FIFTEEN HUNDRED ON WEEK-END PASSES FROM CAMP BORDEN

Many of the Men Expect To Go Overseas Soon.

POISON IVY PREVALENT

Men Have Only Had Four Days' Drill This Week.

Approximately 1,500 soldiers from this district are home on week-end leave from Camp Borden, the large portion of the men arriving last night by special train.

The special over the C. P. R. consisting of eight coaches and a baggage car arrived at 8 o'clock, carrying about 500 men, and a Grand Trunk special of nine coaches and a baggage car arrived at 7:30 city time.

About one-half of the number arriving were bound for points beyond the city, and these made connections last night or this morning with trains carrying them home.

All were delighted at the prospect of being home again and will spend their week-end leave to the best advantage.

Cheering and singing that could be heard for blocks proved that the men appreciate more than many citizens imagine, their weekly leave.

The worst yet. All agreed that the heat at the big camp this week had been the worst they had experienced during their training, and the tests of endurance to which the men are being subjected is trying the mettle of the best of them.

Several members of the 135th Battalion are suffering from poison-ivy, contracted from contact with the vine that grows in profusion in many parts of the training camp.

The sandy nature of the soil is particularly adaptable to the growth of the ivy.

"We are home on our last leave, four days, and on Tuesday we go back, so I am hustling to get out and have as much time I can with my people," said a member of the 135th (Middlesex) Battalion, who arrived last night.

Four Days Drill. "We had four days drill this week and yesterday we marched eighteen miles home to the camp in a rain storm, so I guess we are getting a touch of the real thing," he continued. The 142nd (London's Own) had four days drill this week.

The men are gradually becoming acclimated to the heat and accustomed to the sand.

The 14th (Toronto Highlanders) were out on drill for two and a half days only this week.

The train, returning, will leave the C. P. R. on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the Grand Trunk at 3 o'clock Monday morning.

MEASLES AND POISON IVY
SEND MANY TO HOSPITAL

One Suspected Case of Spinal Meningitis at Camp Borden.

[Special to The Advertiser.] There are 58 cases in the isolation hospital here tonight, the majority being measles and poison ivy. One spinal-meningitis suspect has been taken from his tent. The patient is Pte. J. MacDowell, 164th Battalion, a young married man. Dr. Kirby does not think the case a serious one, and Col. Marlow, A. M. S. C., here, today declared that there was not the slightest danger of the disease spreading.

The total number of hospital cases now is close to 200.

The railway officials carried out their new scheme of entraining the thousands of troops which left today for the week-end. Gen. Logie and all the members of headquarters staff were on hand, and commended the efficient system, which was worked out by Col. Walter Maughan, of the C. P. R.

Fifty medical units were discharged from the camp strength.

Major Dunn is busy with 300 signallers, who are taking a rush course to qualify for overseas.

STORM OF HISSES GREETED MOVIE SHOWING SIR SAM

The appearance of Sir Sam Hughes in a film showing a review of the 11th Battalion in the Falkland Islands yesterday afternoon, was the signal for one of the most violent outbursts of disapproval that perhaps has ever been heard in the audience where a large number of soldiers, and they, it was stated to The Advertiser, were among the loudest in showing the esteem in which Sir Sam is held.

LITTLE STORIES OF CAMP BORDEN

Some of the Western Ontario battalion officers selected for brigade appointments at Borden Camp include Capt. W. H. J. Kretzler of the 118th, who is a Scout officer; Capt. R. H. Stapleford of the 149th and Capt. W. T. Spence of the 150th, who are brigade machine gun officers.

Tuesday afternoons have been selected for the holding of the inter-battalion games. Saturday afternoons were originally selected, but the absence of so many men on week-end passes interfered with this.

Signallers of the battalions to leave shortly on overseas duty are being examined by Major Dunn, signalling officer of No. 2 district. The men from No. 1 district are said to be maintaining an unusually high standard.

Forty-four men were struck from the camp strength yesterday as either medically unfit or as undesirable.

Though concrete roads were put through the camp because of the impassability of the sand trails, the said permanent pavements have started another nuisance. A protecting coat of sand was placed on the roads. Now motorists to such an extent that a camp order has been issued by Gen. Logie prohibiting speeding.

The new transportation arrangements to Borden Camp for those on week-end pass will bring the majority of the men to their quarters on Sunday night rather than Monday, at noon. This, it is claimed, will mean that Monday can be used to greater advantage as a training day.

Another consignment of tent floors, used at the big camp at Niagara, has been sent to Borden, and will aid in fitting up the quarters of the men there in a more comfortable manner.

Statements made yesterday say that there are now water bottles for every man in the camp. There is a shortage of bottles for transport and for wagons, but this, it is said, will be overcome shortly.

To light the way of the soldiers returning to camp, the big steel water tower has been illuminated. The "beacon" can be seen for miles. The work of rushing the second steel water tank to completion is well under way.

Because the ashes and charcoal from the rubbish fires, intensify the dust at the camp, orders have been issued to all battalions that waste can be destroyed in the incinerators only.

Orders have been issued to prohibit soldiers from riding on trains without the camp grounds and to use the railway tracks under any consideration as a footpath. A number of near accidents have been reported of men who were stealing rides on freight and passenger trains from one section of the camp to another.

"JIM" OAKLEY'S WOUNDS
WILL SEND HIM HOME

Policeman-Soldier of 12th Battery Permanently Injured by Shell.

Letters just received from Gunner James Oakley, late of the London police, who is in a British hospital, are taking part in the recent heavy fighting, state that while his injuries are not dangerous they will be permanent.

He was struck by pieces of a bursting shell and his back and head were badly injured. He is now in a hospital, and his ankle permanently disabled and sustained a number of less serious hurts.

Gunner Oakley tells of an unusual experience his camp. Gunner Horace Small, another London policeman, who enlisted in the 12th Field Battery, underwent Gunner Small was one of a gun crew, and ten of the men had rushed into a dugout when the Germans started shelling. Small remained working about the guns till a shell came and blew it away and wrecked the dugout. Every man in the dugout had to go to the hospital, but Gunner Small escaped without a scratch.

Gunner Oakley expects to be invalided home.

241ST SUPPLY OFFICER

Lieut. Dan Logan Sent to Windsor Camp.

Lieut. D. Logan of the Army Service Corps has left for Windsor to open a supply depot to cater to the 241st Battalion.

Lieut. Logan was stationed in Windsor last winter, but was transferred to London prior to the opening of the camp here.

It is stated that the 241st Battalion has now more than 100 recruits, the number necessary to authorize the establishment of a supply depot.

Following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto and follow the directions on the label. You will find a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start, and in a few days you will be able to see things without any glasses, and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would burn dreadfully, now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me. A lady who had been told that the atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses. It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time, and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to spare the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by

ADVERTISER MAN OF 1ST CONTINGENT HOME ON FURLOUGH

Corp. Roy McLeod Back After 21 Months' Service.

RETURNING TO INFANTRY

Wants to See Service Denied
Those in Army Service Corps.

Back in London again, after 21 months' service in England and France, Corp. Roy McLeod, A. S. C., a member of the editorial staff of The London Advertiser, is enjoying a three weeks' visit before he returns again to France and the firing line.

Corp. McLeod was given six weeks' sick furlough, following an attack of rheumatism, and was granted permission to come back to London, where he will have three weeks' visit before returning to France. He is to report in England on August 17, where he will join an infantry battalion.

Two Years in Service. Corp. McLeod has been in khaki for almost two years. He left The Advertiser to enlist with the 78th Nova Scotia Highlanders, which recruited at this city, but being under the height limit for that score, was transferred to the Canadian Army Service Corps detachment raised here by Capt. (now Major) F. B. Eaton, at that time in charge of supply and transport of the 1st Division.

This detachment was organized at No. 4 depot unit of supplies, and is still doing its "bit" in France under command of Capt. "Barney" Dunley, who left this city as staff sergeant of the unit. Major Eaton is now in charge of a divisional supply column and Regimental Sergeant-Major Louis Priker, of the 7th Regiment, who left as sergeant-major, is now a captain in the mechanical transport branch of the C. A. S. C.

Going through the tribulations of Salisbury Plain, No. 4 depot unit was the first draft of Canadians to cross to France. It has been constantly on duty ever since.

System Called Wonderful. "The system for the handling of supplies to the men in the front line trenches is something that is really wonderful," declares Corp. McLeod, in speaking of the work in which he has been engaged for so many months.

"Beef docks from South America pull into the docks at Havre and Boulogne, and are unloaded by the C. A. S. C. at night. The next morning that beef is in the trenches."

Corp. McLeod, after almost two years in the A. S. C., was transferred to an infantry battalion in order, as he says, to do his "bit" at the front. The service corps work, while most necessary part of the great war machine, has not the same appeal as the firing line.

"Just before I got up there there is something doing," says Corp. McLeod. "Men over age or with some minor defects can do the supply depot work while we, who are fit, can go up to the firing line."

The London boy is doing well despite his illness, and declares that the life at the front has agreed with him.

Setting Down To Win. "We have had a rough time of it, but we are quite happy," he says. "England is settling down to win the war as never before. The general impression seems to be that it will take some time, but there is never any doubt in the minds of any of those at the front as to the ultimate outcome."

Speaking of the German prisoners, of whom there is a large number at the base en route to the camps in England, The Advertiser man says: "The most of them are dirty, disheartened, and some of them are really pretty for parade, but a short time in the trenches makes them a sad mess."

The most of the prisoners seemed happy, although some of them declare that Germany will surely win. A number of them can talk English as well as we can.

"I had a talk with one I saw one prisoner, just a boy, it seemed, whose uniform was spick and span and looked as if it had just come from a tailor. He wouldn't talk, but he had been in the trenches, and when I asked an officer, I was told he had been brought down in an aeroplane."

There are a lot of air fliers around our base. Some of them have come as far as Boulogne. They were so common for a while that they ceased to be a curiosity.

Meets Other Advertiser "Boys." "I saw 'Scotty' (Roy Scott, an Advertiser reporter who enlisted with the 3rd Battalion) at the base at Boulogne. I didn't have a chance to speak to him, but he looked ready for anything, although the uniforms of the hospital men looked as if they had been through a lot in the Dardanelles. Victor Vinen (another Advertiser editorial department employee, who was with the 34th was in England while I was there, and I had a chance to talk to him. He was taking a special signalling course."

"I had a talk with Major Clifford Benson of London, and saw a number of London officers and men in England. Of course, the 18th was not in England, but I saw a number of them, and I saw a lot of the London men and boys then."

Pte. Woods Home Again. Corp. McLeod crossed to Canada on the same boat as Pte. Cecil Woods, late of the 34th Battalion, who prior to enlisting here was a member of the Advertiser. He was in England after being a month in the trenches. Pte. Woods had his knee shattered by shrapnel and was sent back to Canada. He would not leave a sister's home in Vancouver, however.

MEDICAL BOARD ORDERED. A medical board composed of Capt. F. Walsh, A. M. C., as president, and Capt. T. J. McNally, A. M. C., as member will proceed to Mount Forest to inquire into the condition of Capt. R. Perry, medical officer to the 153rd Battalion.

LONDON TROOPERS UNDOUBTEDLY TOOK PART IN CHARGE

Men From Here Said To Have
Been in July 14 Brush.

WERE DRAFTED TO GARRYS

Mounted Riflemen Recruited in This City Became Part of Western Regiment.

Press dispatches appearing in the morning papers today announce that the Fort Garry Horse participated in the cavalry charge that marked the first cavalry engagement since the retreat from Mons. This brush was on July 14, and in a letter to the Canadian cavalry commander warm commendation of the Garrys service is made.

In the Fort Garry Horse are a number of London boys who crossed with the 7th Mounted Rifles Squadron after that regiment had been split up by the creation of the 2nd Divisional Cavalry under Lieut.-Col. E. J. Leonard. Subsequent drafts of Mounted Rifles from the 2nd Depot Regiment, C. M. R., at Hamilton, have been sent to the Fort Garry Horse, and these drafts have included a number of men from this city.

The squadron of Mounted Rifles raised in London by Major T. B. Bal-ford, and afterwards united with the 2nd C. M. R., went to the Fort Garrys almost as a unit.

Though the dispatches give but the most meagre details of the Canadian cavalry action, it is regarded here as a certainty that some London troopers at least, and are still doing "the bit" in the cavalry line.

Information along this line is eagerly looked for by friends and relatives of the local troopers.

ANOTHER 33RD OFFICER FALLS IN ACTION JULY 9

Lieut. A. B. Remmer, Late of Dominion Bank, Makes Supreme Sacrifice.

A cablegram to Mrs. D. E. Remmer, Grimby, announces the death of her youngest son, Lieut. Alfred B. Remmer, who was killed in action in France on Sunday, July 9th.

Immediately on the outbreak of the war he resigned his position with the Dominion Bank of this city and joined the 26th Middlesex Light Infantry, taking the officers' training course here, later being attached to the 33rd Battalion, and later to another battalion after crossing with a detached battalion service company.

Lieut. Remmer, who was returned to England suffering from shell shock, when he was sent back to Belgium, where he had a strenuous time, and then to France, where he died in service. His kindred and relatives were born in Southampton, England, in 1896.

HOME SERVICE BATTALION WILL BE ORGANIZED

Place for Men Unable to Proceed Overseas.

[Special to The Advertiser.] CAMP BORDEN, July 21.—Ottawa has authorized a home service battalion, which will be composed of men suffering from slight physical defects, and these men will be in receipt of C. E. F. pay. Should the physical disability be overcome, however, they may be liable for overseas service.

To the press Col. Mewburn, A. A. G., stated this morning: "Members of the C. E. F. of good character who suffer from minor physical defects, and who are not able to proceed for overseas will not be discharged. They will be transferred to a junior C. E. F. unit, selected for forming a separate company, which will subsequently become part of a C. E. F. special service battalion. Such men will be employed as military police, for clerical positions and guard duty, and if they become medically fit, will be allowed to proceed overseas. Suitable men for such duties may also be specially enlisted in the same."

A New Blood-Food Called Ferrozene
Sure to Restore You Quickly.

Every day comes the good news of wonderful cures with Ferrozene.

In Peterboro it worked marvels for Louis Meehan—put him right on his feet—made him entirely well.

"About three years ago," says Mr. Meehan, "I had the Grippe which left me in a very rundown condition that finally developed into Dyspepsia. I was unable to eat but a few things and had a craving for food. I gave up treating with the doctors because they did not help me and on the advice of a friend used Ferrozene. It not only cured me of Dyspepsia but I was able to eat and on the advice of the Grippe. I can recommend Ferrozene as an excellent restorative."

Ferrozene gives you force, energy. It strengthens the stomach, cures indigestion, prevents headaches—guarantees good health.

Thousands use Ferrozene—they all feel better; try it yourself—sold in 50c boxes, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct from the Cataracture Co., Kingston, Ont.

TILLSONBURG MAN TO BE OFFICER IN THE KILTIES

Lieut. W. Ferguson, Late of 168th, Appointed—Harvesters Arriving Home.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Tillsonburg, July 21.—Lieut. Wallace Ferguson has secured a commission with the 241st Highland Battalion now recruiting in district No. 1. He was out in orders as a lieutenant in C Company, 168th (Oxford) Battalion, but on the completion of his course at the officers' school of instruction at London, he was taken seriously ill, and was unable to fill his position. He was formerly connected with the London Lithographing Company.

Prefer Farm Work. About 75 men of the 168th Battalion arrived home tonight on the C. P. R. on a month's furlough to help in the harvest. The farmers of this district will have no trouble in getting farm help for at least the next four weeks, as the men are more than pleased to get away from the mud and ashes they have been unwillingly swallowing for the past two weeks at Camp Borden.

They Know Borden Camp. Two members of the 168th Battalion, who have not yet joined their unit at Camp Borden, when interviewed this evening as to why they did not go, stated that they had lived in the vicinity for three years and knew the camp very pretty well. They both expect to leave in another battalion.

LITTLE BOY NINE MONTHS OLD HAD DYSENTERY

Dysentery is one of the worst forms of bowel complaint. The pains in the bowels become intense, the discharges occur with great rapidity, and are very often accompanied by blood, and the sufferer becomes very weak and languid. Unless these discharges are checked, death may ensue in a very short time.

There is only one remedy to use in all cases of dysentery, and that is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It will cure when all other remedies fail.

Mrs. J. Leslie McKee, Redvers, Sask., writes: "I used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for my little boy when he was about nine months old. He was laid down for three days and nights, and his father took him for a few minutes. He had both the diarrhoea and vomiting. I had tried everything until my husband got 'Dr. Fowler's,' and three doses cured him."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy you want. Don't take any other when you ask for it. The major will ask all places of business to close at that time.

THREE MORE RECRUITS. Three more recruits were signed on at the armories yesterday by Capt. Irvine, recruiting officer for all units organizing in Military District No. 1. One of the recruits, George Sweet, signed up with "London's Own," and will go to Camp Borden. Michael Green enlisted with the C. M. R., and John F. Kindree with the Engineers.
