

CANTLEY PROTESTS UNFAIR WOOD'S ESTATE RAIL RATES O MARITIMES TO RELATIVES

Grain Products Can Be Taken Overseas and Brought Back to Sydney Cheaper Than By Direct Shipment By Roads

C. B. COKE URGED FOR MID-CANADA

Nova Scotia's Union With Dominion Titled Marriage of Convenience and About as Successful as Weddings of This Class, in Commons' Speech

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—Another sitting of the house failed to bring an end to the debate on the Conservative amendment to the address.

The Maritime case was prominent in the afternoon's discussion. Col. Thomas Cantley, Conservative, Pictou, described the union of Nova Scotia with the rest of Canada as a marriage of convenience, with the marriage settlement written by the family solicitor in Downing street.

The marriage had proved no more successful than most other marriages of that class. Provision of the British North America Act, as expounded and interpreted to the people of Maritimes prior to the union, had not been implemented, nor had promises made been carried out.

Col. Cantley gave detailed attention to railway freight rates. He protested against "discriminations" against the Maritimes. Existing rates, he claimed, discriminated in favor of the foreign worker.

Fred Davis, Conservative of Calgary, factor in the interprovincial trade of East, said that since the Australian treaty came into effect 3,727,174 pounds of Australian butter had been imported by Canada. This, in three months, was an increase of 3,228,833 pounds.

There were no Liberal speakers during the meeting.

MARITIME CHAMPIONS.

Col. Cantley commenced his speech by saying that 11 Bluenos Nova Scotia Conservatives in the house were champions of the Maritimes and also loyal to the policies of the party out of office.

Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of interior, pointed out that the government does not fix railroad rates, but the government was willing to use its good offices to seek to relieve any distress whenever possible.

ASKS LOWER COAL RATE

Canadian Press Despatch.

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—T. Cantley asked in the house if the government was willing to give the same rate on 15,000 tons of coal from the Maritimes as had been given on the 25,000 tons from Alberta.

Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of interior, pointed out that the government does not fix railroad rates, but the government was willing to use its good offices to seek to relieve any distress whenever possible.

lined by their leader to whom they look for a vindication of their rights. The entrance of Nova Scotia to confederation had been a marriage of convenience and as such it had not been successful.

PROTESTS RATES IN EAST.

Mr. Cantley went into the question of freight rates in the Maritimes of considerable length, and protested against the discrimination and classification and rates against the Maritimes in comparison with other provinces. Grain products could be taken overseas from American ports and brought back to Sydney cheaper than they could be taken direct to Sydney by rail. By the all-rail route to Sydney or by rail and water route from the West, the differential still existed. The existing rates were a discrimination in favor of foreign competitors. The mine workers of France and Germany were given a preference by the export rates of Canada over the Maritime workers.

1916 RATES DOUBLED.

Some rates were double what they were in 1916 on westbound freight and inter-provincial trade was impossible under such conditions, he said. Col. Cantley gave the figures of cost of freight transportation from Ontario and Quebec West, and showed that these were much lower than rates from Nova Scotia. He demanded equality and fair freight rates on her basic industries. Discrimination in the matter of rates existed at the present time on the products of Nova Scotia. No one could doubt that the grievances of the Maritime Provinces were genuine ones. He appealed for the support of members of the house towards removing the injustices from which the citizens of the Maritime Provinces were suffering.

COMPARISONS MADE

Some comparisons between the freight rates for products of the Maritime Provinces when carried by ocean to the West Indies and other places, with the prevailing railway rates from points in the Maritime Provinces to Central Canada were made by Col. Cantley. He asked that the Maritimes be given as low a rate on their coal moving to the central markets as that prevailing on the movement of Alberta coal.

Argument Heard In P. W. Thomson Case

FREDERICTON, Feb. 10.—The Appeal Division, Supreme Court, this afternoon heard argument in the case of Village of Rothesay, Incorporated, vs. Percy W. Thomson. This is an appeal from a verdict against the defendant for assessment both for general purposes and for assessment in school district No. 3, Parish of Rothesay. The chief point is the definition of the place of domicile of the defendant. H. A. Porter and Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., were heard for the defendant. W. P. Jones, K. C., is on the other side.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Mulford's coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and greasy, and is better than any other hair wash you can use.

Two or three teaspoonsful of Mulford's is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulford's coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulford's. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

McGarrigle-Miller.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Monday morning at St. Mary's Cathedral, North Bay, Ontario, when John Frederick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Miller, 91 First avenue east, was united in marriage to Anna Geraldine McGarrigle, of Saint John, N. B., at nuptial mass. The bride-maid was Miss Helen Miller, sister of the groom, who was supported by Frank A. McGarrigle, brother of the bride.

The bride looked charming in a grey crepe gown, with green and rose cut velvet trimming and green hat to match and carried a beautiful bouquet of orchids and roses, while the bride-maid looked becoming in a pretty costume of powder blue brocaded satin with hat to match and carried a bouquet of American beauty roses.

After the ceremony the mother and father of the groom were hosts and hostess at a prettily decorated breakfast table, which was presided over by Rev. Father Kennedy. A toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Mayor Dan Barker, in which he wished them health, happiness and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller left on C. P. R. No. 1, for a short honeymoon. On their return they will reside with the LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 11.—The will of William W. Wood, former president of the American Wool Company, filed here for probate, divided the principal estate into three trusts for the benefit of two surviving children and the children of the late William W. Wood, Jr. All personal and real estate was left to the widow and a clause in the will says: "My failure to provide otherwise in this will for my wife is due to no lack of love or appreciation, but in this act in accordance with her expressed wish."

Two parts of the estate are left to Cornelius A. Wood and the Old Colony Trust Company as trustees for Cornelius A. Wood and Rosalind Wood, the surviving children of the testator, to be disposed of as they by will shall appoint.

BOOKKEEPER GETS $50,000.

The other one-third is left in trust for the children of William W. Wood, Jr. Among other bequests are three of $50,000 each to Willard A. Currier of Shawshen, a friend of the Wood family for many years, Mr. Wood's bookkeeper, and George M. Wallace, West Parish, Andover, is bequeathed $10,000; August and Peter Fredrikson, employees at the Wood estate, will receive $5,000 each. Several employees of former employers are given $1,000 each. The bequests also included one of $100,000 to William M. Wood, Jr., one of the children of William W. Wood, Jr., to be given him on reaching the age of thirty. Whether or not this was part of the third of the estate mentioned earlier could not be ascertained.

NIECE GETS $1,500 ANNUALLY.

Mr. Wood's brother, Henry J. Wood, of California, receives $1,500 annually to go annually to his niece, Mrs. Ada Patterson, of New York, and provision is made for the maintenance of his sister Susan "in her present home," which was not named.

Mrs. Wood would not comment on the clause of the will referring to her beyond saying that "Mr. Wood expressed his desire that his estate be an inventory. This will be made after the will is allowed."

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter them from the blood and they become soft and paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clogged you will feel a dull ache like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water salts, and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get your own pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful from the glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with grapes and lemon juice, combined with system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness. It is a pleasant, palatable, and cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water.

Wallace, West Parish, Andover, is bequeathed $10,000; August and Peter Fredrikson, employees at the Wood estate, will receive $5,000 each. Several employees of former employers are given $1,000 each. The bequests also included one of $100,000 to William M. Wood, Jr., one of the children of William W. Wood, Jr., to be given him on reaching the age of thirty. Whether or not this was part of the third of the estate mentioned earlier could not be ascertained.

NIECE GETS $1,500 ANNUALLY.

Mr. Wood's brother, Henry J. Wood, of California, receives $1,500 annually to go annually to his niece, Mrs. Ada Patterson, of New York, and provision is made for the maintenance of his sister Susan "in her present home," which was not named.

Mrs. Wood would not comment on the clause of the will referring to her beyond saying that "Mr. Wood expressed his desire that his estate be an inventory. This will be made after the will is allowed."

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter them from the blood and they become soft and paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clogged you will feel a dull ache like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water salts, and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get your own pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful from the glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with grapes and lemon juice, combined with system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness. It is a pleasant, palatable, and cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water.
