LADIES' SHIRT-WAIST, WITH REMOVABLE COLLAR.

No. 2114.—An extremely stylish shirt-waist with a removable collar having rounding front corners is here pictured made of electric-blue spotted flannel. It is shaped with a square back-yoke that is extended over the shoulders with much the effect of a short front-yoke, reaching as it does to the closing, which is made at the center with buttons and button-holes through a box-plait formed in the center front. The fronts and back are joined in under-arm seams, and the fullness at the back is laid in two plaits at each side of the center below the yoke, the plaits being closely lapped at the waist and flaring above in graceful fan effect; the fronts are gathered where they join the yoke, and the fullness is drawn well to the center at the waist by two rows of shirrings and allowed to blouse slightly. The neck is finished with a fitted band, and to it is fastened with studs a standing collar made of white linen and having rounding corners. The shirt sleeves have the customary openings at the outside of the arm finished with the regulation underlaps and pointed over-laps; they are gathered at the top and bottom and finished with link cuffs made with rounding lower corners.

Broadcloth, flannel, cashmere, serge and taffeta are very popular shirt-waist materials for cool weather, and serge and plaid goods are also liked.

LADIES' EMPIRE TEA-JACKET OR DRESSING-SACK. (TO BE MADE WITH OR WITHOUT THE FANCY COLLAR.)

No. 2052.—By referring to figure No. 145 II in this magazine, this jacket may be seen differently made up.

This beautiful tea-jacket is fashioned in the becoming Empirestyle and is here illustrated made of fine white cashmere, with the fancy collar of all-over lace. A deep frill of edging decorates the fancy collar and wrists, and a narrow frill gives a touch of daintiness to the rolling collar. A square yoke shaped by shoulder seams supports full lower-ports, which are joined in under-arm seams; and the fullness is arranged in a broad rolling box-plait at each side of the center of the back and at each side of the closing, which is made with buttons and button-holes at the center of the front, the plaits falling free and flaring with stylish effect. The rolling collar has prettily flaring pointed ends, while the fancy collar, which is smooth and round, curves away decidedly from the throat. The use of the fancy collar is optional. The two-seam sleeves have their fashionable fullness collected in gathers at the top.

Cashmere, fine flannel, silk, lawn, nainsook and a variety of pretty fabrics are appropriate for this tea-jacket, and ruchings, plaitings, or shirred ribbon, lace edging and insertion may be used as lavishly as desired for decoration.

We have pattern No. 2052 in eight sizes for ladies from thirty to forty-four inches, bust measure. To make the tea-jacket for a lady of medium size, will require two yards and seven-eighths of dimity thirty-six inches wide, with three-eighths of a yard of lace net twenty-seven inches wide for the fancy collar, and four yards of edging two and three-fourths inches wide for the frill on the fancy collar and to trim the sleeves. Price of pattern, 10d. or 20 cents.
