

MONEY TO LOAN

We have instructions to place a large sum on private funds at current rates of interest.

VALUABLE VILLAGE LOTS IN ATHENS FOR SALE

13 Village lots in the Kerr Block, Athens, facing on Kerr St., 5 on Prince, 5 on Pearl, all large lots, and near the S.W. station.

To Rent The Geo. Latham farm, near Algunes Corners, 5 miles east of Athens.

VALUABLE VILLAGE PROPERTY FOR SALE

The subscriber offers for sale on easy terms of payment the following very valuable property situated in the Village of Athens:

The Athens Race Track consisting of about 30 acres of choice land, well watered, and well fenced.

50 Acres of the Cameron Farm in a good state of cultivation, well fenced, sugar bush, and good drilled wells.

Also 11 Village Lots including a fine brick residence on Wilson Street.

BRISTOL'S BRISTOL'S Sarsaparilla and SUGAR PILLS

The Greatest of all Liver, Stomach and Blood Medicines.

A SPECIFIC FOR Rheumatism, Gout and Chronic Complaints.

They Cleanse and Purify the Blood.

All Druggists and General Dealers.

GO TO Lyndhurst Tin Shop FOR YOUR

Sap Buckets, Evaporating Pans, Storage Tanks, and all Sugar-Making Utensils

Prices to suit the times.

G. B. FALLMAN LYNDHURST March 21 1896

The Old Shop A New Prop'r

C. G. WING AN EXPERIENCED BARBER

Has taken possession of the business lately carried on by W. J. McLaughlin, and was prepared to do first-class work.

Old P.O. Building Next H.H. Arnold's where he will be found ready at all times to attend to the wants of customers.

FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS DUNN'S BAKING POWDER THE COOK'S BEST FRIEND LARGEST SALE IN CANADA.

EVERY FAMILY SHOULD KNOW THAT

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER

Is a very remarkable remedy, both for INTERNAL and EXTERNAL use, and is well adapted to the quick action to relieve distress.

PAIN-KILLER is a sure cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Burns, Scalds, Bruises, and all other painful affections.

PAIN-KILLER is the BEST REMEDY for all cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Burns, Scalds, Bruises, and all other painful affections.

PAIN-KILLER is the BEST REMEDY for all cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Burns, Scalds, Bruises, and all other painful affections.

GREAT HORSE DEAL

The Market for High-Class Equines is Booming in Kitley—Sweet Violets Blooming in Brookville.

Thou art perishing to no more my neighbors, I wish to profess a distinct advance in the market price of carriage horses and roadsters as the outcome of a deal made by me a few days ago.

A short time ago Dave Dowley's Fair cum off, one evening after chases was done up and supper put down, me and my woman was sitting down visiting each other, when a stranger rid into the yard and I happened out to receive him.

He was mounted on the highest, tuffest, and, generally speaking, the most ornery piece of horse-flesh I had ever seen. I brot a ladder and as the rider climbed down, he threw his hat over his head, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

I was becomingly impressed, and murmured amidst his offer his dainty perch by his hat, which bore a bright and shining King William band, and announced himself to be the Agricultural Editor of the Brookville Times.

PILL-AGE

Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills. 10c. a vial are Planned after the most modern in medical science.

They are great an improvement over the old-fashioned pills, and are a great relief to the sufferer.

Cinnamon Root Cakes taken them pleasant to take—being purely vegetable makes them absolutely safe—they never gripe and they never fail—40 doses, 10c at all druggists.

A Churn that Churns in One Minute I have been in the dairy business all my life and have many times churned an hour before butter would appear, so when I heard of a churn that would churn in a minute, I concluded to try it.

Every day for a week I used it, and not only could I churn in a minute, but I got more and better butter than with the common churn. This is a very important information to butter makers.

The churn works easily, and will churn an ordinary churning in less than 60 seconds. I have sold two dozen of these churns in the past month. Every butter maker that has seen me churn in less than a minute has bought one. You can obtain desired information regarding the churn by addressing J. F. Casey & Co., St. Louis, and they will give you prompt and courteous attention.

Traveled Half the Globe to Find Health, Without Success.

Took the Advice of a Friend and Now Proclaims It from the House-top—Saved My Life.

Mrs. H. Stapleton of Wingham writes:—I have been very much troubled for years—since 1878—with nervous debility and dyspepsia. Had been treated in Canada and England by some of the best physicians without permanent relief.

I was advised about three months ago to take South American Nerve and I finally believe I owe my life to it. I can truthfully say that I have derived more benefit from it than any treatment I ever had. I can strongly recommend it, and will never be without it myself. Sold by J. P. Lamb & Son.

A Great Chance to Make Money. I want to tell you of my wonderful success. Being a poor girl and needing money badly, I tried the Dish Washer business and have cleared $200 every month. It is more money than I ever had before and I can't help telling you about it, for I believe any person can do as well as I have if they only try. Dish Washers sold on Mountjoy every lady wants one. The Mountjoy City Dish Washer Co., St. Louis, Mo., will give you all necessary instructions, so you can begin work at once. The Dish Washer does good work; you can wash and dry the dishes in two or three minutes without putting your hands in the water. Washers at all times, and let us know how you succeed. ELIZABETH C.

"I HAD NO FAITH." But My Wife Persuaded Me to Try the Great South American Rheumatic Cure. Was Cured in 12 Hours.

J. D. McLeod of Leith, Ont., says: I have been a victim of rheumatism for seven years—confined to my bed for months at a time; unable to turn myself. Have been treated by many physicians without any benefit. I had no faith in rheumatism cures. I was advised to try the Great South American Rheumatic Cure from Mr. Taylor, druggist in Owen Sound. At that time I was in agony with pain. Inside of 12 hours after I had taken the first dose the pain had all left me. I continued until I had used three bottles, and I now consider myself completely cured. Sold by J. P. Lamb & Son.

Money Make It Yourself. I have never seen anything in the papers about the People's Wind Mill; we call it the "People's" because the inventor never patented it, but everybody gets it free. Any farmer can make a mill himself, and all the material complete will not cost more than $10. It is a splendid mill, will pump the deepest wells, and will last longer than any mill I ever had, any person can get diagrams and complete directions free, as I did, by sending 12-cent stamps to pay postage etc., to E. D. Wilson & Co., Allegheny, Pa. Wilson & Co. sell pumps, and when you get your wind mill you will be glad to sell you a pump. It is certainly useless if you need it or $60 for a win mill, when you can make one just as good for $10. I think there could be big money made putting these mills up would like them. A READER.

OUT OF THE TOILS. Physicians Failed, Cure Alls Failed—But the Great South American Rheumatic Cure Remedy for a Specific Rheumatism, Pains, Quicker and Permanently.

This is her testimony—"I was taken sick in January, 1893. I employed several of the best local physicians and was treated by them for kidney disease until the fall of the same year without receiving much benefit. I then began using your South American Kidney Cure, and derived great benefit almost immediately. I feel now that I am quite cured. I have taken no medicine for some length of time and have not had a return of the slightest symptom of the disease." Sold by J. P. Lamb & Son.

A Chance to Make Money. I have berries, grapes and such a year old fresh as when packed. I use the Italian Cold process, do not heat or seal the fruit, just put it up, cold, keeps perfectly fresh, and costs almost nothing; can put up a bushel in ten minutes. In one month I can sell ten minutes to over 120 families; anyone will pay a dollar for directions when they see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor like myself, I consider it my duty to give my experience to such, and feel confident any one can make one or two hundred dollars round home in a few days. I will mail sample of fruit and full directions, to any of our readers for 18-cent stamps, which is only the actual cost of the samples, postage etc. to me. FRANCIS CASEY, St. Louis, Mo.

OLD HORSE. A Grand Army Man Crosses Swords With Heart Disease and Wins a Glorious Victory with the Aid of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the heart can not be over estimated, says H. M. Murselman, a well known G. A. R. comrade of Weirport, Pa., and he continues: "My ailments were palpitation and throbbing of the heart. I used two bottles of your valuable cure and feel like a new man. I have taken bottles of other medicines without help. I introduce it to my friends at every opportunity possible. It is a great medicine. Inside of 30 minutes after the first dose I had relief." Sold by J. P. Lamb and Son.

COUNTY NEWS.

A Budget of News and Gossip. Personal and Miscellaneous.

TRAVELER. MONDAY, Oct. 19.—A grand "Green Tree" will be held in Beaver Hall, Trevelyan, on Tuesday, October 27th, under the auspices of the young ladies of St. James Church, for the purpose of defraying small church debts.

WILTSETOWN. MONDAY, Oct. 19.—Hawking bees are quite prevalent, and the boys are happy, especially when devouring pies and cakes.

Mrs. Jonah Stacey and Mrs. Wilton Towrie have recovered from their illness. Mrs. Stacey has returned home from Smith's Falls, where she has been attending the convention as a delegate from here.

Misses Oak Godkin and Bertha Westcott are the guests of Jennette Kelly over Sunday. Miss Maggie Barney, Plum Hollow, was visiting friends in this place.

Miss J. J. Brown, after an absence of three weeks, has returned to her home here. The farmers wear broader smiles as the prices of these advances.

Visitors: Miss Kate Flood, June town; Dan Hefferman, Charleston, at N. J. Roman's.

DULSEMAN. MONDAY, Oct. 19.—Will Sliter returned last week from visiting Manitoba. He has been kept busy answering questions about the country. During his stay there he travelled about a good deal, and was well pleased with his saw.

A new baby boy at E. G. Haskins' last week. Farmers are busy ploughing. Some say it is getting quite dry.

Revs. G. S. Reynolds, of Malorytown, and J. H. Robertson, of Enoch, have returned to their homes. The special services that are being carried on here. Mrs. D. J. Austin and family of Woodvale are the guests of Mr. Robt. Austin.

Mr. Robert Austin is busy now collecting for the school. We are glad to say that Mr. Cyrus Cross has returned home from the Brookville General Hospital, where he underwent a critical operation, having a tumor removed from under the skin of his chest. He is now at home, and is doing well.

North Ontario, and Miss Rachel Webster, of Malakoff, were the guests of their cousin, Miss Chattie Sliter, this week. The Misses Webster, of Bowell, were also her guests on Tuesday.

FRONTENAC. MONDAY, Oct. 19.—Mr. Ed Keyes gave the young folks of this locality a chance to show their agility by giving a mammoth ball at his residence. The elite of the town were present, and the merry lads and lasses were in high spirits. Prof. Dewlap's violin, after which a stentorian trumpet was heard. The young people then sang the well-known song, "Happy to Meet, Sorry to Part," after which they adjourned to the general hotel, where they were hosted, who are to be congratulated on the able manner in which they entertained their company.

John Dockrill has secured the services of A. W. Beck to drive his box-cars from his residence on Mount Pleasant, through Union Valley, and thence to his experimental farm on Spadina Ave. Mr. Peabody is a very efficient driver and conveys the herd to the ranch in masterly style.

One "Inevitable" met the Charleston "Alerts" in a friendly game of football on Saturday last. Mr. McQuat of this place is gaining ground as a hunter. In one night he secured a brace of quail, two porcupines. Grand concert in the city hall on Wednesday evening. All are invited to attend.

Visitors: J. Lavine, S. Dale, L. LaFrance, Peter Pergau, and John Mulligan. ITCHING, BURNING SKIN DISEASES CURED FOR 35c.

Dr. Agnew's Ointment relieves in one day such cases as scald, rheum, piles, red head, eczema, barbers' itch, ulcers, blotches and all eruptions of the skin. It is soothing and quieting and acts like magic in the cure of all baby humors; 35c. Sold by J. P. Lamb & Son.

A POPULAR C. P. R. OFFICER. Adds His Testimony to the Merits of Dr. Agnew's Catarrh and Head Cure. He Says It Is Peerless.

Mr. John McEdward, the genial purser of the C. P. R. liner "Atha-nassa," says:—I used Dr. Agnew's Catarrh Powder for cold in the head. It is very effective, easy to apply, and pleasant. For catarrh it has no equal. I have tested nearly every catarrh cure, and found none to compare with it. I recommend it first, last and always." Sold by J. P. Lamb & Son.

OLD HORSE. A Grand Army Man Crosses Swords With Heart Disease and Wins a Glorious Victory with the Aid of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the heart can not be over estimated, says H. M. Murselman, a well known G. A. R. comrade of Weirport, Pa., and he continues: "My ailments were palpitation and throbbing of the heart. I used two bottles of your valuable cure and feel like a new man. I have taken bottles of other medicines without help. I introduce it to my friends at every opportunity possible. It is a great medicine. Inside of 30 minutes after the first dose I had relief." Sold by J. P. Lamb and Son.

A Victim of Sciatica.

UNABLE TO WALK THOUGH STRONG AND WILLING.

The Sufferings of a Well known Guelph Citizen—Could Not Move About Without the Aid of a Stick—Again as Strong and Healthy as Ever.

There is perhaps no business or occupation that any man can follow that is more trying to the health—particularly in winter—than that of moulding. A workman leaves the shop with his clothing ringing wet with perspiration, and a cold wind chills him to the marrow, making him ready mark for lumbago, sciatica and kindred troubles. A moulder requires to be a man of more than ordinary strength, and to continue at his work must always be in good health, for a moulder's shop is a place for an invalid. Sciatica is by no means an uncommon affliction for men of this craft, and once the dread disease has lanced a victim he seldom shakes himself free from it again. In fact some people declare one evening to learn the exact facts of the case. Mr. Waldren, when spoken to on the subject, replied quite cheerfully, and had no hesitation in crediting Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for his remarkable recovery. "I am not one of those people who keep on saying 'paper notices,'" said Mr. Waldren, "neither have I been snatched from death's door, but the day when I quit work, until March 30th, when I started again, was confined to my bed for nearly a month. I was in my hip and would shoot down my leg to my foot and was very painful. I could not move about the house without the aid of a cane, and then only with great pain. I was totally unable to get up, and I was very much depressed, for beyond that I felt strong and anxious to be about. I am a member of three benefit societies, for which I draw pay, and I was unable to attend to my duties. The Moulder's Association, and the Raymond Benefit Society. People came to see, and of course everybody recommended a sure cure. I didn't try half of them. I was not specially remedied that I had been in the habit of using for I had—but I found no relief. I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking two boxes I noticed an improvement in my condition, and when I had used six boxes I was back at work again. I kept on until I had finished the 8th box, and I never felt better in my life.

Have you noticed any recurrence of the sciatica? The Dominion Government has power to enact the imposition of a general license upon all persons fishing, but such license cannot be restricted to any particular locality. The Dominion power in general, and cannot give a license for any particular lake, river, or other water.

The Ontario Fishery Act is legal, except where it may interfere with the Dominion power regarding the conservancy of fisheries, but the Ontario Act is a good one, and the Dominion has legislated in that particular. The Court finds that the Fishery Act of the Dominion, except in a few unimportant matters, is ultra vires."

Readers, Are You in Arrears? Kind reader, are you in arrears for the Reporter? Please look at the printed label on your paper this week, and if you are in arrears, we ask as a special favor that you remit the amount due before the 1st of November next. There is nearly $1,500 due us on subscriptions, which is more than we are able or willing to carry to year to year. We purpose adopting the STRICTLY CASH ADVANCE SYSTEM for 1897, and trust we will have a hearty response from all our old subscribers and from the host of new ones we confidently expect for the next year.

Among the many reasons for adopting the cash-in-advance system, the most important one is the loss we sustain by the dishonesty of some of our subscribers, who, after being trusted for from two to six years, suddenly find it convenient to remove to other localities, and are not notified by the post. We had two notices of this kind in the past week, involving a loss to us of $12. Now, these parties are well known to us, and taking advantage of our ignorance of heart in waiting on them from year to year, they got the paper, and then deliberately stole away, "like a thief in the night," without paying their honest debts.

For the benefit of any who contemplate such an action, we now announce that the very next case of the kind we have will publish the name, post office address, and offer for sale the account out of which they have attempted to swindle us. We are in no way liable in this matter, so any parties who may be tempted to defraud us in a like manner may rest assured that their friends (if they have any) will know the kind of deal they are making.

The Reporter from now until the 1st of January, 1898, for only one dollar in advance.

THROWING A DISCUS. REVIVAL OF THE POPULAR THOUGH ANCIENT GREEK GAMES.

An American's Victory at Athens Last Spring Has Caused Many American Sporting Clubs to Include "Throwing the Discus" in Their Fall Games.

Throwing the discus is one of the oldest forms of muscle-propelling exercises, says James S. Mitchell in the New York Journal, and it might be said, perhaps, to be the only game of the ancient Greeks that has come down to us unaltered. In the early ages of physical culture this pastime occupied a front rank among the favored athletic accomplishments, and was only approached in point of excellence by boxing and wrestling. Of course, the strangers and devotees of the contest were held in high esteem, but the discus thrower as a model of muscular humanity was the ideal athlete of those early times.

The discus is most generally in use consisted of a piece of flat metal or stone, or very often a lump of heavy and compact wood. Most commonly, however, it was made of copper and shaped somewhat like the ball of the eye, bulging in the center, but growing thinner at the edge. Lucian has described it as a small, round bucker, so polished and smoothed that it readily slipped from the hand of the person holding it.

In throwing the athlete placed himself in a crouch called the balbis. He advanced his right leg, slightly bending the knee with the weight of the body principal resting on the right foot. When he was ready to launch the missile he bent his body forward, the left hand taking a point of support on the right thigh while his right arm extended, holding the discus and raised the arm to the level of his shoulder. Remaining a moment in this position he described a semi-circle in the air as the athlete concentrated his strength, made his throw, at the same time leaping forward to increase the force of the action.

A condition governing the contest and one universally and emphatically insisted on was that should the thrower happen to let the discus drop after having taken his stand in the balbis, the left hand, he was debarré from that particular contest.

The ancient discus throwers entered the arena in a crouch, but the modern course, optional, but as it was generally understood that the least partiality in clothing, or in the use of freedom of action, not very many aspirants for fame but appeared entirely naked. At first the competitors were decided by casting the implement at a mark, the winner being the one who cast the discus nearest to the prescribed object; but as time wore on, however, more liberal notions prevailed, and the discus was thrown in a crouch, and the winner was the one who cast the discus furthest from the mark.

The thrower takes the discus in his left hand and stands at the back line of the square, with his right foot placed horizontally with the line and his left about eighteen inches forward, the toe pointing to the front line of the square. After limbering up the muscles of his right arm by stretching it to its fullest extent, he lifts the discus over his head and proceeds to get his grip on it. The grip is an important part of the performance and should be studied with great care. The fingers should be kept well apart, only the first joints coming on the edge of the discus, and the thumb placed sideways against the side of the discus about two inches from the edge.

When the athlete finds he has a comfortable hold, he takes a quick step forward and brings his arm down rapidly, holding the discus. He then takes a little hop and another step forward at the same time. The right half of the body is brought sharply to the front and the arm is rigidly swung forward in unison with the concentrated effort of the entire muscular system, and the discus is thrown away. A vital part of the game is taken at this point, and the air, and this can be avoided by always remembering to keep the palm of the hand downward, and to send the missile a great distance, and this will only be mastered by continued practice.

The old style, from an artistic point of view, was ahead of the modern method.

Among the numerous election songs now prevalent in the United States, the one given below which seems to be the one given for popularity with the western followers of "The Boy Orator" is no crown of thorns you shall hold the laborer's brow; no cross of gold for those who dig and doze and snore, like slaves to heartless masters sold. Lo, how it shines, the precious gem set in the crown of glory, the crown of the man who has done his duty, and who has done it well. No wonder that it bright appears, when made with the sweat of his brow. In mansions made of marble dwell the wealthy and the proud, but tell me, where do you see the crown of gold? If not the crown that bleeds and tolls. The glowing gold sure is produced by brain and brawn together fused in toil, rest, and then, content. From it, into the dollar shining, Some pride themselves on learning, but forget the soldier's foot; Some brag of their scientific attainments, but forget that toil its fruits transmutates the making of the world; Some boast of their political sagacity, but forget that the living soul of labor pays the living of our country. We are in no way liable in this matter, so any parties who may be tempted to defraud us in a like manner may rest assured that their friends (if they have any) will know the kind of deal they are making.

THROWING A DISCUS.

REVIVAL OF THE POPULAR THOUGH ANCIENT GREEK GAMES.

An American's Victory at Athens Last Spring Has Caused Many American Sporting Clubs to Include "Throwing the Discus" in Their Fall Games.

Throwing the discus is one of the oldest forms of muscle-propelling exercises, says James S. Mitchell in the New York Journal, and it might be said, perhaps, to be the only game of the ancient Greeks that has come down to us unaltered. In the early ages of physical culture this pastime occupied a front rank among the favored athletic accomplishments, and was only approached in point of excellence by boxing and wrestling. Of course, the strangers and devotees of the contest were held in high esteem, but the discus thrower as a model of muscular humanity was the ideal athlete of those early times.

The discus is most generally in use consisted of a piece of flat metal or stone, or very often a lump of heavy and compact wood. Most commonly, however, it was made of copper and shaped somewhat like the ball of the eye, bulging in the center, but growing thinner at the edge. Lucian has described it as a small, round bucker, so polished and smoothed that it readily slipped from the hand of the person holding it.

In throwing the athlete placed himself in a crouch called the balbis. He advanced his right leg, slightly bending the knee with the weight of the body principal resting on the right foot. When he was ready to launch the missile he bent his body forward, the left hand taking a point of support on the right thigh while his right arm extended, holding the discus and raised the arm to the level of his shoulder. Remaining a moment in this position he described a semi-circle in the air as the athlete concentrated his strength, made his throw, at the same time leaping forward to increase the force of the action.

A condition governing the contest and one universally and emphatically insisted on was that should the thrower happen to let the discus drop after having taken his stand in the balbis, the left hand, he was debarré from that particular contest.

The ancient discus throwers entered the arena in a crouch, but the modern course, optional, but as it was generally understood that the least partiality in clothing, or in the use of freedom of action, not very many aspirants for fame but appeared entirely naked. At first the competitors were decided by casting the implement at a mark, the winner being the one who cast the discus nearest to the prescribed object; but as time wore on, however, more liberal notions prevailed, and the discus was thrown in a crouch, and the winner was the one who cast the discus furthest from the mark.

The thrower takes the discus in his left hand and stands at the back line of the square, with his right foot placed horizontally with the line and his left about eighteen inches forward, the toe pointing to the front line of the square. After limbering up the muscles of his right arm by stretching it to its fullest extent, he lifts the discus over his head and proceeds to get his grip on it. The grip is an important part of the performance and should be studied with great care. The fingers should be kept well apart, only the first joints coming on the edge of the discus, and the thumb placed sideways against the side of the discus about two inches from the edge.

When the athlete finds he has a comfortable hold, he takes a quick step forward and brings his arm down rapidly, holding the discus. He then takes a little hop and another step forward at the same time. The right half of the body is brought sharply to the front and the arm is rigidly swung forward in unison with the concentrated effort of the entire muscular system, and the discus is thrown away. A vital part of the game is taken at this point, and the air, and this can be avoided by always remembering to keep the palm of the hand downward, and to send the missile a great distance, and this will only be mastered by continued practice.

The old style, from an artistic point of view, was ahead of the modern method.

Among the numerous election songs now prevalent in the United States, the one given below which seems to be the one given for popularity with the western followers of "The Boy Orator" is no crown of thorns you shall hold the laborer's brow; no cross of gold for those who dig and doze and snore, like slaves to heartless masters sold. Lo, how it shines, the precious gem set in the crown of glory, the crown of the man who has done his duty, and who has done it well. No wonder that it bright appears, when made with the sweat of his brow. In mansions made of marble dwell the wealthy and the proud, but tell me, where do you see the crown of gold? If not the crown that bleeds and tolls. The glowing gold sure is produced by brain and brawn together fused in toil, rest, and then, content. From it, into the dollar shining, Some pride themselves on learning, but forget the soldier's foot; Some brag of their scientific attainments, but forget that toil its fruits transmutates the making of the world; Some boast of their political sagacity, but forget that the living soul of labor pays the living of our country. We are in no way liable in this matter, so any parties who may be tempted to defraud us in a like manner may rest assured that their friends (if they have any) will know the kind of deal they are making.