School Trustees Too Much for Aldermen at Baseball.

Ald. Carrothers' Brilliant Playing a Redeeming Feature.

of the Box.

Ald. Parnell a Star Player-Ald. Coope Makes a Great Basehit-Great Fun for the Audience.

"Play ball!" yelled Umpire Tom Gillean, as he looked at his Waterbury and found that time was up. And then the aldermen and school trustees pulled off their respective vests and collars, gave their respective suspenders a hitch, spat on their respective hands and started to play - well it was advertised as baseball. Many of those on the grand stand evidently never saw a baseball match before. They nearly went into convulsions when Neil Cooper threw the ball at Charlie Johnston; struck him on the seat, and then claimed a base hit. They laughed most immodwhen Ald. Parnell wanted Trustee Hunt sent back to first base because he stole second. They even seemed amused because Ald. Gerry tried to stop flys with his feet and because Ald. Carrothers fell on the ball and nearly buried it in the ground. Such conduct on the part of the audience was totally uncalled for and displayed the grossest ignorance of baseball rules—as the aldermen understand them.

Hands that the rod of empire might have swayed swung sticks of hickory and their skill (?) displayed; fumbled the pigskin, knocked balls foul and fair, and filled with holes the circumambient air. The mighty Carrothers, in stentorian tones, put ginger in the aldermanic drones; stood on the coach lines yelling "Hold your base!" and mopped the perspiration off his face. Twas quite refreshing to behold Bob play: he gobbled everything that came his way; chased grounders hot, stole bases like a deer and had the trustees' bosoms filled with fear. Had all his side played as well as Bob, the Trustees would have had a harder job. Proclaimed by all the hero of the day, the delighted grand stand cheered his every play.

Ald. Parnell, too, covered himself with glory. He looked quite frisky in a white sweater and wore a glove the size of a ham to protect his lily-white hands against Hank Dreaney's cannon-ball delivery. He captained the aldermen with excellent judgment, though he had hard work getting Ald. Cooper to move off seccond base and cover more territory. Ald. Cooper protested that his instructions were to hold down second bag, and he meant to hold it down if he had to sit on it. The outfielders were particularly sprightly, and gathered in every fly, after it had drop-ped. Ald. Nutkins, who was the bright particular star in the previous game, played shortstop for a brief and beautiful period, but failed to sustain the dazzling reputation he made on that memorable occasion. When the aldermen got six runs in the second on hits by Parnell, Cooper, Carrothers, Nutkins and McCallum, with two bases on balls, they were filled with delicious warm thrills and prophesied dire revenge for their former defeat. The thrills caught a sudden cold in the third inning and prematurely passed away. Buchner's deadly delivery quite wilted the city fathers, and they shed several pailfuls of prespiration trying to knock the ball past the infield. In the fifth Ald. Gerry met with an accident-he hit sphere to right field. He reached third on a bad throw and came home on a by Ald. Nutkins, which Dr. Teasdall tried to cut off with his feet. In the sixth the aldermen resolved on a brilliant stroke. Capt. Parnell made a raid on Ald. Taylor, stripped off his coat and collar, and marched the heavyweight up to the plate. Douglass had scored on Cooper's single, Cooper was on first, and two men were out. Ald. Taylor showed a great eye and got his base on balls. Then Ald. Parnell hit to pitcher, and the game was called on account of hunger-and thirst.

The triumphant trustees began to straighten out Hank Dreaney's curves from the very first. In the second they were blanked. In the third, aftwo men were out, Bayly and Teasdall singled, Buchner made a double, Burdick a triple, and Johnston a single, which were good for four

Ald. Cooper started to march in under the opinion that his brilliant play had been enough for one inning. Trustee Burdick was also caught between third and home, and a well-directed ball from Ald. Parnell caught him between the shoulder blades. After ten runs had been scored, Capt. Par-nell determined on drastic measures. Amid the cheers of the audience, he went into the box, and Ald. Carrothers behind the bat. The new pitcher wound up gloriously by striking out Trustee Logan, and preventing further scoring.

Before the game Mr. J. W. Jones was requested to act as official scorer. He did not realize the herculean

DISTRESSING MALADY.

REV. J. M. McLEOD, Zion Church, Vancouver, B. C.—"It is nearly three months since I finished the package of K. D. C., and though I have for more than twenty years suffered from Indigestion that one package seems to have wrought a perfect cure. Since taking your remedy I have not had the slightest symptom of a return of my old enemy. It affords me much pleasure to recommend K. D. C. to the numerous family of dysepetics as the best known remedy for that most distressing malady."

The Business Outlook

In the United States and Canada

As Reported by Dun & Co. and Bradstreets.

New York, Sept. 12.-Dun & Co.'s weekly review says: Better prospects and relief from monetary anxiety do not yet bring larger demand for finished products, though large buying of pig iron, wool, leather, hides, cotton and other materials continue to show a growing belief that a general upward movement in prices will come with the replenishment of dealers' stocks this fall. Most prices are extremely low, so that nothing more than an ordinary demand would advance them. Crop returns indicate disappointment in some cotton and some spring wheat States. Prices of corn and oats make it unprofitable to sell at present. The number of manufac-turing works and mines in operation does not gain, but rather decreases. Reductions of wages are somewhat numerous, occasionally resisted by strikes, and all those conditions diminish for a time the buying power of the people. While many think general improvement cannot come until the elections has removed political uncertainties, others expect soon to see the result anticipated in trade. The manufacturers of boots and shoes are shipping larger quantities than ever before in September, though mainly of low grade goods. Sales of wool for the Stonor, uncle of Lord Camoys and the consumption for the first time in sevspeculative, based on the belief that prices must advance. Makers of print cloths have advanced the price three-sixteenths during the week. For other because of the rising cost of material. Wheat declined 1 cent, but then advanced, closing 1 cent up for the Western receipts still exceed week last year's, having been in two weeks 11,229,038 bushels, against 10,323.288 last year, while Atlantic exports, flour included, have been for the same week 3,983,265 bushels, against 2,417,872 last year. Corn is almost wholly out of danger, and the yield is generally exhere is the lowest ever knoy i. in the United States, against 187 last year; and 47 in Canada against 34

last year. Bradstreet's report says: The feeling last week that an improvement in demand for seasonable staples was in sight was evidently well founded, for at more than a dozen centers south and west the demand is now more active, the volume of sales has increased and the general outlook is much more favorable for business later in the autumn. The week's volume of business is slightly heavier, several cities reporting a larger demand this week to replenish depleted stocks than during two preceding months.

ish Arbitration Society lately informed Mr. Gladstone that the association intended to deal with the Armenian question at the coming international peace congress, which will be held at Budapesth. Mr. Gladstone replied: 'Remonstrance with him, whom I always wish to call the great assassin, would not be of the smallest value, unless it were known to include a firm intention to resort to measures of coercion in case of need. The remon-strances of the six powers during the last twelve months have not mere failures or a simple mockery, but a great instrument of mischief, for they all along implied that such a matter can be disposed of by dis-cussion, and thereby supplied wholesale and deliberate murder with the only assistance it wanted, namely, assurance of impunity. I, therefore, venture to hope that you do not contemplate recommending a further pro-longation of simply verbal discussion. Even silence would be preferable."

Rt. Hon. Herbert Asquith has sent a message to the Chronicle on the Turkish question, saying that Great Britain should have refused to hold further terms with a Government, which has become a mere instrument for executing the purposes of a will that is either criminal or insane. The European powers, he adds, cannot condone the past crimes, of the Porte or ignore future dangers. Mr. Asquith con-cludes his message with an expression of the hope that there will be shortly witnessed such a manifesta-tion of public opinion as will give strength and authority to decided action on the part of Great Britain. The Chronicle publishes nine columns of letters against the Sultan. and reports of the meetings held to express indignation against the massacre of Christians.

Mr. George Uhlman, a well-known farmer living near New Elm, is loud in his praise of the benefits he received from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Recently while visiting his daughter in Hemford, he was interviewed by a reporter, and to the scribe's salutation, "Well, Mr. Uhl-man, you are looking ten years younger than you did two years ago," promptly replied, "Yes, and I am feeling that many years younger. I am better than I did when I was 34. It is pretty generally known hereabouts treated by different doctors, and I can hardly tell how many different kinds of patent medicines I used, but can says 'heaps' of it, but I got very little relief from them. Eventually I began to think my case incurable. But I have found a cure, and one which I believe is permanent, and if you are interested I am willing to tell what it has done for me. While having a very bad spell and suffering intensely from the effects of liver and kidney troubles, I noticed an advertisemen of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and thought I would try them. After beginning their use I found a gradual improvement, and having suffered as long and as severely as I did, you may be sure that I determined to continue the treatment. Very steadily the improvement went on, and after a few months' treatment with the Pink Pills I felt that the last vestige of my trouble has disappeared. New blood seemed to course through my veins, and the organs which for so many years imperfectly performed their functions now work like a charm and give me not the slightest trouble. In addition to this my weight has materially increased, and I can stand a day's work on my farm better than I have been able to do in years be-Of course this may sound enthusiastic, but I know what Pink Pills have done for me and I naturally feel grateful, and I never lose an opportunity to say a good word for this grand medicine."
