion that this year's King's Plate will not only give a gift to the Seagram stable, but also a good Waterloo will run one-two. The trials keep space, and by next Tuesday the local runners will be in just as good shape for the races as the bangtails that have arrived from Baltimore, Lexington, Louisville and New York.

The success of the Woolthorpes this year is a reminder that Secretary Fraser of the O.J.C. was never happier at Hamilton one day than he is now when he had his little wager down on La Gloria or some of the others by the same sire as Fashion Plate and Donau.

Talking of Woolthorpes, a New York writer points out that the sterling victory of Donau, another good son of Woolthorpe, in the Louisville Derby last Tuesday, makes a poor argument against the overrating of two-year-olds. Donau, if memory serves, finished in forty-one races last season, and what is more, was a fair share of them. While no one can deny that he was a class star, Donau was so honest and consistent that he made many friends. It is not unlikely either that he may rank with the best this season over distance ground, as he is not lacking in quality.

They're off to-morrow at Exhibition Park. These are races that might run without limit, regardless of the Miller bill, as the Exhibition Club will continue to be no better adjunct in the municipal enclosure.

According to information from Pittsburgh and California, both Jeff and Johnson are going to the extreme caution about their victims while training. Jeff's camp will be under the direct supervision of a doctor, while Johnson will have his bosom friend, Frank Sutton of Pittsburgh, to look after his horse. As appears, the plan is to attempt to be made to tamper with his foot as the date for the big derby approaches. It is all right, but Johnson's dread certainly should be a groundless one.

According to expert testimony, the revised American football code is merely in a transitional state. The members of the football rules committee have completely revised the code, and Boston writer, and deserve the hearty thanks of all interested in the great, little college sport. It would be long and diligently to so frame the rules as to make the game less dangerous, and it looks as if they have succeeded. I am still opposed to the use of the straight arm in warding off opposing tacklers, which still stands, and I still think the game would be improved by limiting forward pass to behind the line of scrimmage. It would be impossible to satisfy everybody, however, and it is hoped that the committee for its earnest, painstaking work. Football is still in trial, but it is hoped that the question is now only a question of time.

Rochester's Sixth Straight.
ROCHESTER, May 16.—(Special.)—Manager Gansz's Hustlers won their sixth straight today by easily defeating Jersey City, 4 to 2. The Hustlers escaping a shut-out by a batting streak in the ninth that earned two runs. The Hustlers had difficulty in finding Merritt, the visitors' star twirler, at the needed moments. Today's victory puts Rochester in second place. To-morrow the Hustlers face the Bugs in the last game of the series. The score: A. B. R. H. O. A. E.

BRILLIANT PLAYED GAME WON BY KELLEYITES

Rochester, Newark and Baltimore
Win—Bill O'Hara Reports.

Alto Providence outthrew Toronto two to one, the Leafs won a brilliant 3-0 game yesterday in the third game of the series, simply because they made three of their four hits count in the score sheet. This, along with spectacular work on the defense, when two of the visitors were caught at the plate, gave the Kelleyites a hard-fought game.

Providence used two twirlers, starting with big Jack Cronin, and, although he was going nicely, he was dethroned in the fourth in favor of Lavender, who only allowed one single in his five innings, but that one bingle was converted into a run, by aid of two bases on balls and a sacrifice fly.

Rudolph served up the slants for the Leafs, the visitors getting away with two runs in the first inning, but after this, also he was touched up frequently, the Greys were prevented from scoring, because the men behind Dick were on their mettle.

Three players stood out prominently during the game, they being Elston, the Greys left fielder, who accepted six hard chances in the field that a falter would have gone for anything above a double, and making second on the return.

Providence made the Leafs work for the game right from the start, they coming up to bat in the first, when Phil was singled and was sacrificed to second by Arndt. Elston singled to left, scoring Phil.

It was one-two-three for the Greys in the third, and it might as well have been the same for the Leafs, so far as the scoring went, also Shaw got to second with one down, but neither Grimshaw nor Fitzpatrick could bring him home.

Both teams started strongly in the fourth, Collins, for the Leafs, getting up to second on a single, an infield out and the Greys' infield hit, but Peterson bounded to Deal, who caught the ball, after this, Deal started with a single for Toronto, but was forced by Vaughn at second.

The Leafs went out in order in the fifth, while in the sixth only one man, Toronto, was as first. It was not so with Toronto; however, they scoring their winning run in their half. Delahanty led off with a single, and forced at second by Fitzpatrick, Delahanty passed Deal, while Vaughn knocked up a short fly to Philan, but Delahanty beat the runner's score, and the Leafs made their third single of the day by beating out the Vaughn, the latter getting a hard hit over the stand back of first, which Deal corralled in, and the tension was removed till the ninth, when, with one down, Rock singled, but Peterson fanned, and Weiday, batting for Lavender, forced Rock out at second.
