Catarrh—A New Treatment.

Perhaps the mot extraordinary success that has been achieved in mode n solence has been attained by the Dixon Treatment of Catarrh. Out of 2,000 patients treated during the pass sk months, fully ninety per cent. have been corred of this stubborn malady. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent, of the patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefitted, while the patient medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally befleved by the nost scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tissues, Mr. Dixon at nonce adapted his cure to their extermination; this accomplished the catarrh is practically cured, and the pormanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by him four year, ago are cures atill. No one else has ever attempted to cure catarrh in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured catarrh. The application of the remedy is simple and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent cure the majority of cases being cured at one treatment.
