Got a Better One.

A mishap that might have been attended with serious, if not fatal results, occurred this morning in the Bank of Montreal building, at the entrance of the C. P. R. general offices. Shortly before ten o'clock about ten feet square of plaster fell without warning from the ceiling. The plaster was over an inch thick and made such a noise when it struck the floor that it startled everyone in the building. When the dust settled a quiet indivividual was seen standing on the wire mat at the door and calmly asked if he could get a job. It seems that the closed doors. It was decided to send A. J. McLean the balance due for the ferry plans, and also to ask Mr. McLean to come here and discuss several ferry matters. For this trip he will receive $50. One matter to be settled is that of the inspecting of the beat during the plant of the inspecting of the beat data at Pugwash of Dr. R. A. Calvin Austin Delayed While Officials Looked For a Stow Away.

The steamer Calvin Austin was delayed in her departure this morning for a rather funny cause. Just as the steamer was leaving the wharf a tramp-looking individual, who had been for Boston. refused by the immigration officials to board the steamer about an hour previous, hopped aboard. The tramp's little dodge was discovered by the immi-gration officials, the steamer was brought back to the wharf and a search immediately set on foot for his tramp ship. It, however, was a long search The tramp was not long in making himself scarce in the intricate ways of the big steamer and it was fully an hour before he was brought to light. He was put ashore and the steamer de-
