"THE WIDOW" IN THE SOUTH

"A PHENOMENAL BOOK."—N. O. Picayune

"One of the best things that could happen to the South would be to have every man, woman and child in the country read this charming work. The author's style flows as pellucid as a piney woods brook, all the clearer for the shining sand and humor at the bottom."—New Orleans Picayune.

"Written with a breezy cleverness that will well repay perusal."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

"A good work, written by a woman who evidently has brains as well as sympathies."—Globe-Democrat.

"The Widow' writes honestly, without heat or prejudice, but as she is and has been a practical woman of affairs and on the staff of great papers, she is able to extract the kernel of sentiment regarding the South. She drops telling sentences."

—Courier-Journal.
