On a joyous April day.
Sang with aughter, light and droll-Sing with mirth in each o ue eye Hide me, O my Saviour, bide

Till the storm of die is post Safe into the haven guide; O receive my soul at last ing a maiden with a face Free from look of earthly car With a form o' fauitless grace, With a wreath of golden hair. Sang with heart by grief untried Sang with no regretful past: "Sate into the haven guide;

O receive my soul at last! Other refuge have I none -Hangs my helpless soul on Thee Leave, sh! is we me not alone -Still support and comfort me! Sang a mother while she bowed O'er her baby as it lay Wrapped within its snowy shroud On a dreary Autumn day, Sang of hopes forever flown -Sang of eyes that could not see Leave, sh! leave me not alone

Still support and comfort me ! All my trust in Thee is stayed All my help from Thee I vring Cover my defenceless head With the shadow of Fhy wing !" Faint and weary in the race, In Death's winter evening gray, With a sweet, angelic face, Dicamed a woman. Far away,
As the feeble twilight fled, Angels seemed with her to sing Cover my desenteless head

With the shadow or thy wing Let me to Thy bosom fly While the billows near me roll, While the tempest still is high Ah! how soon our hopes decay-We must suffer and endure
