The Evening Chit-Chat

By MUTH CAMERON

A commonplace life we say and we sigh;
But why should we sigh as we say?
The commonplace sun in the commonplace sky
Makes up the commonplace day.
The moon and the stars are commonplace things,
And the flower that blooms and the bird that sings,
But dark were the world and sad our lot
If the flowers failed and the sun shone not;
And God who studies each separate soul,
Out of commonplace life makes his beautiful whole.

—Susan Coolidge.
It isn't particularly pretty or unusually fragrant.
It's just a sturdy little blue flower that grows by your back door stoop, but I seldom have it without having that kind of feeling that it makes a man take off his hat to show his reverence.
And this is why.
In that rough, ugly, unfertile bit of ground by the stoop, we have tried to make many things grow. Nasturtiums, pansies, geraniums and a rose bush we have planted there from time to time.

And they have all refused to live—as if they said, "This is such an ugly spot—not fit for flowers. We will not demean ourselves by growing here."
And then we planted a slip of the blue-eyed Susan, and instead of sulking and fading, it thrived and flourished and blossomed and spread until soon that ugly scar in our garden was quite healed.

It isn't a very beautiful flower, nor unusually fragrant. It's just a sturdy little blue flower that grows by your back door stoop, but I seldom have it without having that kind of feeling that it makes a man take off his hat to show his reverence.
And this is why.
In that rough, ugly, unfertile bit of ground by the stoop, we have tried ing the wonderful rose, or orchid, or poppy, people that bloom in beauty and fragrance in some fertile spot in the world's garden, who know but He is far more proud of His blue-eyed Susan folks. You know who they are—the self-ignoring mother who brings a measure of harmony and happiness into the home where there would be only discord without her, the sweet old maid aunt who thrives in cheerful industry in the unpropitious soil of a married sister's or brother's home, the father who in a life which is one unending round of relentless toil and self denial, can still bring optimism and livableness. "Commonplace people" they are, of course, beside the wonderful rose and orchid and poppy people.

But think how many ugly spots there would be in this garden of life, if they refused to grow in them.
Perhaps you, my reader-friend, are one of those blue-eyed Susan people. If you are, God bless you—and I know He will.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Dear Sirs.—While in the country last summer I was badly bitten by mosquitoes, so badly that I thought I would be disfigured for a couple of weeks. I was advised to try your Liniment to allay irritation, and did so. The effect was more than I expected, a few applications completely curing the irritation, and preventing the bites from becoming sore. MINARD'S LINIMENT is also a good article to keep off the mosquitoes.
Yours truly,
W. A. V. R.

PRISONERS ARRESTED.

Besides the three boys arrested for larceny there were four other prisoners jailed by the police yesterday evening. These were inebriated picked up on the streets. Up to date this week has shown that the early closing of the saloons does not prevent drunkenness, as a matter of fact if the police were to be stringent they could fill the cells each evening.

TOOK HIS DEPOSITION.

Mr. A. Knight, J. P., with I. G. Sullivan and Supt. Grimes yesterday drove to the residence of Samuel Butt and took his statement as regards the assault alleged to have been committed on him by Frank Leary. The latter, we understand, was liberated yesterday on bail, as Butt is improving.

SPORTS DO WELL.

By the shore train which arrived last night there came Dr. Rendell, Messrs R. B. Job and Harold Harvey. They had been about a week or so out on the Cape Shore and found birds fairly plentiful, and they secured 100 birds between them. The first few days the weather was very bad and nothing could be done, the birds being very wild.
There also arrived last night Mr. M. Caul, grocer, Colonial Street, and Mr. E. Neary. These young men spent a good time shooting at Westport Bay and found birds fairly plentiful, though the late stormy weather precluded much being done. Mike and Ned, however, are dead shots and secured 90 fine plump partridge. They report that the stormy weather has swept the whole North Shore about Northern Bay, Western Bay, Bay-de-Verde, Blackhead Bay and other places have been cleaned out of flukes, etc., while nearly all the boats which were moored on the "collars" have been sunk or driven ashore and smashed in pieces, and hundreds of thousands of dollars damage has been done.

FOGOTA'S HARD TIME.

The S. S. Fogota, Capt. A. Barbour, had a hard time yesterday getting to Bay-de-Verde owing to the heavy N. E. wind that prevailed. She left here about 7 a.m. and did not reach Bay-de-Verde till 2.30 p.m., having taken 7½ hours to make the run. The ship harboured at Bay-de-Verde all last night.

Eczema on Face and Hands

Gave up work—Could not shave—Relief and cure obtained from DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.
"I had eczema nearly all over the body," writes Mr. John Gordon Campbell, foreman Holland Grove Lumber Co., Sudbury, Ont., "head, neck and wrists were blistered and itching with it. I could find absolutely no cure until I obtained Dr. Chase's Ointment. After using this ointment I was almost instantly relieved and soon completely cured."
"So bad was the eczema that I had to give up work. Could not shave. I was so bad that they had to take me out of camp in a wagon and send for a new foreman. I cannot recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment. It often heals in a single night. You can see for yourself each day the good it is doing. Sample box free. 60 cts. a box, at all dealers or Edgewood, Bates & Co., Toronto."

WRECKED CREW COMING.

Mr. Piccott received a despatch from Labrador last Tuesday asking him to direct Capt. Parsons, in the Solway, to call at Fox Harbor, near Battle Harbor, and take on board ten crews that are stranded there. They are Harbor Grace crews, most of them were McRae's dealers. They were, the message stated, coming home in Noseworthy's schooner when the vessel was lost at Fox Harbor. Mr. Piccott wired to him to get the crews to Battle Harbor where the Solway would take them on board.

RECEIVED BAD FALL.

Yesterday afternoon about 2.15 a man who was very much under the influence of drink while proceeding up Williams' Lane, received a nasty fall. The back of his head met a stone and a wound from which blood flowed freely was inflicted. Const. Bennett and Parady were near and rendered aid after which people who knew the man took him to his home. The wound was not so dangerous as it first believed, and when taken home his friends looked after it without the necessity of calling a doctor.

Here and There.

DELAYED BY STORM.—The S. S. Ethie was held up by the storm at Carbonear last night; she got away this morning early.
ABLE TO WORK AGAIN.—J. McLaughlin, carpenter, who was hurt by a fall at Smallwood's new building, a few weeks ago, will be able to resume work next week.

CAPTAIN RESIGNED.—Captain McConnie has resigned command of the B. S. Rose. His place is being taken by Captain Newhook formerly chief officer of the S. S. Beothic.

WEST BOUND EXPRESS.—The express that left here for Port aux Basques last Tuesday evening did not reach there till 1.25 this morning. The Invermore left at 2 a.m. for Sydney.

TYPHOID FEVER.—The Board of Health received a message yesterday stating that a few more cases of typhoid had developed at Elliston, N. B. So that there are now a total of 10 cases.

AT SMITHVILLE.—About eighty young people—employees of the Royal Stores and Knowlton's—and an enjoyable party at Smithville last night. At 9 p.m. dancing began and was kept up till midnight when supper was served. After the repeat was over dancing was again resumed and kept up till morning. Power's band furnished the music.

ROME, Sept. 27.
Italy's next move in Tripoli will depend upon the answer which the Porte makes to the note presented by the Italian Charge d'Affaires at Constantinople in which the Government at Rome demands guarantees against a repetition of certain acts on the part of Turkey, which have been made a subject of complaint by Italian residents in Tripoli. These guarantees are extensive and include the right of Italy to supervise measures which she considers necessary for the conduct of affairs in the Province. The note is couched in strongest terms, and is to all intents an ultimatum. It is said that Britain, France and Russia have been solicited by Turkey to intervene, but have refused. It is reported that four Italian torpedo boats are patrolling the Barbary coast in order to prevent the landing of Turkish troops and war materials.

Special Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Sept. 27.
The Morning Post's Constantinople Correspondent says that at an extraordinary cabinet council it was decided to take measures to oppress the Italian projects in Tripoli. Official circles are convinced that the Powers will not allow Italy to land troops in Tripoli. The Turks are willing to grant the Italians some economical advantage, but refused a privileged position. The Morning Leader's Constantinople correspondent says that an Ottoman agency has announced that Italy proposes to pay between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 in exchange for Tripoli. The statement is discredited.

MOTHER BROKEN-HEARTED OVER DAUGHTER'S ABSENCE.

Newfoundland Girl Left Her Home in Bonavista Bay Three Years Ago and Never Heard From Since.

Where is Amy Ann Powell?
Three years ago she left her home in Happy Adventure, Bonavista Bay, Newfoundland, and has not been heard from since. Inquiries reveal the fact that she first went to St. John's, Newfoundland, where she entered service with a family named Williams. Late in 1908 the family moved to Montreal, and Miss Powell went with them, and it is understood remained in their employ for some little time and then left there.
The Montreal Witness says that the Williams family resided at 448 Rasse Street, when they first moved to Montreal, but inquiries at that point fail to reveal any such family now, nor can the residents of that vicinity give any information regarding such a family.

The missing girl is 26 years of age, and unmarried, and when she left her home was unable to read or write, and consequently not in a position to communicate herself with her parents. As no word has been received of her for almost three years, it can easily be imagined that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Powell, of Happy Adventure, are more than anxious as to her safety and whereabouts. Her mother is broken-hearted, and suffering in health in consequence of her daughter's prolonged absence and silence.

Various theories have been advanced as to the reason for her silence, but in Montreal the trail seems to be lost. A diligent search has commenced, however, for the missing girl and it is not anticipated that there will be any serious trouble in discovering whether she is still in Montreal or, as has been stated, gone further west—North Sydney Island.

LITTLE GIRL HURT.

Yesterday afternoon a little girl named Pearl Hayward, aged 12 years, was playing on a gallery which leads to the entrance of her home, she suddenly leaped against the balustrade when part of it, which was loose, gave out and she was precipitated to the street 8 feet below. She received a nasty cut on the head and her arm was also bruised and cut, and when picked up by passers by she was in a semi-conscious state. Stimulants revived her after which her wounds were dressed at her home without the aid of a doctor.

ARABS RESENT OCCUPATION.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Sept. 27.

A letter from Tripoli says that on the day that the Italian newspapers, intimating that the Italians contemplated an expedition to occupy Tripoli, were received there, the cafes, theatres and stores were instantly closed, and news was passed to the Arabs throughout the town to meet in the Great Mosque to consider what they should do. It was agreed that they would resist an Italian landing to the last, and if they had to yield, would go to the British consulate to seek protection.
