MOONLIGHT THOUGHTS.

with the beloved of his heart, the happiest hours of his life. Will they again meet there? Hope whispers yes—you will return happy and prosperous, but his spirits droop as he thinks of the long weary years that must pass before then —if that time should ever come.

morrow r whose or he is gloomy who, in mmitted t" casts ast steal —of his heavily we those Then he children through than in ugh the ever be ting the hrough ng man. borne eft beze rests one is one obn. He passed