KEIR HARDIE HEARD BY LARGE AUDIENCE

Ernest Lockwood Safe in Toronto — Alex Atchison is Severely Injured.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Before an audience which crowded Association Hall, to-night, Keir Hardie, British labor leader, expounded his views on labor and Socialism in Great Britain. Mayor Stewart presided. Mr. Hardie, in opening, spoke on the history of Great Britain along much the same lines as he did in Toronto. He held that the governments were as much in duty bound to provide food for the working classes as they were to provide libraries and that the state ought to be compelled to supply work for those who were willing to earn their living. In Britain, he said, the man who advocated private ownership of street railways, telephone and telegraph, was looked upon as a lunatic, and on the same principle, the men who protested against public ownership could not get a hearing.

Referring to things Canadian Mr. Hardie prophesied that the C. P. R. strike would soon be over and that the men would be victorious. It was up to the working class, however, to see that the men were not starved into submission. One of his strong points was the advocacy of the unification of all labor elements in the world into one organized force to secure and uphold the rights of the laboring classes. Daily Hunt.

Alex. Atchison, 507 West King-street, was taken to the city hospital from the International Harvester Works this afternoon at a deplorable condition. He struck his head on a piece of machinery and the doctors have so far been unable to diagnose the cause. He is brother of Capt. Bob Atchison of the fire department.

Mrs. Annie Begg, 77 East Barton-street, died to-night aged 39 years. The condition of John Southon, who was the most seriously burned by the metal explosion at the steel plant on Monday afternoon was reported to be more critical to-night and it is possible that he may die before morning.

He's All Right. The many friends of Ernest Lockwood, formerly of this city, will be glad to know that he isn't the victim of the McKeehan case, as was reported. Mr. Lockwood is alive and well and in good spirits at his home in Toronto and has no idea how his name could have come to figure in the case.

C. V. Desuay and Chandler Hay, Toronto men, who became stranded at Fort Erie, were in Grand Trunk freight train.

Loss About $40,000. Among the creditors of the defunct Meadows, Williams brokerage firm are said to be a number of Hamiltonians whose losses total $40,000.

William Gage was married in St. Joseph's Church this morning by Rev. J. P. Holden, to Miss Lilla Koubert, daughter of M. Koubert, furrier.

The opening of the city schools today resulted in the heaviest attendance in the history of the city. Two of the schools, the Picton and Sophias, to which additions are being built, were so overcrowded that the scholars had to be put on half time. The Collegiate Institute had 100 more pupils than last year.

There is a suspicion that the reason that the milk dealers are so anxious to have a better inspection made of the milk and the license fee increased from $1 to $10 is to crowd out the storekeepers and other small dealers.

The Art League. Now open for visitors. Complete new building, home comforts, very central. Excellent cuisine. Terms $1.50. George Midwinter. Phone 3423. Skeddens & Sons, Painters, Decorators, Paperhangers. 183 King-street West.

Is Germany Stealing a March? LONDON, Sept. 1.—A despatch from Tangier to The Times complains that Germany is stealing a march on the other powers by secretly sending her consuls back to Fez.

TRAINED ANIMALS BEFORE THE GRAND STAND

Some Splendid Vaudeville Acts Are Presented in the Hippodrome Performance.

Animal acts are a feature of the variety performance which is offered before the grand stand, and affords a pleasant hour's entertainment. The turns are well diversified and one is so quickly followed by another that the action never flags.

Herzog's horses are one of the best trained troops of equines that have been seen in Toronto in many years. There are ten of them, and the manner in which they form pyramids, leap over one another's backs, close in mortal combat, dance cotillions, and perform various evolutions, is a liberal education in animal training.

The lions are not so vicious as some that have been seen at the fair in former years; in fact, their behavior is very lady-like, and the beholder does not feel any cold chills creeping up his spine, as described by the novelist. The fact that they do not threaten their trainer with bodily harm every moment is a tribute to the thoroughness of their education. They form tableaux, teeter and do other pleasing stunts.

Performing bears are considerable of a novelty, since Bruin does not, as a rule, lend himself readily to tuition. The lions are not so vicious as some that have been seen at the fair in former years; in fact, their behavior is very lady-like, and the beholder does not feel any cold chills creeping up his spine, as described by the novelist.

The feature act provided by Marie LeBlanche in her slide down a long cable almost the length of the grand stand, does not disappoint. Madame LeBlanche electrified the grandstand yesterday by traveling this straight and narrow path, depending by her teeth and shooting with catapillar force into a canvas wall at the lower end of her journey.

Some thrilling feats are accomplished on trapezes, high in the air, by the Lukens quartet. The Marriot twins do wonders with a horse, trap and bicycles, and some really good acrobatic work is done by a Japanese troupe. Work and Over, Keno, Walsh and Melrose, and Nelson and Nelson, there being a generous mixture of the comedy element. The Sylvesters trio make good their claim to the title of "iron-jawed". Jules and Marzon are to be credited with interesting quadrille feats. The Monte Negro troupe are pantomimists of merit, and Alf Zoder is a capable slack wire artist.

The always fetching musical ride of the Dragons, which has been missing from the exhibition for a year or two, is revived with every sign of public appreciation. The men participating number 32, and their soldierly bearing and horsemanship drew much applause.

STILL AFTER IT. Controllers Anxious to Acquire the Leslie Site for Sewage Plant. The board of control declared yesterday to make another attempt to purchase the Leslie nursery property on East Queen-street, for the purpose of using it as a sewage disposal plant. Mr. Gooderham will hold the property open at the $125,000. Eastern-avenue front, Carroll-avenue to Leslie, would be closed and a new street run thru the properties to the north.

The Queen-street section would be used as a park, or for any purpose the city may think fit.
