THE WAR NEWS.

Today's news from Petrograd indicates that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is not meeting with success in his attempts to advance in the region of the Vistula. The Russian official report indicates that while desperate fighting continues it is of much the same character as that taking place in Belgium and France. If the Germans by fierce attacks are able to capture some of the Russian trenches they are promptly driven out again, and the Russians are able to hold their own. Von Hindenburg has admitted in an interview that even the capture of Warsaw by the Germans would not be decisive, since the Russians could withdraw still farther and maintain an unbroken front. The Russian advance into Hungary continues, and the Austrians are steadily retreating before them. There is nothing in today's news to indicate that the German and Austrian offensive against the Russians has any hope of success, although it may take a long time before the Russians in their turn are able to advance successfully through Poland and East Prussia toward the heart of Germany.

Today's news appears to make it clear that Roumania will soon be in the field, with over half a million men against Austria. Relations are also more severely strained between Austria and Italy, and one report says that Austrian and German forces are being concentrated for defensive purposes near the Italian frontier. The relations between Greece and Turkey also grow more and more strained, and it would not be surprising to see within the next month much more powerful forces in the field on the side of the Allies. In France and Belgium the Allies still claim to be making gradual progress, although in Belgium the floods make it impossible to carry on a campaign on a large scale. In Alsace the French are still making some progress. Along the whole line any attacks made by the Germans are successfully repulsed.

Lord Haldane in the House of Lords yesterday emphasized once more the gravity of the situation so far as the British Empire is concerned. He said: "We are fighting for nothing less than the life of the nation, in circumstances which make it the duty of every man to put everything he possesses and values most into the scale for success. No victory can be sufficient which does not preclude the recurrence of the situation in which we are now."

His lordship further said, however, that the government is satisfied at the rate at which recruiting is proceeding in Great Britain, and that the British would soon have a gun which would be at least the equal of the German 42 centimetre gun. In reply to a criticism of Ireland he said that Ireland was doing her full share in the war. The matter of recruiting is not the only problem, for it is necessary to provide equipment, but the House of Lords was assured yesterday that no troops fit to go to the front were being kept back because of a lack of equipment. Lord Haldane said that there was as yet no necessity for conscription, in time of grave national necessity compulsory service might be required, but that necessity had not yet arisen.

THE WRONG MAN.

Mr. G. Earle Logan, Mr. A. E. McGinley, Mr. John A. Barry, Mr. William Lilley, Premier Clarke, Hon. J. A. Murray, Hon. J. D. Hazen and other earnest laborers for political reform are featured in this morning's Standard as having sent telegrams of congratulation to one B. F. Smith, on an alleged victory gained by him in Carleton county. All these earnest souls appear to have made a speech and thanked the electors for their votes, the real speech of the evening was delivered by Hon. J. K. Flemming, who made it perfectly clear that it was by Mr. Flemming and not by any man named Smith the victory had been gained. Mr. Flemming, referring to Mr. Carvell, made these remarks: "He vilified and slandered me, and now he has his answer from the people. I hope he is satisfied. I am. I would like to tell you people that I forgive him, but that would be quite impossible. I'll do it as near as I can."

Everybody will sympathize with Mr. Flemming in his desperate efforts to cultivate a forgiving Christian spirit. He intimated, however, in the same speech, that even while he might attempt to bury the hatchet the handle would be left sticking out, so that he could swing it. Mr. Carvell again in the federal election.

It may be hoped that Mr. B. Frank Smith has a well developed sense of humor, and that he can enjoy the reception of all those telegrams from distinguished citizens which really are not intended for him at all, but for Mr. Flemming.

It is also within the bounds of hope that Mr. Flemming may eventually be able to forgive Mr. Carvell, for the reason that he has already forgiven Mr.

Teed and Mr. Berry, and is understood to have arrived at a state of mind where he is satisfied with himself. Under these circumstances it should not be extremely difficult to cultivate a kindly feeling, even toward a man whose crime was that he exposed the greatest political scandal in the history of New Brunswick, and gave the province a new premier.

The local absorption of city debentures shows that there is plenty of money in St. John and that the investors believe in St. John.

A Washington despatch says that the British preliminary note in reply to the American protest regarding neutral cargoes "is phrased in a spirit of frankness and friendliness."

The court of inquiry has fixed the blame for the wreck of the steamer Navarra upon the officers. It will not therefore be possible to attribute the disaster to the dangers of the Bay of Fundy, the more so since the steamer was well out of the bay before she went on the rocks.

The steamer which it was expected would sail from Halifax some days ago with further relief for the Belgians needs fifty carloads more to make a full cargo. The Central Committee of the Belgian Relief Fund in Montreal is appealing for funds to purchase wheat to complete the cargo. The response should be prompt. The need of the Belgians is beyond the power of words to describe.

The premier of France has lost a son on the field of battle. War makes no distinctions. The great families of England have lost many sons in this strife, and the like is true of Germany to even a greater extent, because the ranks of her finest armies have been decimated, first in the desperate attempt to overrun France, and second in the invasion of Russian provinces.

Complaints about the conduct of some of the soldiers about the streets of the city in the evening may suggest the necessity of a more rigid discipline. The great mass of men at the armory know how to conduct themselves, but there are evidently quite a number of exceptions. The citizens are disposed to be very kind to the soldiers, and would like to be able to respect every man who wears the king's uniform. The officers and men really have this matter in their own hands. The man who disgraces his uniform should be promptly invited to get outside of it.

The constitution of the St. John Playgrounds Association authorizes it not only to equip and maintain playgrounds but places of recreation and social centres. Until it had secured the services of a permanent superintendent it was not possible to pay much attention to the social welfare side of the work, but the new field of labor is now to some extent being opened up and a great need has been revealed. Conditions surrounding the lives of very many children are such that unless the community, through such an organization as this, can do something to improve them, the number of delinquents must grow and a consequent increased burden upon the community must result. The association deserves the hearty sympathy and support of the people. It is to be congratulated on having a very strong executive, conscious of the needs and anxious to make the association of the greatest possible service to the city.

How I Made My Hair Grow

Woman With Marvelously Beautiful Hair Gives Simple Home Prescription Which She Used With Most Remarkable Results

I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all signally failed; many of them made my hair greasy, so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious and from my own experience I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair, and I also believe that many of the moving dandruff, giving the hair life and brilliancy, etc., and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class condition. It also makes the hair easier to comb and arrange in nice form. I have a friend who used it two months and during that time it has not only stopped the falling of his hair and wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all of his hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any drugist. The prescription is as follows:

Bay Rum, 6 oz.; Menthol Crystals, 1/2 drachm; Lavone de Compose, 2 oz. If you like it perfumed, add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. This, however, is not necessary. Apply night and morning, rubbing thoroughly into the scalp.

THE SPIRIT OF WINTER

The Spirit of Winter is with us, making its presence known in many different ways—sometimes by chilly sunshines and glistening snows, and sometimes by driving winds and blinding storms. To many people it seems to take a delight in making bad things worse, for rheumatism twists harder, winged sharper, catarrh becomes more annoying, and the many symptoms of scrofula are developed and aggravated. There is not much poetry in this, but there is truth, and it is a wonder that more people don't get rid of these ailments. The medicine that cures them—Hood's Sarsaparilla—is easily obtained and there is abundant proof that its cures are radical and permanent.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The four Canadian soldiers who shot and killed two Americans at Fort Erie some days ago, were arrested in Toronto yesterday, charged with manslaughter. The Canadian government yesterday forwarded to the United States a note of regret at the incident, and offered to pay an indemnity to the dead man's dependents and to the wounded man.

Win. West, a colored prisoner, who has been suspected of the murder of Miss Katherine Dunn at North Sydney, C. B., confessed yesterday to having killed her. He implicates no other person. She resisted him when he sought to take hold of her.

A barn owned by the N. B. and British Colonization Co. valued, with its contents, at about $4,000, was destroyed by fire at Springhill, N. B., yesterday.

ONTARIO PLANNING GOOD ROAD CAMPAIGN

Hon. Finlay Macdonald Arranging Educational Lectures For Late February—A Hint For New Brunswick

(Toronto World.)

The Ontario government is planning to conduct an extended educational campaign along the line of a good roads propaganda throughout the province. Hon. Finlay Macdonald is giving the matter his personal attention, and a course of lectures, to begin late in February, is being arranged by Provincial Engineer W. A. McLean. Engineers of the department will be delegated to the conference to enlighten county superintendents on the best ways of co-operation with the government under the county road system. It will be held in the parliament buildings and will last for several days.

Illustrated lectures will be given and general discussion invited. The chief idea is to give direct instruction to county road officials, in the hope of greater uniformity in provincial work. All the work will be practical and designed to encourage study on the part of delegates. It has been felt that in the past counties have had too narrow

Some people have tried so many doctors and so many treatments in their search for cure for piles and eczema that they have almost lost all belief that there is an actual cure.

The strong point about Dr. Chase's Ointment is that it not only brings relief, but brings about actual and lasting cure.

In 1897 Mr. Ketcheson, 38 Ketcheson St., Peterborough, Ont., wrote as follows:—"I was troubled for thirty years with itching piles and eczema. I could not sleep at night, and when I got warm the itching was terrible. Eczema covered my legs down to the knees, perfectly raw. I have tried every preparation I could hear of. Seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised, I procured a box, and this Ointment effected a complete cure."

On Sept. 28, 1912, Mr. Ketcheson wrote as follows:—"I received a letter from you to-day, saying that you found on file a statement made by me 15 years ago. I have always given Dr. Chase's Ointment a good name since it cured me, and shall tell you how I came to use it."

"I had suffered for many years from eczema and piles, and had tried doctors and everything I could hear of in vain. Reading about Dr. Chase's Ointment, I purchased it at once, and was soon completely cured. That was fifteen years ago, so there can be no doubt of the cure being a permanent one. I have met a great many people who have been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment."
