LESS ANXIOUS.

LONDON, Sept. 1. The condition of Lord Mayor Mac-Sweeney in Brixton Prison to-night was without change, except that he arms, meticulous rules as to what was appeared a trifle weaker. His relatives seem less anxious than they contraband, or as to what was and were a few days ago, Mrs. Mac-Sweeney not paying his customary destined for the enemy, simply would

LORD CAVE AT OTTAWA. OTTAWA, Sept. 1.

"Imperial relationships and Canada's part therein," were discussed at to-night's gathering of the Canadian Bar Association. The speakers were, Viscount Cave, Lord Justice of the Court of Appeals of Great Britain, and Hon. W. R. Raney, Attorney Postoffice and Power Station were de-General for Ontario. Lord Cave's reference to Imperial relations came at the end of an address, in which, as former Home Secretary and Solicitor, he had been able to present an intimate view of British war legislation. Lord Cave opened with the following tribute to the part which Canada had played in the war, making more vibrant. He said he gave a re in Great Britain, and of the part which "You, Lord Cave remarked in passing," were prompt and resolute in adopting that compulsion of military service which we adopted just in time, and without which the Steps Forward.

Mr. Lloyd George says, the Allies for the first time had a real talk with the representatives of Germany, has put both the obligations of Germany and the determination of the Allies on a sounder footing. Germany has failed in her Treaty engagements; her plea of inability has been met by certain concessions, and if she does not now fulfil her undertakings as to disarmament and coal she knows what the penalty will be. The great Polish adventure had ended in disaster, and the Bolshevist advance had enabled the Allies to intervene (1) in her own inerests and those of Europe, to save AIRPLANE MAIL SERVICE ACROSS Poland from the full consequences of her folly, and (2) to prove to the Soviet autocrats of Russia-Mr. Lloyd George describes Lenin as the lineal successor of Peter the Great and Ivan the Terrible-that their only chance of opening up relations with the res energies to Russia itself. The success of the Greek Armies in Asia Minor and in Thrace has assisted the Turks in Constantinople to a decision which will spare them further humiliaton: the Peace Treaty will be signed substantially in the terms in which it was presented. In view of British relations with the King of the Hediaz, it is peculiarly regrettable that the Emir Feisul should have adopted an attitude towards the French which has involved an advance on Damascus. ly" in behalf of Terence MacSweeney, On the other side of the account is the reference of the Aland Islands dispute and of the terms on which the Anglo-Japanese Treaty should be renewed to the League of Nations. The world's chief enemy is still impatience.
