

As The Result

Of a Neglected Cold
He Contracted

SEVERE BRONCHIAL TROUBLE.

Mr. W. T. Allen, Halifax, N.S., writes: "I feel that I would be doing you and your great remedy, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a gross injustice if I did not write and let you know the wonderful results that I have obtained from its use."

"Last spring I happened to contract a cold. Of course, this is a common occurrence, and I did not take any particular notice of it at the time. However, it did not break up as quickly as colds generally did with me, so after two weeks, and no sign of improvement, I began to get alarmed, and went to my local physician who informed me that I had contracted severe bronchial trouble as a result of neglecting my cold. He prescribed some medicine for me, which I took for about two weeks without any sign of improvement. I was getting pretty much discouraged by then, but one day a friend happened to be in to whom I was relating my trouble, and he advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, saying that he had obtained very beneficial results from its use in a similar case. I took his advice and procured several bottles from my druggist. After taking it, according to directions, for about two days, I noticed a decided improvement, and from that day on I began to get better, and in ten days I was in my usual health. I consider this an excellent showing for your remedy, and can highly recommend it to anyone afflicted as I was. I shall always put in a good word for it whenever the opportunity offers itself."

You can procure Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup from any druggist or dealer. Price, 25c and 50c. The genuine is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

rug. Good for him, I am glad I am not he only one that can do girls' work. I might say I can do most all the kinds of work thus: fancy work, crazy work, crochet lace, etc. I guess I am a lucky one. Now for a bit of sport, I will challenge "Dido" to see which can do the most kinds, and neatest work, and get one of the fair sex to judge. Now "Dido" will you accept the challenge? I would like to say that the one that does not win shall make the winner a cushion. Now "Dido" do you agree?

I guess I must close as I do not want to take up too much of your correspondence page. I am always eager for the W.H.M. to come. I wish it was a weekly paper myself. Now readers I would like to know what you think of my challenge. My address is with the editor. I am yours truly

"Scout."

The Western Home Monthly a Welcome Guest

Daysville, Sask. March 16, 1915.

Dear Editor—I enclose herewith my renewal subscription for the Western Home Monthly, which is a welcome guest every month. I enjoy the correspondence column and turn over to its page first. This is the first time I have picked up enough courage to write, but if you do not like me put me in the waste basket. I am at present enjoying the country first class. There has been quite a lot of parties this winter, which I suppose will soon come to an end now that the busy days are here. I hope the people will get a good crop this year, as last year was quite a failure.

Well I will ring off now, wishing your paper every success. Would any of you members care to write? I will sign myself

The Wild Blue Eyes.

A Reply to the Two Broncho Busters

Creston, B.C., March 28, 1915.

Dear Sir—As I have not noticed anything from Creston for a long time will write a few lines. Creston is situated half way between Cranbrook and Nelson or about 68 miles from each of the above thrifty cities. We are in a lovely timbered valley at an altitude of 1900 feet. We are served by two railroads, the C.P.R. and Great Northern. We have an ideal climate and almost every one is raising the big red apple. We also grow strawberries and all kinds of fruit excepting tropical fruit. We have plenty of good water, the Kootenay and Goat Rivers run through the valley. There is a big river bottom along the river comprising some 40 or 60 thousand acres which overflows most summers and which there is some talk of the Government reclaiming.

I am enclosing a few verses in answer to some written by two girls from Idlewild and published in the Western Home Monthly. If you think they are good enough for publication all right. If not you know where to put them

Up among the B.C. mountains

Close beside a lovely lake,

Live two husky hearty laddies

One is Bill and one is Jake

They're the pride of all the valley
And the girls all like their style,
Round their strawberries girls all rally
Sure and all the lassies smile.

For they grow the big red apple
And tomatoes all grow fine,
With the plums they also grapple
And the cherries how they shine.

So if the two Prairie Chickens
Who ride ponies Star and Pride
Would write us as sure as Dickens
We would soon be by their side.

Now if you two Broncho Busters
Will just write us mountain boys
We would fill your hearts with lustre
Which would be one round of joys.
Bill and Jake.

A Sure Corrective of Flatulency.—When the undigested food lies in the stomach it throws off gases causing pains and oppression in the stomachic region. The belching or eructation of these gases is offensive and the only way to prevent them is to restore the stomach to proper action. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do this. Simple directions go with each packet and course of them taken systematically is certain to effect a cure.

"Bookworm"

Man., 11, 4, 15.

Dear Editor—I have been a silent reader of the Western Home Monthly for some time; now I am going to try to make myself heard. If I don't succeed this time, perhaps I may try again.

Several of the letters in the April number interested me very much. I should like to hear from "Bookworm" as I am a bookworm myself and understand the feeling.

I am a farmer's daughter. One of the kind who takes all the fun that comes their way and looks for more. Like Estrella, I am fond of skating, but do not dance. For anyone who does though, I think it must be grand keeping time to music. I must close now and leave room for some one else. Yours sincerely

Assunta

"Advice for Mere Bachelor"

Elkhorn, Man., March 21, 1915.

Dear Editor—I have been a silent reader of the Western Home Monthly for some time, but I feel I can not be silent any longer. I live on a farm and find the evenings very long as I have not got acquainted yet. We lived on a farm before though and I am very fond of animals so I expect I shall like it better later on. I am a young girl and very fond of life. I hope the editor will give my letter space in his valuable paper. I wish to tell the "Mere Bachelor" that I hope he finds the kind of a girl he likes but he better be careful or he is going to scare all the girls. Most girls like to be dressed well no matter what other good or bad qualities they have. I do not care for a girl who is too fond of dress. Neither do I care for one who is satisfied with anything for there is nothing that looks worse than an untidy young woman. Well I will sign myself,

Adeline.

A New Arrival

Sask., March 29, 1915.

Dear Editor—I have often been tempted to write to the correspondence column, but until now, have never yielded to the temptation. However I have made a start and trust that my first letter will escape the waste paper basket. Although I have taken the Western Home Monthly but a few months, I must say it is a fine paper and I enjoy the letters immensely. Is not this war terrible and the awful slaughter of mankind that is being caused by it all? It really makes one dread to look at the papers. Luckily, I left the shores of dear old England just before it started; but am sorry, yet proud to say, I have relatives and friends who are now fighting in the midst of it all. How anxiously I am waiting for the day when peace is proclaimed.

I am not much good with the pen, but would like to exchange correspondence with anyone who cares to write, and will answer all letters to the best of my ability. Wishing the W.H.M. every success, will sign myself,

"Girl from England."

A Cure for the Blues

A sensible girl who in June two years ago married the man of her choice, and with him love in a cottage, has discovered a potent remedy for the little disappointments and blue fits which seem the inevitable portion of humanity here below.

"Whenever things go dead wrong or we are disappointed in anything to which we have been looking forward," she says, "I try to have things especially nice both as to my own person and about the house until the mood passes. It is wonderful what a good feeling it gives one!"

"Last week, for instance, when a sudden but imperative visit from the plumber absorbed the pennies we had been saving for a little theatre treat, I couldn't help a feeling of rebellion against poverty. The night we were to have gone to the play, however, I had the house spandy clean and orderly, with flowers on the table, and wore my prettiest house frock, with my hair dressed in a new way.

"You wouldn't believe how the consciousness of having risen superior to circumstances and of having conquered fate helped me over the disappointment, and I think Jack experienced the same thing."
