Mining Stocks Are Weaker With the Other Securities

Depression General on All Exchanges and Cobalt Stocks Are Sympathetically Influenced.

Monday Evening, June 21. speculation was somewhat broader at the local mining exchanges to-day at the local mining exchanges to-day than for the last few days, and while some of the stocks dealt in showed small declines, prices on the whole remained steady. Transactions were pretty evenly distributed thruout the whole list, many of the issues that whole have been inactive of late being dealt in to a greater extent.

Beaver was in good demand to-day and occupied the centre of interest in point of activity. That another movement in this issue is imminent is acknowledged and the stock is being closely followed by speculators. The price weakened a little to-day, but the change was too small to call for comment.

In the other low-priced stocks Chambers-Ferland, Buffalo, Termiskaming, Little Nipissing and Peterson Lake were all dealt in to a considerable extent, but trading had no appreciable that the shaft house on the Cobait Lake property had been destroyed by fire, and would be a total loss, but this had no effect on the prices of the stock, the shares of this company remaining practically inactive.

In the higher-priced issues interest was concentrated in Crown Reserve, which was; more active than of late. The opening quotations were $3.39, but the stock was in good demand through the stock was one of the more active than of late. Nipissing was dealt in to a moderate extent around $10.70, and closed steady at about that point. La Rose kept up to its record of last week, and made a new high price during the day at $7.97. This stock was one of the most active issues on the exchanges, but trading had no deterring effect on prices.

On the whole the market was somewhat weak. Trading is entirely in the hands of professionals, local brokers reporting that very few public buyers reporting that very few public buying orders are coming in. The action the market of late has disturbed confidence to a marked degree, and until the effect of recent inside manipulation has disappeared, public dealing is likely to remain at a standstill, and no movement of any consequence On Downward Tack. Wallace & Eastwood say at the close: The market to-day was dull and quiet, any change that took place in prices being on the downward tack. The market closed dull and showed few signs of livening up in the near future. Garden Party at Elk Lake.

ELK LAKE, June 18.—(From the Man Up There.—Last evening a garden party was held in the grounds of Elk Lake's new English Church, of which the rector is P. Mayes. The grounds and buildings were tastily decorated with bunting and Chinese lanterns to suit the occasion, and music and refreshments were provided, usic and refreshments were provided as well as many appropriate games. In spite of the fact that the weather was not at all pleasant, the evening was squite successful. The bunting and other decorations were kindly loaned by the T. Eaton Co. of Toronto. New York Curb.

This is an excellent sign for the Gif-ford, as the diabase is the formation in which the Temiskaming, an adjacent property, is getting its fine ore. The company for a long time now have been hunting for the Temiskaming vein on their property, and it may be that with this change of formation the vein is close at hand. H. O. Taylor.

Power Plant on Bartlett Giving Satisfaction-Large Numbers Invade Gowganda

Mr. Frederick A. McIntosh was in the city yesterday, having just returned from Gow Ganda, where he has been for some time, on the properties of the Bartlett Mines. He reports the greatest activity in the north country. 'The power plant on the Bartlett is running smoothly and giving great satisfaction," he says. "It has been running from the start, as plants in Cobait, and there are none there can beat it.

"The men are working in two shifts, running both night and day, so that from now on the development is going to be very rapid.

"As to about the results on the Bartlett they cannot be better. Our shaft is going down at the rate of 12 feet per week. We are laying a pipe ine to the No. 2 shaft 1700 feet away, and in a few days we will be working at that point with power. Out of No. 1 we are getting ore which easily assays from 7000 to 8000 oz. per ton, and the veins are increasing in value as the sinking proceeds.

"The number of people that are going in is wonderful."
