On Wednesday Mr. Aubin, the Editor, and Mr. Jacquies, the printer of the Fatasque, were arrested and committed to prison, and their office was at the same time seized. We do not know the particular act upon which the charge was grounded that led to these proceedings, but the writings in their paper have for a long time been of a most sediuous tendency, rendered more dangerous by the wit and paquant humour of the Editor. We are informed than teither the one nor the other of these parties are natives of Canada. Jacquies, who ris a printer, has resided for some time in Quebec and has worked in most of the establishments in this city. Mercuey. On Wednesday Mr. Aubin, the Edit or, and

The following lines, the composition of pri-vate Williams, of the Coldstream Guards, was delivered by him on Tuesday night, on the occasion of a public dinner being given by the serjeants of that Regiment to the serjeants of the Queen's Volunteers:—

the Queen's Volunteers;—

Hark! 'tis the call of the soul-stirring bugle,—

The 'Assembly' is sounded,—let's baste and begone Hark to the loyal shout! death to the rebet rout!

Macdonnell, Glengarry will soon lead you on.

The war cry is op, it hath summoned the brave! These brigands shall feel we've crossed over the wave?

They scorn all our offers,—our mercy abuse,—And quarter to Britons they've sworn to refuse.
They murder and plunder in Liberty's name;
Oh' let not such monsters the godden, defame,
The signal hath sounded let's haste and begone Glengarry hath monated his war stred upon.

He's brave as the lion and bold as the eagle That sours from Benlomond to face the bright sun Follow your leader then—down with the rebels, mer —Make sure of your mark with the bayonet or gun

He hath fought in the field that is famous in story And formen shall find it hath not been in vain; Wait for your rders, then—be not impatient, men 're conquer the rebels, or die on the plain.

Cannons are roaring,—small arms are showering, Destruction is lowering abroad and around? See, they are flying, falling, and dying! See, how their bodies now cover the ground!

Down with the whole of them-leave not a soul of She z them no quarter, for you would have none : Give them their only due-death to the dastare crew: Charge! 'tis Glengarry that now leads you on-

THIE real and substantial advantages afforded to the Public by well-regulated Establishments for the Assurance of Lives, and the sound basis on which these institutions are founded, are proved, incontestably, by their complete and continued success, and by the remarkable fact, that, in no one instance, have they ever fuded in their engagements, in consequence of an exhaustion of the Funda provised to meet the claims. So detected and so maniLife Assurance in general, both in regard to the Provision it affords to Families in the event of premature death, and the Security it gives to Creditors fordelts otherwise irrecoverable, that with every increase of information and intelligence, here appears to be excited, on the part of the Public, an increased desire to participate in its protective advantages. So sound and uncerting also are the principles on which Life Assurance Companies are baed, that neither commercial difficulties and disters and the one hand, son pestidential mainadies on the other, have never a decrete their stability or japoeded theirspace-eachly progress.

ASURANCES MAY RITHER BE EFFECTED AY FARTHES ON THEIR OWN LIVES, OR BY PARTIES INTEREFFECTHER ON THE LIVES OF OTHERS.

The effect of an Assurance on a person's own life is to create at ance, a Property in Receivin, which can by no other members be realized.
Take, for instance, the case of a person at the age of Thirty, who by the payment of £5 3s. 4d.
can become at once, possessed of a boyuneathable property omounting to £1000, subject only to the Assurances may be advantageously effected on the lives of others, either for the purpose of seenring foats or debts, or in any case where the party has an interest in tue life of another, so as to be in the condition of this forbearance in not insisting upon the immediate payment of such Premium
