BISHOP URGES OBSERVANCE OF ADVENT SEASON

Penance, Prayer and Almsgiving—Cathedral Altar Fund $18,255

Yesterday was the first Sunday of Advent and in the Cathedral His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc devoted his sermon to this subject. This holy season was a time of special preparation for the great feast of Christmas and also it commemorated the 4,000 years during which the world awaited the coming of the Saviour.

The Church, he said, urged its members to penance, prayer and almsgiving in a special manner during the weeks preceding Christmas. As acts of penance he spoke of confession, the curbing of the passions, guarding the tongue from uncharitableness, closing the eyes to evil and shutting the ears against wrongful things; also disciplining the appetite in eating and drinking. In connection with the latter His Lordship said that the drinking habit was not so prevalent now in olden days but still there was much of it and the taste for drink was only too easily acquired under a belief that stimulant was necessary at times.

As to alms giving, His Lordship pointed to yesterday's collection for the work of St. Vincent de Paul Society for the poor of the parish as an excellent means to exercise this other way to give for the support of the children under the care of the Sisters of Charity and the Nuns of the Good Shepherd.

ALTAR FUND

It was announced that the collection was taken up on the third Sunday of November for the Cathedral Altar Fund amounted to $609.20 and that the total to date for the procuring of the new altar for the Cathedral was $18,255.

The appeal of the Society for Prevention of Tuberculosis was commended to the people at the Masses yesterday. A novena in honor of the Immaculate Conception will be begun in the Cathedral this evening and will continue until Dec. 7.

CHILDREN OF MARY

The Children of Mary of Assumption church held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon and elected officers for the coming year. The officers elected were: President, Miss S. Murphy; vice-president, Miss Mary Kelly; recording secretary, Miss Annie Ring; financial secretary, Miss Jean Cormier; executive committee, Misses Winnie Graham, Nellie Sullivan and Elly Kane.

It was decided to hold a public reception the first Sunday following the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, when it is expected new members will be admitted to the society. The annual reports showed a past president, Miss Patricia Hennessey, being especially commended.

The spiritual adviser, Rev. H. Ramage, gave a short address during the meeting.

IN ST. ROSE'S

At St. Rose's church yesterday Rev. Wilfred Mallette celebrated 8 o'clock Mass. The pastor, Rev. M. T. Murphy, celebrated 10 o'clock, the sermon being preached by Father Mallette. The sermon was taken from the gospel of Luke the first Sunday of Advent, chapter 11, verses 28-33.

SIXTY-EIGHT WERE CONFIRMED HERE

Bishop Richardson Administers Sacrament Morning and Evening Sunday

The sacrament of confirmation was administered by His Lordship Bishop Richardson to 61 candidates in the Mission Church St. John the Baptist last evening. The candidates were 29 girls and women and 19 boys and men and a few were from the parish of Simonds, of which Rev. C. W. Follett is rector.

The large congregation filled, not only the church, but a very large part of the Sunday school also. Rev. J. V. Young, priest in charge, was assisted in conducting the service by Mr. Follett who read the lessons. The Bishop in his address told of the scriptural authority for confirmation and explained the obligations which the candidates assumed.

He laid special stress upon the importance of Holy Communion and said that if years ago it had been regarded as the chief service of the church as it should be, the number of Anglicans in New Brunswick today would be five times as great.

Bishop Richardson also assisted Father Young at the 8 o'clock celebration of Holy Communion in the morning when the Laymen's Association made corporate attendance, and there was an exceptionally large number present.

Bishop Richardson also administered confirmation at the 11 o'clock service in St. Paul's church, when 17 candidates were presented by the rector, Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot.

SIGNS OF WINTER

Sergeant Dykeman and Detective Kinpatrick responded to a call to Waterloo street yesterday to disperse a number of boys who were coasting with sleds on the sidewalk in front of St. Mary's church. A number of boys were acting in the same manner on Charlotte street, near St. James, during the afternoon and evening.

STRUCK BY AUTO.

Robert Baird, 686 Main street, was struck and knocked down by automobile No. 4100 driven by Mr. Whitehouse, in Haymarket square at 5:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Mr. Baird was taken to Mowatt's drug store where first aid was given to a severe cut on the back of one of his hands, after which he was taken to his home.

New Organist Here

E. A. COLLINS, who succeeds Miss Alice Hea as choir leader in Centenary church.

MISS HEA RETIRES FROM CHURCH POST

Succeeded as Organist in Centenary by E. A. Collins of London

Miss Alice Hea, who for about 30 years has been the organist and choir leader of Centenary church, giving most devoted and faithful service in the dual capacity, retires this week from those strenuous duties and her associates in the choir as well as the members of the congregation are sorry indeed to have that relationship severed.

Miss Hea's services have been of the best and have been very greatly appreciated. She has completed an unusual and most successful record and will be greatly missed.

Miss Hea's successor, E. A. Collins, Mus. B. (Cantab) F. R. C. O., is a native of London, England, and is accompanied by his wife and child.

THE NEW ORGANIST

Mr. Collins, who is a native of London, England, takes up his duties as organist and choir director of Centenary United Church the first Sunday in December. He comes to Saint John with high credentials and should prove a valuable acquisition to the musical talent of this city. He has filled the following appointments: Organist, Aspull Parish church, Suffolk, 1908-1911; organist and choir master Littleport Parish church, Cambridge, and senior assistant organist Ely Cathedral 1911-1915; lieutenant in charge of British bands in the Near East, and lecturer in music to the British army 1917-1920; organist and choirmaster St. Paul's (non-conformist) church, Cairo, 1919-1920; Stowmarket Parish church, Suffolk, 1920-1925, and senior assistant organist of St. James, Kidbrooke, S. E. London. Additional appointments have brought him closely in contact with orchestral, vocal and operatic work.

Mr. Collins holds the F. R. C. O. diploma (January, 1919), and the degree of Mus. B. (Cantab) with residence 1923). His concert at Cambridge were Professor Charles Wood and Dr. C. B. Rootham.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins will reside at 207 King street east.

SENT HOME

Two young boys, each aged six years, were found by Police Sergeant McLeese and Constable Vanwart, wandering on Charlotte street at 8:45 o'clock Saturday night. The lads were sent to their homes.

NO DAMAGE DONE

The Fairview fire department was called out at 1:30 yesterday noon for an alarm from box 24 for a chimney fire in the residence of James Ferguson at Milford. By the time the department arrived the fire had been extinguished. No damage was done.

CARS COLLIDE

Automobile No. 18,167, driven by David Brown, of Gagetown, and No. 6188, driven by Arthur Sproule, collided at Haymarket square at 8:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The car of Sproule was bent and an axle broken on the Gagetown car. It was towed to a repair shop.

As Hiram Sees It

"There's a feller that seems to be spyin' out the land," says I to the 'town feller, pinto' in the patch of moonlight on Long Beach.

"That," says he, "is the ghost of James Simonds, a feller from Haverhill, Massachusetts. Between 1759 and '76 he looked over a lot of Nova Scotia—including the Saint John river. He liked it best as a place for a tradin' and fishin' station. He got the promise of a grant of 5,000 acres, and 'him an' his brother Richard settled at the mouth of the river. Capt. Francis Peabody was already there—lived in at Portland Point. He lived in a house with an oak frame that they say was brought from Newburyport. He sold it to James Simonds in 1765 an' moved up to Mauderville. The Injuns wasn't friendly yit—an' Richard Simonds lost his life in that year—defendin' the tradin' company's property when the redskins tried to carry it off. Peabody an' the Simonds brothers was settled at the mouth of the river when the folks come to settle at Mauderville in 1762—but Peabody was one of the signers for the grant up there an' was appointed their agent to go to Halifax an' fix things up. James Simonds got to be quite an important feller afore he died. That was his ghost we jist seen in the moonlight on the river."

PROSPERITY VISIIONED FOR GREAT BRITAIN

British Trade Commissioner at Winnipeg Arrives Here From England

A coming era of prosperity was predicted for Great Britain by A. M. Wiseman, British Trade Commissioner at Winnipeg, who arrived here yesterday on the Canadian Pacific steamer Montreal from England en route to Winnipeg.

In an interview, Mr. Wiseman said that it was very difficult to form an adequate opinion of conditions in Great Britain at the present time owing to the disruption caused by the coal strike. Considering the difficulty under which manufacturers had been laboring, their production has been surprisingly high, said Mr. Wiseman, and export, particularly of manufactured products, had been maintained to a much greater extent than the most optimistic had hoped for.

While it was true that statistics showed that imports into that country had increased largely, this was mainly due to the large importations of coal, made necessary by the strike. The same reason was true of the falling off in exports, the complete stoppage of the exportation of coal causing the decline in these figures.

SPEAKS OF STRIKE

Speaking of the strike, Mr. Wiseman said that it did not show on the surface and that life among the general people had been very little affected by it. When he left England men were returning daily to the mines and there was every prospect of an immediate resumption, he said.

The general opinion held by business men in Great Britain was that once the coal production became normal that country was in for a greater period of prosperity than it had enjoyed for years. Satisfactory orders were being placed in England, especially in engineering and construction projects, and once it could be assured that the work could be carried out without too much delay there, scores of many municipal and foreign governments who would place orders in England.

WORK OF ANTI-T. B. SOCIETY ENDORSED

Ministers of City Churches Stress Importance of Supporting it

Earnest pleas for support of the Saint John Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis were made from the pulpits of the city churches yesterday, when practically all of the clergy acceded to the request of the society to bring the matter to the attention of their congregations.

Rev. Hugh Miller, speaking in St. David's church, said the society was striving to bring about a better understanding of tuberculosis as a preventable disease and was endeavoring to have the people observe the laws, which would help in its control and prevention in the interests of general health.

Mr. Miller said he felt that everyone was well aware of the splendid work which the society was doing and he pointed out that this work was financed solely through the sale of Christmas seals.

He asked that the seals should find ready and willing purchasers.

DOG IS SAVED.

A dog, trapped near the foot of Mecklenburg street by the incoming tide Saturday afternoon, was rescued from drowning by a man who, attracted by its frantic efforts to escape, called on two other men for assistance. A ladder was got and the animal saved. The dog's paws were cut in its efforts to escape and were attended to by its rescuers.

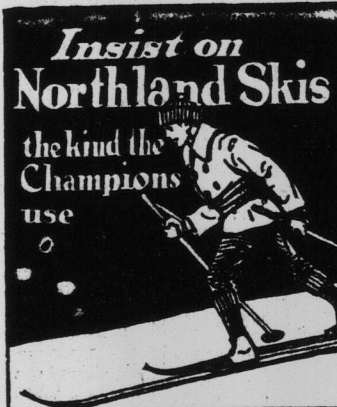

WAS WANDERING.

A four year old boy became lost in Charlotte street Saturday afternoon. He was taken by Policemen to his headquarters for safety. Later he was called for by his mother, Mrs. George Dixon, Delhi street, who explained that the boy had been to a movie show with an elder brother and they had become separated.
