BISHOP MEDLEY'S BOOKS

Various Libraries.

FREDERICTON, Aug. 6.-The library of the late Bishop Medley, metropolitan of Canada, which has been almost untouched since his death, when some of his most valuable books were sent to England to his surviving sons, has now been disturbed by Mrs. Medley. About fifteen hundred have been given in augmentation of the cathedral library, which already consists and his instructions are to keep the of between 3,000 and 4,000 volumes, and covers the theological field fairly well, containing very many of the standard works of Catholic and English theology, besides general literature. So there has now been added by Mrs. Medley's kindness some more modern books, including a whole set of T. & T. Clark's foreign theological library, being translations into English of the great German writers. There are also among these books several valuable treatises on church architecture; many of the more recent works of English scholars; and in addition the whole musical library of the late bishop to the number of nearly 300 volumes. Copies of the great oratorios, many of the best masses, and other sacred compositions, with works on the theory and history of music; the whole comprising a most acceptaable and noteworthy contribution to the cathedral which Bishop Medley built and which will always be his best monument. The books have been set up in the south transept of the cathedral at Mrs. Medley's expense.

The remaining books have been divided between the six deaneries of the diocese, as a supplement to the libraries already belonging to them. The nucleus of each of these deanery libraries was originally the books provided for the colonial clergy by a bequest left some 200 years ago by Rev. Dr. Bray, from which fund these deanery libraries are from time to time replenished. From 150 to 200 volumes have been presented to each deanery library by Mrs. Medley. Catalogues have been made, labels recordriage paid. Letters have come acknowledging very gratefully the reclergyman, which oftentimes his slender stipend does not admit of his purand so diligently studied by the metropolitan, could not have been put to a

A New Fog Signal on Otter Island-Liability of Company For Baggage.

BANGOR, Aug. 5.-As a result of the recent disaster to the steamer City of Rockland on Gangway and Northwest ledges, the Eastern Steamship Company has decided to erect a fog bell on a tripod on Otter Island, to the south of Gangway ledge, and on Wednesday eastern agent F. S. Sherman went out to that island to make an inspection of the locality, and appointed Alfred B. Smith to take charge of the fog signal. Smith lives near the island bell tolling in foggy weather, day and night.

The expense will be paid by the steamboat company. Mr. Sherman went to Boston Wednesday night to arrange for the building of the signal has finally awakened to the fact, also, that the can buoy near the Gangway ledge, which has been frequently reported to have been shifted to the eastward by the ice, should be properly placed, and a lighthouse tender has moved it to the proper position.

Mr. Sherman made a brief tour o up missing articles of baggage and freight. The body of a piano, which has been missing since the wreck, was recovered Wednesday, but the legs have not yet been found.

Chief Engineer Hathorn of the Eastern S. S. Co. said Thursday that it probably will be Monday or Tuesday before the City of Rockland will be in condition to be towed to Boston. It had been expected to start Friday or Saturday.
