If Not Incapacity—What?

On Saturday we commenced publication of a series of articles written by Mr. J. D. Henry, the well-known oil man of Parsons' Pond, St. Barbe District. These articles will deal with conditions, as they are, on the West Coast, and will be as current as the regularity or irregularity of the mails will permit. That they will prove interesting and informative goes without saying. Mr. Henry writes from personal knowledge and experience and he will "nothing extenuate, nor set down aught in malice." His first article, "Let the people know" in Saturday's issue of Telegram tells an eloquent story of incapacity in some government department, due no less to a mistaken idea of economy than to actual ignorance of local conditions as applied to the herring fishery at Bay of Islands. The black Christmas has passed, but there is a blacker winter ahead, and that because someone blundered or else had not sufficient initiative to carry out certain suggestions which were made regarding the best means to release the herring carrying schooners frozen in at Middle Arm and Wood's Island, where now the vessels will have to remain until the spring break-up. Meanwhile the herring caught and packed during the fall are unmarketed, the fishermen are without money, the packers are without money, the shippers cannot raise money on their consignments, because they have not been able to clear them, and the situation, therefore, is gloomy indeed. Destitution cannot but prevail under such circumstances, and we have it upon unimpeachable authority that the coming winter will be one of the most difficult that ever the people of Bay of Islands have yet endured. And this industrious and hitherto independent population have had their present and coming sufferings thrust upon them, because of lack of foresight on the part of the administration. Just read once more the footling message of the Prime Minister to all the appeals that were sent to him from Bay of Islands, regarding the clearing of the frozen in carriers. They asked that the Kyle be sent to cut these out, in order that the cargoes could be gotten away to market and realized upon, but an incompetent department could not see its way clear to send the Kyle, but instead the Premier wired such stereotyped rubbish as this:

"Have handed your message to 'Minister of Shipping, who during past weeks has been making every effort to do very best possible for whole island under abnormal storm and winter conditions as they have developed during the past week.'"

For weeks the Minister of Shipping had been making every effort to do the best possible under storm conditions as they developed during the past week. Wonderful! Prodigious! And notwithstanding all the previous preparations in anticipation of the storm, eight vessels are frozen in at Bay of Islands, some ready for sea, others ready to load from the wharves, and not one can get free because the Kyle was not sent as requested. Had this occurred in Bonavista Bay every ship of the Government and Reid fleet would have been ordered there. With the West Coast it is different. Taking all this, and there is more to follow,—as an illustration of incompetence on the part of the Government to know how to do the right thing at the right time, is there not being piled up sufficient evidence to prove that the whole boiling of them are nothing more nor less than "jinkers," and that the quicker they are driven out of office the better for the country.

The Admiral's Daughter

SATURDAY'S MATINEE.

The Saturday matinee performance of the Admiral's Daughter was played before a full house, and the applause won by the different performers again went to prove that each and every number is well delivered. The Admiral's Daughter will be repeated to-night and on Tuesday and Wednesday nights; and we bespeak large audiences for the final performance. The plan of tickets is at Huttons. Be sure and secure your tickets early as they are selling fast.

Magistrates Court.

An outport man, taken in for safe-keeping, was released. Two city clerks residing in the East End were arrested on Saturday night for fighting on the public street. Rather than appear before court they were given their freedom on the forfeiture of the sum of $5 each. A case against a carman, summoned for furious driving on the public street was postponed until Wednesday morning. An East End grocer appeared on a charge of obstructing the sidewalks. Postponed until Wednesday. Two youths from Petty Harbour were charged with creating a disturbance in the Parish Hall at that settlement, and assaulting Const. Samson while in the discharge of his duties; both were convicted. One was fined $5 and costs, while the second, who was only convicted on the lesser charge of creating a disturbance was fined $1 and costs.

Oporto Report.

PORTUGUESE FISH IN COMPETITION.

In a report to the Board of Trade, under date of Dec. 13, Messrs. Lind & Co. state that demand for British fish is good, but it would be better were it not for the competition of Portuguese cure, which is selling well at somewhat lower prices. The weather has been so fine for the last five weeks that the greater part of the Portuguese catch is already cured and on the market.

The one hundred and fifty permanent employees of Harvey & Co., Ltd., were tendered a dinner by the directors at the King George V. Stirling with the assistance of Mr. A. E. Holmes. The spacious hall of the Institute was tastefully decorated with the firm's colours intermingled with those of the family. On the stage at the head of the guest table was a beautifully draped easel supporting a life-sized portrait of Sir Joseph. After the bounteous repast had been done justice to, Mr. W. G. On the back of the menu cards was the following inscription:—
GREETINGS.
With another mile-post passed and another year beckoning us on with its hopes and opportunities, let us for a moment reflect upon our pleasant relations of the year just closed and take note of the good friends among us.
Business success is not wholly expressed in financial profit. Confidence, satisfaction, and good will between us all the active, are potent factors.
With this in mind, may we all look forward to a year of health, happiness and success.
The various speeches were of an unusually high order, and the pleasant relations and hearty co-operation of the various departments of the huge business were eulogized. In his response to the toast of "Our Firm," Mr. Gosling gave a brief history of the origin of the firm, which now dates back over one hundred and fifty years, and during all the ups and downs of Newfoundland trade in that vast period not only has it held an honoured and respected place in the community, but never once has it been known to default in any respect whatever and its record is unsurpassed by any. Unfortunately the earlier records were destroyed in the fire of 1846, but it is known that this large and extensive business was operating here in 1770 (one hundred and fifty-two years ago) and was then known as the Bermuda Company with branches at Demerara, Barbados, St. Louis, Quebec, Baltimore, New York and St. John's. At that time the Bermudians were noted navigators and were the originators of the speedy cedar-built fore and aft schooners so much in vogue today, which, being manned by slaves, could be run more economically than the ponderous and heavy West Country vessels. In Newfoundland history it is noted that this caused more than an ordinary furor as the Bermudian vessels being more expeditiously handled could catch fish while their neighbours had to remain windbound in the various harbours and their visits were protested against. The business methods employed by the Company were to load onions and other produce for Baltimore and New York; take four and provisions to Newfoundland; catch and carry cargoes of fish to the various West Indian ports; then returning to New York with cargoes of rum, sugar, and textiles.
Mr. John Dunscombe succeeded the Bermuda Company, and appears to have been a very prominent merchant between the years 1800 and 1820 as frequent mention is made of his name in the earlier history of Newfoundland. On his retirement to England he was succeeded by Mr. Eugene Harvey, a connection of his, and this was the introduction of the Harvey name into our trade and commerce. The firm was then known as Harvey & Fox (an uncle of Mr. John Fox of H.M. Customs). On Mr. Fox's retirement the late Hon. A. W. Harvey, then only a young boy, joined his uncle, Mr. Eugene Harvey, Mr. Harvey retired to Bermuda about 1869 and Mr. A. W. Harvey assumed control. Two years later Sir Joseph Outerbridge came to St.

John's. He was then about nineteen years of age. Previous to that he was in the employ of Gosling Bros. (the father and uncle of Mr. Gosling) at Bermuda. Shortly after, Mr. E. D. Tucker (father of Lady Outerbridge) joined the firm and it became known as Harvey, Tucker & Company. Some years later, Mr. Tucker went to Halifax to reside and the firm became Harvey & Company. Mr. Gosling stated that when he came to the country as a young lad, there were only five on the staff, viz., Messrs. Barnes, Carter and West, with Mr. Michael Blaney as salesman, and Mr. Fred Cornick in charge of the wharf. Commenting on the growth of the business it was pointed out that the clerical staff alone now required to do their work amounts to over forty.

During the banquet a telegram was received from Sir Joseph who with Lady Outerbridge is at present in Bermuda, extending hearty good wishes to one and all for the New Year, and a suitable reply was sent from the assembly in thanks and appreciation. All the office force and heads of the various departments had received during the afternoon a very tangible souvenir of the occasion in the nature of Sir Joseph's personal cheques for substantial amounts. Amongst the guests present were Mr. Chas. McK. Harvey, Capt. De-four, of s.s. Mapledawn, Councillor Outerbridge, Mr. Arthur T. King of the Farghar steamships, the staff and employees of Messrs. A. Harvey & Co., and Mr. Ern Fox who acted as accompanist for the evening. Just before midnight the pleasant function terminated with hearty cheers for Sir Joseph and Lady Outerbridge, and the directors of the firm.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

Jan. 7th, (Lord's Day).—To Church with my wife, and coming home, I walked with Mr. Wooley, with good pleasure in his discourse of the sermon, but he did then turn to politics and spoke very ill of Sir R. Squires, saying how he sees no hope for himself at the polls, and will go soon on another trip, being that he will not do more at the expense of the people. He speaks also of the taxes which I did think the Cabal would soon reduce, but Wooley says that he doubts the present ministers have the stomach to carry it. The weather grown fine, albeit mighty cold, so I to take a walk alone in the country, and do get for myself a hearty appetite. But my wife in an ill-humour and berates me mightily for my red nose, which, she says, will give our neighbours cause to name me as a drunkard. I did answer the wretch with much heat and we did speak no further word for the day.

Early Morning Blaze.

HOUSE GUTTED—BOY INJURED JUMPING FROM BURNING BUILDING.

A house owned by Mr. Thomas English, situated on Signal Hill Road, was gutted by a fire which started at 1.30 this morning. Stanley English, son of the owner, escaped from the burning building by jumping from a window of the second floor. Constables John White and J. Rideout, who were doing night duty in the East End first noticed smoke issuing from the house, which is located well up the hill and they rang in an alarm from Box No. 12. The East End and Central Fire Companies were quickly on the scene, but they had some difficulty in procuring sufficient water owing to the distance of the hydrants from the burning house, and long lengths of hose had to be employed. The weather was frightfully cold and the firemen, who were unfortunate enough to get splashed with water had their clothes frozen in an instant. Nevertheless they fought well to prevent the fire eating into the adjoining dwellings. The fire is believed to have originated in the kitchen, and must have gained considerable headway before it was discovered. Stanley English, aged 15, who slept on the second floor had his escape cut off and was obliged to jump through his bed-room window. In the fall he was badly shaken up and had his hip cut. Policemen brought him to a nearby residence and summoned a doctor, who was obliged to stitch the wound. After an hour and a half the fire was gotten under control. Mr. English is watchman at Knowledge premises, and the loss is a severe one to him. He had only $400 insurance on his house and none on the furniture. Practically none of the latter was saved.

Rev. Samuel Mercer, D.D., Ph.D.

NEW DEAN OF BEXLEY HALL.

The following extract is taken from Church Life, the journal which records current events of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Ohio. The subject of the sketch was born at Bay Roberts, and is another Newfoundlander who has made good in his chosen profession. The Telegram offers congratulations to Dean Mercer.

"The Rev. Samuel A. B. Mercer, D. D., Ph.D., recently elected Dean of Bexley Hall, Gambier has signified his acceptance of this responsible post, and will enter upon his new duties in the near future. Dr. Mercer for twelve years past, has been Professor of Hebrew and old Testament Literature in Western Theological Seminary, Chicago. He has written somewhat extensively on Babylonian, Assyrian, Ethiopic and Egyptian history and literature. He received the degree of Ph.D. from Munich University in 1910 and degree of D.D. from Nashota House, Wis., in 1917. The new Dean is just entering the prime of life, and in view of his ecclesiastical and educational background, coupled with his experience with young men in Western Seminary, we may anticipate with confidence a successful regime for the future in Bexley Hall. The Theological Department at Gambier, representing the two Dioceses of the State and contiguous Dioceses, affords a fine opportunity for original and constructive policies. We may well believe that the right man has been found for Bexley, one who will not only maintain, but enhance the traditions of past days. We can assure Dr. Mercer that a cordial welcome awaits him from the clergy and laity of the Diocese of Ohio."

Lack of School Accommodation.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—I wish to point out that there is a great shortage of school accommodation in this city, and the refusal of children anxiously applying for admission is very trying to any teacher. It is not compulsory attendance that demands first consideration in this city to-day, but accommodation for those willing to attend. I have been obliged to refuse thirty-two more children this morning, a sad picture when you reflect upon what this means to Newfoundland. Here is food for thought for the Rotary Club, the Teachers' Association, the Synod, and other organizations who advocate compulsory attendance. We now need to advocate more school accommodation, more teachers; and, if necessary, local fiscal, educational, independent, with taxation on property for this purpose, to provide the necessary funds for these needs and for free Elementary, Compulsory and advanced Industrial Education.

Yours truly,
P. G. BUTLER.

SAGANA ARRIVES.—S. Sagana, Capt. Tavernor, arrived from Port aux Basques direct at 6.55 last evening, bringing several hundred packages of foreign mail matter, one passenger and four carloads of freight. The ship will now lay up for the winter.
