Kincardine, Nov. 19.—There was buried on Saturday last in Ripley Cemetery, Donald McLeod, usually known as Zorra Dan (having come from the township of Zorra, county of Oxford, upwards of fifty years ago), aged 79. INGERSOLL.

Ingersoll, Nov. 19.—The mock trial held in the town hall evening under the auspices of the Missionary Circle of King's Daughters, was a novel entertainment. The hearing of the breach of promise case, as it was supposed, was productive of much merriment, and time after time the audience were convulsed by the willing and straightforward testimony bearing on the courtship of the principals that was given by the several witnesses. For genuine, laughable incidents no entertainment has been held here in recent years has won greater appreciation. The scene in the hall was typical of a court-room, and the trial was conducted with precisely the same formality. The audience was decidedly large, practically every seat being occupied. Those taking part were Judge, Miss Mayor, Dr. Coleridge, plaintiff, Miss Kathleen Wood, defendant, T. N. Nagle, defendant's attorney, E. DeWitt Hunt, plaintiff's attorney, Col. N. V. Newton, witness, Miss, F. G. Wailey; witnesses, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Routley, Mr. Bailey and Mr. Horton. After carefully weighing the evidence and after a brief deliberation the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $2.48, $2 to go to the jury and the 48 cents to the judge.

Owing to the mock trial last night, the regular session of the court was not held. There will be a meeting this evening, at which principally routine business will be slated.

POPCORN MAN

Ingersoll, Nov. 19.—The police are anxious to ascertain the identity of the boys who have been cheating Mr. Miller, popcorn vendor, by tendering him cuppers having a thin coating of lead and receiving change for a quarter in each case. Owing to detective oversight it was not until some time after making the charge that Mr. Miller discovered that he had been victimized. The boys worked the scheme very ingeniously, choosing the evening to make their purchases, and the police have only vague clues to work on.

There are, however, one or two suspicious circumstances, which will be carefully investigated, as it is the intention to bring the guilty ones to justice if possible.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Geo. Sebben, whose death occurred on Saturday, was held this afternoon from the family residence, corner Canterbury and Wellington streets, to the Ingersoll rural cemetery and was largely attended. His Honor Judge Finkle presided at a short session of the division court today. There were some 22 cases on the docket, but practically all of them were of minor importance.

The remains of the late Mrs. Campbell, of Verschoyle, were interred in the Ingersoll rural cemetery this afternoon. The deceased had been a most respected resident of the district for many years, and the funeral was largely attended.
